Ask Increase in Rates To Save Four Schools

The Editor's column

by S. R. PADDOCK

We are in receipt of a contribution to the Fence Post that disputes a statement we made recently in this column that California and other western states are indiscriminatingly syphoning off our teachers. The contributor states that they are only taking off our best teachers.

We call that highway robbery. Are the parents of children attending our schools willing to pay the taxes that will enable our school boards to keep our "best" teachers with us?

Two of our readers this week take us to task for opposite reasons. Their letters appear in the Fence Post. One says that McCarthy's methods are similar to those used by Hitler which swayed a nation towards disaster. The other reader is on the other side of the fence, saying that unless McCarthy wins, this country is doomed. Both letters are unsigned, but we are publishing them because they both attack the paper, although for directly opposite reasons.

State's Attorney Gutknecht has made good his promise to schools and other taxing bodies that he would force collection of personal property taxes. Seven Palatine residents are the first in the northwest area against whom circuit court levies and executions will soon be issued.

W. E. Schering, veteran Palatine blacksmith, is worrying because he has been compelled to definitely retire. He was one of the few remaining blacksmiths in northern Cook county and his customers came from long distances.

Schering says that unless some successor can be found, he will sell his tools at auction, which would be bad news for the farmers of this area.

Special assessment proceedings move slowly. A representative of the engineering firm of Consoer and Associates told us last week that unless the Campbell st. widening in Arlington Heights is started soon, it will not be completed this summer.

It is our opinion that the traffic bottle neck every week end on that street will remain with us a long time unless the Chamber of Commerce steps into the picture.

Regardless what has been said in the past about Kimball Hill project, Palatine Consolidated School District 15 is a whole lot better off than District 24. Kimball Hill is providing school quarters at no cost to District 15, and will ultimately build a school.

Either District 24 or 25 will be responsible for the education of those children, which in turn puts the resultant tax burden upon the farmers within District 24 or the taxpayers of District 25.

It will do no good to get mad at the subdivider who is building the homes or get spiteful at the parents who are raising the children. We should gang up on the state legislature and enact either a higher sales tax or a state income tax to take the school tax load off real estate, especially farm lands.

The Schoppe open house next Thursday reminds us of the old time barn raising days. Upon these occasions, the men folks would turn out to raise the barn before nightfall, while the women folks prepared the food and in the evening the young folks, for miles around, would engage in the "light fantastic" as the newspaper account would read.

There is no "barn raising" at Schoppe's April 1, but it is our guess that the entire countryside will accept their invitation extended in this week's Palatine Enterprise to be their guests during that day and evening.

We wish that everyone of our readers could have witnessed the demonstration of the Braille system of reading by the blind that was enjoyed by Palatine Lions Club last Thursday evening. A man both deaf and blind, who is a college graduate gave a demonstration that is certain to swell future contributions of that club to the Braille school, Evanston, the only one of its kind in the United States.

It also awakened those present to the obligation that all communities owe to blind children in their area, who if given proper Braille instruction can have a happy life without becoming dependent upon society.

We are in receipt of a contribution to the Fence Post that disputes a statement we made last week in this column that California and other western states are indiscriminatingly syphoning off our teachers. The contributor states that they are only taking off our best teachers.

We call that real robbery. We ask the person who disagrees with what was published last week to send us his name. In return we will be most happy to reveal to him the source of our information.

It all boils down to whether the parents of children attending our schools are willing to pay the taxes that will enable our school boards to keep our "best" teachers with us.

The interior of the above residence of Robert J. Wallace, Benton street, near Kirchhoff road, Palatine, was gutted Friday. Damages exceed $7,000. Mr. Wallace was working in the yard when suddenly he saw smoke coming from the house. The smoke was so dense he had to go to a neighbor's home to call the fire department. —Staff Photo.

Liquor Licenses To Remain Same; Plan Increase In Others

Liquor licenses in Arlington Heights will not be increased at this time according to action taken by the village board at an adjourned meeting Tuesday night.

The board moved to postpone the amendment to section one of the liquor licenses ordinance and to table it indefinitely.. The amendment called for the increase in Class A and B liquor licenses to $1,000 a year; Class C and D to $500 a year, and Class E to $125 a year.

Tavern and liquor store owners appeared before the board and said the proposed increase would be a definite hardship on many of the owners. Present federal excise taxes, along with a decrease in patron business because many people are staying in their own homes to watch television instead of going to a tavern for an evening's entertainment, were pointed out as two hardships liquor dealers faced. It was also pointed out that neighboring towns which have higher liquor licenses than Arlington permit several types of businesses to operate under the one license fee, such as a tavern, package liquor store, restaurant, cigarettes, etc., whereas Arlington requires a separate license for each type of business.

THE BOARD still proposes to increase the cost of business licenses throughout the village and the tavern and liquor store dealers will pay their proportionate share at that time, since they are required to have a business license as well as a liquor license.

Les Griffith appeared before the board to seek permission to use Douglas ave. for a one day Fourth of July celebration. The event would not be a carnival, but would include a field day, swimming meet, baseball game, parade and the annual firework's display. A refreshment tent, car booth, and one game tent would also be set up on the grounds.

It was agreed last year by the village board and park board that no more carnivals would be permitted at Recreation Park. The Legion feels the planned one-day celebration could not possibly be construed as such, and that the type of event they plan to hold would be in keeping with the day.

The board deferred action on the matter until its April 6 meeting.

AUTHORIZATION was given to Fred Hammer, building commissioner, to issue a permit for a gasoline service station on the northwest corner of State rd. and South st.

Permission was given to hold a "Have a Heart Tag Day" in Arlington, which will benefit the Park Ridge School for Girls.

The board authorized the expenditure of $2,200 for a comprehensive preliminary survey to determine whether or not a municipal water softening plant would be an asset to the village. The village engineers will make the survey and it will take approximately 4 months.

If the survey shows a need for such a plant the issue will be put to the voters for their decision in the matter.

Arlington Heights Liquor Dealers Form Organization In Town

Formation of the Arlington Heights liquor dealers' association was completed Tuesday afternoon in a meeting at Glueckert's Lounge attended by operators of 15 liquor stores and taverns.

Officers elected include Richard Glueckert, president, Edward Jensen, vice president, and Frank Korinek, secretary - treasurer. Next meeting will be held Tuesday, March 30, at 2:30 p.m. at Glueckert's.

Red Cross Drive In Progress In Arlington Area

"The untiring work of these volunteers makes life a little more comfortable, a little more pleasant for patients in the hospital," declared Mrs. Harris.

ARLINGTON Red Cross drive, which started March 10, still has some time to go. Those who have not made their contribution and wish to do so may get in touch with Mrs. Harris. The volunteer work that is done in the Veterans and military hospitals alone is tremendous.

Perhaps too many of us think of the Red Cross as being only at work during some earth shaking disaster. Red Cross work is carried on constantly and quietly. The need for funds this year is very great if this work is to be continued.

The campaign slogan for this year "Do Unto Others" reflects the American way of life with neighbor helping neighbor. This is the way, through our own Red Cross, that the most people can help the most neighbors.

ELK GROVE REZONING

Cook County Zoning Board of Appeals will hold a hearing at Mount Prospect village hall April 9 at 8:00 p.m. on a petition asking rezoning of 10 acres, south of Higgins road, a half mile south of Oakton Street, from farming to R-4.

Judgment Ax Falls On Tax Delinquents

In accordance with the policy of State's Attorney Gutknecht, his office has filed transcripts of the judgments in Circuit Court against a number of Palatine residents. They are in support of judgments secured by the justices of peace for non-payment of personal property taxes.

Paddock Publications have received the names of seven against whom the transcripts have been filed in the circuit court. They are the first of a total of thirty persons who have made no response to notices and court summons. Because three year taxes were included, the extra costs and interest charged in the majority of cases has doubled the original taxes. The amounts range from $83.20 to $159.37, the latter being the amount that a former Palatine businessman owes.

Since the transcripts have been filed, they are a lien on all the property of the judgment debtors. In addition, the state's attorney's office is issuing execution and arranging for a levy in connection wtih these judgments.

This will be the determined policy of the state's attorney in connection with all personal property judgments.

Judge Haggenjos, of Barrington, who is handling the Palatine township delinquencies, says that settlements have been made by all except the above thirty.

Judge Weber of Arlington Heights, who has charge of Wheeling and Maine delinquencies, says he has had excellent response from debtors. He has now received the 1952 delinquent bills for which notices will soon be in the ails.

Wife Could Not Keep Husband Awake

Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Lorenzen of Elmhurst suffered only minor injuries when their car ran off Northwest hwy. at Dale ave. in Mt. Prospect Sunday morning at 7:50 a.m.

Mrs. Lorenzen told police her husband apparently fell asleep at the wheel, although she had been carrying on a conversation to keep him awake. The car narrowly missed a light pole, grazed a fire hydrant, and ran into the bank about 75 feet off the road.

Arlington Fender & Body removed the car.

'Stolen' Autos Head Police List This Week

A man who stated he was Wilbert Johnson of N. State rd., Arlington Heights, entered an Arlington Heights auto agency the past week and asked to look at some second hand autos. When he came across a 1949 Chevrolet, 4-door Deluxe, with a blue top and light gray bottom, he became interested.

The salesman gave him the keys and told him to take a ride around the block in it to see if he liked the way the car operated. It must have been a long block because as this paper goes to press the man still had not returned with the car. Police are investigating.

VICTOR HUSKEY who is interested in buying a home in the Arlington Heights area borrowed a car from an Evanston friend Saturday to come out to see an Arlington realtor. The business took a little longer than he expected and he called the friend to say he would be a little late in getting the car back.

"What do you mean," said the friend, "You didn't take our car, it's still out front."

"It can't be, said Huskey, "I have your Cadillac in Heights." "Cadillac!" said the friend, "We have a Buick."

It seems Huskey had driven in his friend's car a few weeks before and thought it was a two-tone Cadillac, so when he left the apartment and saw the Cadillac out in front he got in and drove away. Yes, the Buick key fit the Cadillac, a coincidence that could happen only once in a million.

Huskey reported his predicament to the Arlington police who said they had received a report on a stolen Cadillac. Chief Carl H. Skoog helped him iron out the situation and Huskey drove the Cadillac back to Evanston and returned it to its owner.

Four Candidates For Arlington Heights High School Board

There are four candidates for the Arlington Heights High School board. They are: Kenneth E. Dougan, 1103 East Euclid, Arlington Heights, who is at present a member; Mrs. R. L. Fontaine, 902 I-Oka, Mt. Prospect; Richard L. Kimbrough, 114 S. Louis, Mt. Prospect. H. C Kibbie, 202 S. Vail Arlington Heights.

FOUR TEEN-AGE boys were picked up by the police last Wednesday night after being thrown out of the Arlington Roller rink for being rowdy. The ticket taker at the rink notified the police and said she believed the boys had been drinking.

All were given drunk-o-meter tests and three were found to be under the influence of liquor. They were kept in jail overnight and a $50 bond was posted for each boy when they were released the next day.

They appeared before Judge William Neumann Monday night, accompanied by their parents. The boys were fined $25 and $4 court costs each and were put on three months probation. They are to report their activities to the Evanston police during the probation period.

Lefty Aldrich signed a complaint against a high school youth for reckless driving past the high school buses which were loading on Ridge ave. Mrs. Howard Elliott, another bus driver, said that two cars, which seemed to be racing each other, tore past her bus, one just missing her by a couple of feet. Driver of the other car was unknown.

Judge Neumann fined the boy $10 and costs for reckless driving.

Several reports of stolen auto accessories were handled by Arlington police this past week, and they are also investigating to find out who shot out several windows in the new Christian Science church which is under construction.

A total of $263 was collected in traffic court Monday night, and 49 tickets were issued to parking violators and residents not having vehicle tags on their cars.

Schools Call Special Elections; One Awaits Mass Meeting

Three of the elementary school districts in Elk Grove and Wheeling townships will face a crisis in the continued operation of their schools if the voters in the respective districts do not approve propositions for increased tax rates. A fourth district has an enrollment situation facing it, equally as acute although it has not yet called an election at which increased rates can be presented to the voters.

The four districts are not alone in the need for more tax money. Several of the neighboring districts have previously secured such relief. Voters of Arlington Heights School District 25 gave their approval to rate increases for educational and building purposes three months ago. The same has been done in a number of other districts.

SCHOOL DISTRICT No. 21, the Wheeling Consolidated district, is only asking for an authorized increase in the educational rate. The increased rate would provide an additional $10,000 a year.

District 21 is also asking for a bond issue of $110,000 to build an addition to present building.

School District No. 59, Elk Grove Community is asking for an increase in the rates for education and building. The increase in education would net about $11,000. The increase for building purposes would be much less.

School District No. 57, Mount Prospect, is only asking for a building rate increase which will mean an increase of about $15,000. The building rate, allowed by law is low except in case of high valuations and will be inconsequential to the average taxpayer residing in the village of Mount Prospect.

Tax Collections Start April 1

All 1953 tax bills will be in the mail by the March 31 deadline, with collections starting on April 1.

Penalty date for the payment of the first installment of the real estate and for personal property bills will be May 1, penalty date for the second installment of real estate will be September 1.

The local township collectors are mailing with each bill a rate sheet giving the various tax rates and other important information including where the various collectors' offices are and during what hours they will be open for business.

Because of the heavy turnover of property during the past year, the names of many new owners are not on the tax books and the bills will go to the former owners.

New owners who do not receive a bill should contact the person from whom they purchased the property and secure the bill from them. People who have sold their property and still receive a tax bill can help a lot by sending the bill to the new owner.

THE PURCHASE of a piece of property and the recording of a deed doesn't put a person's name in the tax books. A request for a change of name must be made either to the county or township collector before a name is changed on the tax records.

The fact that a person fails to receive a bill does not exempt him from paying taxes. It's his business to see that he does get a bill by contacting the former owner or going to the county or township collector with the description of his propertp and secure a bill from them.

The local township collectors appreciate the fine cooperation they have always received from taxpayers and anticipate the same cordial relations this year.

Tax bills are going to be higher this year, a lot higher, due to heavily increased school costs, but don't howl at the collector when you pay your bill, he has nothing to do with the amount of your bill. That is determined by how much money the several taxing bodies have to raise to keep in operation.

Approve Water Plan For Rolling Meadows

Plans for a water distribution system for Rolling Meadows subdivision, for connection between Rolling Meadows and Arlington Heights, and for water main extensions at Arlington Heights, have been approved by the Illinois Department of Public Health.

Wilson School Puts Enrolment Up to Voters

Wilson school with a present enrollment of 109 students, is now confronted with a new subdivision situated at Oakton and Wilke rd. called Virginia Terrace, where 254 homes are to be built, according to the builder's representative, Mr. Williams. Eighty five of these homes have been sold and some of these will be occupied by May of this year.

The builder contemplates completion of the 254 total by October, and estimates approximately 165 children will attend Wilson School from this subdivision. He has offerred to secure definite information from each buyer as to the number of children, ages, and whether they will attend public or parochial school. A census of the district is also being taken in an effort to ascertain how many children will be enrolled for the Fall term.

No additional taxes would be forthcoming from the new subdivision for two years, as the property would be taxed as vacant the first year.

The school board has been working very hard compiling information for a public meeting to be held at the school house Tuesday, April 20 at 8 p. m. Since Virginia Terrace is in the village of Arlington Heights, the board asked District 25 if it would take the children in their schools. The answer was a firm "NO" as they are already overcrowded and the subdivision is in District 24.

Do we want consolidation with Prospect Heights and Feehanville? This would mean that all indebtedness for the three schools would be pooled and divided equally among the three districts. However, there still would not be enough room for all the children. Does District 24 want Virginia Terrace disannexed from District No. 24 if such a thing would be possible? What would stop another subdivision from springing up in the near future that could not be disannexed?

These are some of the questions and problems that will be discussed at the public meeting April 20.

Eventually, with this new subdivision completed with 254 homes, the tax valuation of the district would be almost doubled. Would it be sufficient to cover the educational cost of the additional children?

At present the school consists of three rooms. the largest of which has been divided into two rooms. In six months it is estimated that at least 235 and perhaps more, will enter the doors of that school. What is the answer?

Schoppes Expect 500 To Enjoy Their Hospitality April 1st

Schoppes will be host to the entire Palatine countryside Thursday, April 1. That date will be the sixtieth anniversary of the time that Harry and Louis Schoppe moved into the present store building.

The real history of the Schoppes goes back over 70 years when John Schoppe approached the business firm of Kuebler & Schierding, asking if they could use his son, Louis, as a clerk during the winter months. The answer was "no." Mr. Schoppe said that Louis was not content to lay around the farm and do nothing during the winter months. He suggested that the two partners, I. M. Kuebler and J. H. Schierding take turns boarding his son and he would not ask for any salary. The answer was now "yes."

After spending two winters as an unpaid clerk, Louis formed a partnership with John Fink, the other clerk. Two years later Harry purchased for $1,900 the share of Mr. Fink and the firm of Schoppe Bros. came into being. The store was then located in rented quarters at the corner of Bothwell and Railroad ave. In 1894 the two general merchandise stores traded locations and Schoppes purchased the corner on which they have conducted business the past sixty years.

It will be an open house day, a day for visiting and talking with old friends and new, about those days of the past and these days of the present.

No business will be transacted at Schoppe's on that day, as Harry told an old customer who was buying a pair of shoes the other day, "Good thing you're getting these shoes today. If you'd wanted to buy them April 1, you'd have had to go barefoot until the next morning."

But while no goods will be sold on the big day, there will be refreshments for the guests with a special treat of candy for the ladies and cigars for the men.

Sixty years ago when the Schoppe Bros. store took over their present corner, the firm consisted of Harry and Louis Schoppe.

Amanda Schoppe, widow of Louis is still a partner in the business which is now operated under the name of Schoppe's.

News of the 60th anniversary of this old time organization has spread far and wide and congratulations are already pouring in from well wishers in widely scattered parts of the country from old friends, some of whom knew and traded with the Schoppe boys in those days of "Way Back When."

The open house on Thursday, April 1, will continue through the day and evening and everyone is invited to drop in and take part in the celebration.

Some of the local businessmen are rumored to be planning some special features during the evening and most anything is liable to happen.

No business will be transacted at Schoppe's Thursday April 1.

Styles, Moods To Run Gamut In Notre Dame Concert

The repertoire which the Notre Dame Concert Band will bring to the gymnasium of the Arlington Heights high school, Sunday, at 3 p.m., is varied and ranges from the classics to light numbers including marches and novelties. Styles and moods run the gamut from classical Handel to present day contemporaries like Cecil Effinger.

Many musicians feel that Wagner, because of his forceful and sympathetic treatment of the wind instruments, would have written many of his compositions directly for concert band if that medium had been well developed in his tim. The Notre Dame Band is particularly fond of the Rienzi Overture, a Wagner number that is extremely effective in the band transcription.

TWO OTHER works of symphonic proportion to be presented are the "Overture to the Barber of Seville" by Rossini and the Pictures at an Exhibition" by Moussorgsky.

"Blues" by Cecil Effinger is a product of one of America's outstanding composers who finds the band palette a very enticing means of painting his contemporary styled music. "Blues" according to the composer himself, "is a short interlude lasting about four minutes and ending quietly. It is not a jazz blues, but rather a short treatment of a folk tune of Roscoe McLean, a Florida penitentiary inmate."

Another feature number of the tour will be the premier performance of "Scherzo for Band" by Rev. G. Carl Hager of the University Music department. The number was written for the Notre Dame Band and is by one of America's outstanding composers.

FOR THE LOVER of light classics and beautiful melodies, the band will play a selection from "Porgy and Bess" by George Gershwin.

Novelties, Popular selections and light concert numbers will be included in the program as well as several sparkling marches.

Soloists feature violin, saxophone flute, clarinet and trumpet. Ensembles include trumpet trio, trumpet septet, trombone quintet, flute trio and clarinet trio.

We're Still Multiplying

Last week's distribution of the eight Paddock Publications reached the new high of 16,555, the twelfth week in a row a new high has been set and 945 more than January 1, 1954.

Hits Chickens, Too

Age brings high blood pressure to chickens, too. Some die of it and it's worse in roosters, declares Capper's Farmer. It increases in poultry from 10 to 42 months about like it does in humans from 20 to 65 years.

Heights Students Give Assembly Program At Downers Grove High

The Harmonettes and a saxophone quartet represented the local music department in this program. Members of the gymnastics team performed on the trampolet, and a group from the band front gym class presented a modern dance number. Several acts from the talent show were included in the assembly program.

Schools of the conference regularly exchange assembly programs to develop student talent and to further understanding and harmony between students of the schools.

York Community high school recently presented a similar program at the local school.

Northwest Suburban YMCA To Launch 28G Fund Drive

Northwest suburban YMCA's first widespread fund raising campaign received a welcomed boost this week when it was announced that John Wm. Chapman, lieutenant governor of Illnois, and active "Y-Man" for more than 25 years will be guest of honor and speaker at the Y's kick-off dinner Monday evening in Presbyterian church, 302 N. Dunton st., Arlington Heights.

Approximately 125 campaign workers are expected to be on hand for the dinner gathering that evening. A goal of $28,000 to continue YMCA activities in Des Plaines, Arlington Heights, and Mount Prospect has been set for the campaign which officially gets underway Monday. Workers are from the three towns.

The affair will start at 7 p.m.

THIS WEEK mayors of the three towns—Kenneth G. Meyer, Des Plaines, Albert W. Goedke, Arlington Heights, and Theodore Lams, Mount Prospect formally proclaimed next week as "YMCA Week."

Lieut. Gov. Chapman was at one time a Chicago alderman where he became widely known for his independent and straightforward stands on many issues of that day. He served as an assistant to former governor Dwight Green before he ran for his present position two years ago.

Lieut. Gov. Chapman has served since the mid-twenties as a director of the Irving Park YMCA and has always taken part in its various activities.

OVER-ALL CAMPAIGN is being directed by George Orescan, assistant treasurer of Universal Oil company of Des Plaines, who is chairman of the Y.M.C.A.'s finance committee. H will also handle the Des Palines fund drive.

In Arlington Heights, the campaign will be led by Lloyd Taylor, vice chairman of the board of directors of the Northwest Suburban Y.M.C.A. Assisting him in that community's drive will be Earl K. Riley, chairman of general Arlington campaign; C. W. Mills, chairman of the Arlington special gifts committee and William J. Warren, chairman of the Arlington solicitation committee.

Mt. Prospect activities will be guided by Theodore Lams, village president and Howard J. Wilson, temporary chairman of the Mount Prospect steering committee.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS in the three communities are also taking an active interest in the fund-raising program. Harry D. Anderson, superintendent of the Maine Township High School and Harold L. Slichenmyer administrative assistant to the superintendent of the Arlington high school are both serving on the board of dirctors of the new Y.M.C.A.

Mr. Blake said that some 250 men and women in the three communities have volunteerd to solicit contributions from charter sponsors among the residents in the areas.

All donations should be sent to the offices of the Northwest Suburban Y.M.C.A. at 1488 Miner Street, Des Plaines.

According to Mr. Blake, there are currently some 700 boys and girls participating in various phases of the "Y" program.

"While we realize the importance of a building to house all of the Y.M.C.A. facilities, at the moment we're concentrating our energies on expanding and strengthening our program," Mr. Blake explained.

Girl Scout Camp Rally Is April 1

All Brownies, Intermediates, Girl Scouts and their parents are invited. Marian Hodgkins, functional director of the council, will present day camp and will show movies of camping at Hickory Hill.

The Intermediate Girl Scout Planning board, which is made up of one seventh or eighth grader from each neighborhood in the district, held an overnight at Camp Pine March 19.

They had a potluck supper Friday evening and cooked breakfast and lunch Saturday using a reflector oven. Mrs. Osborne, Sue Harding and Mrs. Schultz were the instructors. The planning board meets once a month and each girl takes ideas back to her own troop.

'Western Wing-Ding' At High School This Week End

Four weeks of hard work by students of Arlington Heights high school come to a climax tomorrow night (Friday) with the first public performance of "Western Wing-Ding" the 1954 student talent show.

The program gets under way in the girls' gymnasium at 8:15 p.m., with a second performance at the same hour Saturday.

FULL SCALE rehearsals have been going on all week, ironing out problems of scheduling acts and transitions between acts. Individual acts have been in rehearsal for four weeks or more.

Twenty-eight acts are included in the show, ranging from solos to class skits involving a dozen people or more. In addition to a number of dramatic skits, the show presents vocal, instrumental, dance and variety acts.

Setting for the show is the lobby of a small town hotel somewhere in the West. A troup of show people, stranded in the town, is forced to put on its own show for its own entertainment.

Hazel Stewert and Clifford Gallant, faculty sponsors; Lenaye Gabel, committee chairman; and directors Violet Jeffery and Ada Kilbury sum up the show with one word, "terrific." Their enthusiasm is reflected in the work of the cast.

Backdrops and art work for the show have been done by Janet Seigel, Howard Pearson, and Lenaye Gabel.

Aids Sanatorium

Newly elected to the board of the Denver sanatorium, William Earl Martin of 524 S. Highland ave., Arlington Heights, joins a distinguished group of men who are devoting their efforts to the benefit of their fellow men.

This, the 50th year of operation, the midwest advisory board expects 1954 to be the biggest year in the history of the Denver sanatorium. Mr. Martin vice president of Adams-Steele, management engineers in Chicago, originally came from Denver, Colorado, where he observed the work of the Jewisn consumptives relief society at the Denver sanatorium. His election to the midwest advisory board was hailed by Joseph Goldstone, its president, as a "qualitative gain of immeasurable value."

SEE HOW THEY RUN

by ERICA FLOYD

An appreciative audience virtually rolled in the aisles of the Palatine high school auditorium last Friday and Saturday nights during the Palatine Players presentation of Phillip King's comedy, "See How They Run."

From the opening of the first-act curtain on a most unusual vicarge in England the action was fast and furious. Almost every gimmick known to slap-stick comedy was effectively utilized. Act two topped all three.

The story involved a series of errors in identities which became increasingly entagled before the inevitable clarification in act three.

Outstanding in the cast were Don Stephan (Corporal Clive Winton) whose winsome, natural manner well suited his role; vivacious Sylvia Paulson, who effervesced as Ida, the saucy, understanding maid; and Jim Bonesteel, who gave a mirthfully-meek interpretation to the role of the Reverend Humphrey.

Helen Bodelson convulsed the audience as Miss Skillon, a prim spinster whose dignity disappeared into the contents of a bottle of cooking sherry. Attractive Gladys Kuhn portrayed Penelope Toop, the hub of the rotating mix-up, with studied nonchalance; and Bill Mereness was convincing as the bewildered vicar. Others in the cast were Tom Warner (the Bishop of Lax); Wilf Hahn (the sinister intruder); and Ed Rada (Sergeant Towers).

The play, directed by the talented Lorraine Dean, was fast-paced and the blocking expertly planned. Technical details, as a whole, were well executed on an attractive set.

900 West Suburban Musicians To Take Part In Music Festival At Arlington High April 4-5

Approximately 915 student musicians drawn from all eight schools of the West Suburban conference will take part in the conference's first music festival, at Arlington Heights high school, April 4 and 5.

THE PUBLIC is invited to the performance which begins at 8 p. m. Monday, April 5. Tickets are now being sold by music students of the various schools. Student tickets are 50 cents, adults 75 cents when purchased in advance or $1 at the door.

Three outstanding music directors have been selected as guest conductors for the festival.

Marvin Genuchi, musical director of Great Lakes Naval Training Station and conductor of the Bluejackets' Choir, will conduct all choral groups and all combinations which use the choral groups.

GLENN C. BAINUM, retired band director of Northwestern university will conduct the band.

Bainum's career at Northwstern brought him increased recognition as a fine conductor of outstanding concert band organizations and possibly the greatest innovator in the marching band field organizations which became so important to the college football atmosphere.

His ability as an arranger has resulted in excellent presentations by professional bands and the Northwestern university band and the help and encouragement he has given to young arrangers has been directly responsible for improving the tone of band arrangements all over the country. He has an outstanding ability with young students and his energy and youthful approach to music have kept his services as a clinician and adjucator in demand throughout his career.

Student Teachers Practicing at Arlington, Barrington High Schools

Arlington Heights and Barrington high schools are among approximately 130 schools of the state selected by the University of Illinois college of education as student training centers for the current semester.

Under the university's "professional semester" program for prospective teachers, the following students will spend 6 weeks in full-time teaching at Arlington Heights in the fields indicated: Patricia Lynn, 1001 W. 16th st., Chicago, Donald Smitley, 616 Mulberry st., Marshall - Social Studies

The students began teaching assignments March 22 and return to campus classes May 10.

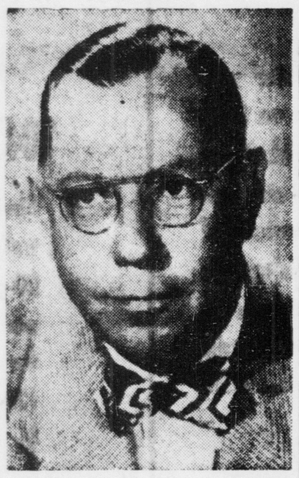
Stonegate Association Elects New Officers

Officers for 1954 were elected at the regular March meeting of the Stonegate association, held at North school. Earl Ogier is the new president. Vice-presidents are Mrs. Carl Palmer and Ralph Lilleberg. Duties of the secretary will be divided between Mrs. J. E. Good and Mrs. George Fromm. Leroy Garr is treasurer.

First problem to face President Ogier and his associates will be a better control of traffic in Stonegate. Workmen of the building trades, delivery trucks, week end homeseekers as well as the Stonegaters' own cars create the problem. All residents of Stonegate as well as the association members are urged to attend the next monthly meeting to help formulate a program to keep Stonegate free from automobile accidents.

Film On Scandinavia Next Travel Lecture



The Travel and Adventure series of Arlington Heights high school will present Curtis Nagel, Tuesday, at 8 p.m., with his film of "Scandinavia."

Widely known as one of the world's most traveled men as well as a pioneer of theatrical color motion pictures, Nagel brings to the screen the perfection in color, composition, continuity and human interest which only years of experience plus the real eye of an artist can obtain.

NAGEL was co-producer with F. W. Murnau of "Tabu", an epic film of the South Seas which won the Academy award, the greatest honor which can be bestowed upon a film in the motion picture industry. Turning from Hollywood, Nagel toured almost every part of the world filming his "Romantic Journeys" for Educational Films, and "Paramount Color Cruises" for Paramount Pictures.

"Scandinavia" is alive with native life and customs and brimful of human interest. In Denmark the film explores charming Copenhagen, quaint old Aarhus, Ribe and its wonderful storks, Odense the home of Hans Christian Anderson, lovely Svenborg with its narrow, twisted streets and crow-stepped houses, Elsinore Castle, and the peaceful Danish countryside.

THE TRAVELER enters Sweden at historic Gothenberg and follows the famed Gote Canal across the interesting country to glorious Stockholm, "Venice of Northern Europe," then up through Dalecarlia to the mountains. In Stockholm the film shows scenes of participation in the festive celebration of King Gustaf's ninetieth birthday, with a sequence of the great king himself as he rides through the streets of the capital.

The pictures of Oslo record for the first time by color cameras the King and Queen of Denmark along with King Haakon and Crown Prince Olaf of Norway. Far above the Arctic Circle, where Amundsen and other polar explorers based their expeditions to the North Pole, Nagel got absolutely wonderful scenes of the midnight sun and the colorful Lapps and reindeer. The film builds and builds until the stupendous grandeur of the Norwegian Fjords and the snow covered peaks and glaciers of the Arctic make this Colorlogue of Scandinavia a true epic of these wondrous countries of Northern Europe.

Free Church To Hear Noted Minister Speak Sunday

REV. OLAI URANG

Rev. Olai Urang of Minneapolis, Minn., secretary of home missions of The Evangelical Free Church of America, will speak at the 7 p.m. service March 28 of Arlington Heights Evangelical Free church. The service will be held in the sanctuary of the First Methodist church, Dunton ave. and St. James st.

Born in Norway, Mr. Urang is also editor of the Evangelisten, one of the publications of The Evangelical Free Church of America. He is a graduate of Trinity Seminary and Bible college in Chicago.

One of his greatest contributions to church work came in doing pioneer work in three provinces of Canada. He spent three years in the prairies of Saskatchewan establishing churches there. He also had part in starting a work in Champion, Alberta, and the Vancouver and New Westminster, British Columbia, churches. In all, 15 years were spent in Canada. While there he also conducted a regular radio broadcast for six years over three stations. Prior to the present position he holds he was pastor of the Elim Evangelical Free church at Litchville, N.D.

Mr. Urang's present responsibilities include the overall coordination of the home mission work being carried on by the Evangelical Free Church of America. There are about 350 churches in 27 states and four provinces of Canada. Starting of new churches and Sunday schools is one of his main responsibiilties. (AM

Insurance Winner

Harold E. Nebel of Arlington Heights, local representative of State Farm Insurance companies, Bloomington, was one of the winners of the State Farm leaders club award in 1953. This award is based on the outstanding performance in the sale of all three State Farm lines — automobile, life and fire insurance.

Mr. Nebel has represented his company since 1947.

He will be among those who will attend the State Farm Leaders Club Convention at St. Petersburg, Fla., April 5, 6, and 7.

Nurses' Club To Sponsor Girl Scout Troop

Plans were completed for sponsoring a Girl Scout troop in Arlington Heights. Mrs. Hensrud, mother of Francis Burton, is now the owner of a hand made stole.

Following the business meeting Mrs. Samuel Wit, program chairman, presented Mrs. Harold Lussow, who gave a book review of "Too Late the Phalarope."

Mrs. Arnise Basil and her cohostesses took charge of the social hour, and Miss Margaret Johnston was in charge of the bake sale.

When it comes to Protection ...it pays to have the BEST

Adequate rain gear can keep you from getting soaked — but it's no good unless you have it with you when the heavens open.

Dependable insurance is like that, too. It's one thing you can't get when you need it most. After an accident or loss has occurred, it's too late to buy better insurance if the policy you have proves unsatisfactory.

So don't gamble with "cheap" insurance. Buy only the BEST — and buy it today.

Hold Fellowship Service At Presbyterian Church

DR. R. W. FRANK

A service of fellowship will be held at the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights March 28 at 3:30 p. m. All neighboring churches and their congregations are invited.

Participating in this service will be: Rev. Paul L. Stumpf, moderator of Presbytery of Chicago and minister of the Roseland Presbyterian church; Rev. Birger Dahl, minister of the Methodist church of Arlington Hts., representing churches in the community; Rev. Morton Hickman, minister of the Irvingwood Community Presbyterian church Dr. Ernest A. Johnson, president of Lake Forest college; Dr. Henry Little Jr., secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions in the midwest area, and Rev. Carl V. Brown Sr., father of the Minister of this church and parish minister of the First Presbyterian church, Gary, Ind.

Dr. Robert Worth Frank, president of McCormick Theological seminary, Chicago, will preach the sermon. Before he became a member of the McCormick seminary faculty, Dr. Frank served pastorates in Marengo and Harvard. In 1920 he began teaching religious education and sociology at McCormick and in 1928 he became professor of philosophy of religion and Christian ethics. In 1947 he was elected president of the seminary.

Dr. Frank has ben a regular speaker in churches and colleges throughout the midwest. He is a member of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education and of the Board of Trustees of Wabash college. During 1950-51 he was chairman of the Presbyterian Council of Theological Education. He has written many articles for church magazines and publications, and his book, "The Christian's Duty," was published in 1943.

Following the service there wil be a tea in fellowship hall to which all are invited.

Plan Off-Street Parking In Downers

Plans for the development of off-street parking in the downtown Downers Grove area moved closer to realization when a proposed contract between the village and the chamber of commerce was introduced.

Under the terms of the contract, the village agrees to develop "not less than 30,000 square feet" of the lot, which is located on the north side of Gilbert ave just west of Forest ave.

The chamber in turn agrees to pay into the parking meter fund a total of $12,600 for developing the lot.

CIRCLING THE TOWN
BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

"Western Wing-Ding" is the title of the high school talent show to be given this Friday and Saturday evenings in the girls' gym. Under the direction of student Director Violet Jeffery, the show will include acts of almost every variety—from individual soloists to dance numbers involving large numbers of boys and girls.

On the program as part of the full evening's entertainment are 11 solo acts, nine small group numbers as well as senior boys and girls and other "class" acts.

Two boys, Jerry Johnson and Doug Winkelman, are the masters of ceremonies. Ada Kilbury assists Miss Jeffery in direction.

This is truly a student's show, with a student committee from the student council in charge. Lenaye Gabel is chairman.

Tickets for this popular show are available from young people of the high school, and will be sold at the door. The community is, of course, invited to attend.

Looking Ahead

Senior Girl Scouts of Arlington Heights have really set their sights for the future. They are making plans to visit a senior scout troop in Mexico in 1955. The trip is to be made in connection with their plans to become an international girl scout troop.

To earn money for this large-order project, the girls have been doing various kinds of work in their homes and in the community. Cleaning on Saturdays, baby sitting and doing dishes for people who give dinner parties are services especially in demand. They also sell coat hangers and rags and provide dinners for the high school teachers.

With such a long-range project, and with such single-mindedness on the part of the girls, the planned trip to Mexico should certainly become a reality for the senior scouts of Arlington Heights.

Midweek Services

Whatever one's religious preference, he is able to participate in special midweek lenten services at the churches of Arlington Heights. Generally speaking these services begin at 8 o'clock and are brief, often only half an hour long.

Services of this type are held at St. Peter and Faith Lutheran churches, First Presbyterian, St. John Evangelical and Reformed and the Methodist. At St. John the service begins at 7:45, and this week at the Methodist church the lenten meditation followed a potluck supper, which started at 6:15.

Evangelical and Free church continues its regular Wednesday evening prayer services through Lent, meeting at the parsonage. For members and friends of St. John Episcopal church in Mount Prospect, there is also a midweek prayer service, beginning at 8:15 p.m.

These Lenten services are held To help meet the needs of those—and there are many—who feel the need of prayer, meditation and hymns in addition to the regular Sunday service. These brief midweek periods can be of value and satisfaction to every one who attends.

Circus Funds To Aid Four Lions Projects

Everyone's a kid again on Circus Day! And every kid, Arlington Heights Lions club members feel, should be given the chance to enjoy the spangled world's joys and thrills.

So, helped by numerous cooperating Circus Daddies, the local group is seeing to it that all kiddies of the area who otherwise could not afford a circus ticket will be matinee guests at the Mills Bros. Three Ring Circus. The world's largest motorized circus will appear at 1200 E. Euclid, Arlington Heights, May 26, under the auspices of the Lions club.

"We wish to thank all who have cooperated in this project to enable these boys and girls to enjoy free an afternoon of big top thrills," said William Gappert, Lions president. "At the same time ,they have generously helped the club's bus shelter, Leader Dog League for the Blind. Boy Scouts and classroom for the blind projects, to which the circus proceeds will go."

"Based on results to date, it appears we will attain our goal of providing enough free tickets so that no needy youngsters will miss the circus, with its spangled champions from 18 countries, clowns, trained animals and all of sawdustland's elements."

Mills Bros. this year is celebrating its 15th anniversary. As part of this celebration, it is presenting a score of imported performance features and also various birthday tour innovations as thank-you gestures to the public jointly over the past 14 years, and sponsoring organizations who, have helped build it to its current standing as the world's largest fraternal circus.

The 1954 performance includes 40 tons of elephants, headed by the world's most famous one, Miss Burma, who was featured in the Inaugural Parade at Washington. English, French, Dutch, German, Swedish, Italian, Latin American and other imported circus stars, plus American favorites, will appear, along with trained animals, European and American clowns, all-girl aerial ensembles, a full circus concert band, and spangled musical spectacles.

Indian Lilies A Tall Hobby

Fred Sidse, 208 S. Evergreen ave., Arlington Heights is shown above sitting between two of his Indian lilies or devil's tongue plants.

Mr. Sidse, who makes a hobby of raising different plants and flowers, says that these plants, when outside, open up into an umbrella shape. When he takes them into the basement in the fall, they close up.

Two Directors Train Chorus For 'H.M.S. Pinafore' Operetta

A musician whose ability is well-known throughout this area is Phyllis Snetsinger who will accompany the forthcoming May production, "H.M.S. Pinafore."

Mrs. Snetsinger majored in music at the Ellsworth college conservatory and at Drake university in Des Moines, Iowa, and completed her work at Northwestern university. She is accomplished on the piano, accordion, and organ and has directed many musical groups. At present, Mrs. Snetsinger is director of music at the Prospect Heights public school.

Mrs. Robert Christofferson and her choir, which meets every Thursday at the Community church, have also been learning the music to the operetta. By devoting extra time Thursday evenings to this practice the load Roy Kane carries when he rehearses the combined choruses and leads at 2 p.m. each Sunday at the school has been considerably lightened.

The musical training of Mrs. Christofferson was taken by her at North Park music school and in studio work in the Fine Arts building. Solo work, her first interest, brought her before many civic organizations, including women's clubs. She has, also, twice participated in the Chicagoland Music Festival. For four years she has directed the choir of the Prospect Heights Community church, their performances consistently reflecting her ability as conductor.

"YOUR FUTURE IS OUR BUSINESS . . . TODAY"

The Four Most Important Words . . .

And we express it simply and clearly in each service of the church.

Neither sad nor somber — NOT WATERED DOWN — our beliefs are defined in a living religion that's happy . . . joyful.

The Four Most Important Words:
I BELIEVE IN GOD

— We believe in God and in Jesus, the Son of God as Redeemer of the world.

— We believe in God as revealed through the teachings and person of Christ — and His word, the Holy Bible.

— We believe He speaks to us and guides His Church now — by His Holy Spirit.

At the church service, we stand as a body with the clergyman and state the historic Creed which contains what we think are the four most important words in the English language. "I believe in God."

We invite you to join with us in the worship of God In His Church.

Advise Public To Hesitate Before Filing Tax Protests

With tax bills at an all time high this year, the first reaction of a lot of property owners will be "I'll protest."

Just what are grounds for tax protests? To find the answer to that question, a representative of Paddock Publications asked a tax official with 25 years experience in the tax field the question, "Just what can be the basis of a tax protest?"

Here is his answer:

"The simple fact that a tax bill is high and may appear too large to the taxpayer is no grounds for a tax protest.

"That tax bill represents the taxpayers share of receiving the several taxing bodies of his community. None of that tax bill goes to the federal government or the state. Two-thirds of the bill probably goes to schools alone, the rest to other local governments with the county being the most remotely removed from him and that in all essentials is a local government like the schools, the village and the township. Also included are park districts, sanitary districts, and the like.

"There are just two real reasons for a tax objection. One is that a rate is illegal in some way and the other is that the property valuation is too high.

"A tax protest on rates must be supported by duplicate protest letters showing what part of each rate is protested. This is an involved procedure and is where the tax attorneys and tax bureaus come in for a lot of business.

"A taxpayer paying 'under protest' must give the collector these protest letters, one of which is receipted by the collector and returned to the taxpayer, and the other is turned over to the county collector.

"It is no use to ask for a bill to be stamped 'paid under protest' unless accompanied by the protest letters. No attention is paid to an unsupported protest.

"The other form of protest is the protest on property valuation and this is a difficult proposition also.

"A valuation protest goes before the county board of tax appeals and a property owner must have a real case if he expects to get any reduction, as most valuations shown on the tax bills are about one-half or less than the actual selling value of the property.

"Those are the two methods of tax objections, a taxpayer has either got to show the tax rates are illegal or that his property is valued too high, and in most cases he values it a lot higher than the assessors figure.

"Just to 'fly off the handle' and shout, 'I'll protest' just because a tax bill is high doesn't mean a thing. A taxpayer has really got to have something concrete behind a protest or he'd better keep still.

"A lot of protests are evidently never followed up after they are made for the county treasurer recently reported to have some $90,000,000 on hand that the courts had allowed on tax protests. And the protestors hadn't claimed the money.

"So if a taxpayer hasn't a real grievance on illegal rates or excess valuations, the best thing he can do is pay his bill and keep his property clear, even if the size of his bill does temporarily make him warm under the collar."

Janet Stewart, Henri Bouffard Repeat Vows

The First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights was the scene of the marriage March 6 of Miss Janet Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Stewart, E. Palatine rd., Palatine, and Henri Bouffard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bouffard, Elmhurst rd., Arlington Heights.

Rev. C. Victor Brown officiated at the 2 o'clock ceremony. The bride's father sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied at the organ by Harold Berg. Baskets of white snapdragons, carnations and fern decorated the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of silk orlon shantung fashioned with a V neckline trimmed with pearls and repeated in the back, three-quarter length push up sleeves, and a full skirt designed with inverted tucks at the waist. Her fingertip veil of French silk illusion was held in place by a skull cap trimmed with pearls. She carried a bouquet of cala lilies.

Miss Ruth Evans was the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Sally Petersen and Mrs. Martha Koziol. All the attendants wore ballerina length gowns of beige acetate taffeta fashioned with high Chinese collars and full skirts. They carried crescent bouquets of orange delight roses, violets and crouton foliage.

Shelby E. Stewart Jr., brother of the bride, was best man. Richard Petersen and LaVerne Bouffard, cousin of the groom, were the ushers.

A reception for 100 guests was held at the bride's home following the ceremony.

The couple toured seven midwestern states on their honeymoon and are now making their home in Peoria where the groom will finish his course in civil engineering at Bradley university in June. —Bak Studio

Bishop Visits Mount Prospect Episcopal Church

St. John's Episcopal church, Mount Prospect, was one of the first Episcopal churches to have as their honored guests Rt. Rev. Gerald Francis Burrill, new bishop of the Chicago Diocese, and Mrs. Burrill, at a reception and tea March 21.

Bishop Burrill administered confirmation to 40 and received seven from other Apostolic faiths.

Mount Prospect village hall was the scene of the reception which followed the confirmation services. The reception was attended by 300.

In the receiving line were Rt. Rev. and Mrs. Gerald Francis Burrill, Rev. and Mrs. Thomas K. Chaffee, Mr. and Mrs. J. Herbert Haynsworth and Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Rohner. Mr. Haynsworth and Mr. Rohner are senior and junior wardens, respectively of St. John's vestry.

In a brief talk by Bishop Burrill he stated, "I can well understand the need of the new church, when this confirmation class alone half-filled the present church."

Mrs. Walter K. Lake Sr. and Mrs. Cecile Wessling poured at the tea table. The younger members had a refreshment table of their own.

Mrs. Richard C. DeZur and Mrs. Allen H. Jones were co-chairmen of the tea. Assisting them were Mrs. A. James Baker, Mrs. John A. Beverley, Mrs. Charles E. Black, Mrs. John S. Coward, Mrs. Clair B. Owen, Mrs. William Tefft and Mrs. Kenneth Wessling.

Junior Women Hold Fashion Show April 7

"Invitation to Spring," the annual Fashion show sponsored by Arlington Heights Junior Woman's club, will be presented by Carson Pirie Scott and Company April 7. The auditorium of Arlington Heights high school will resemble an indoor country club scene as members of the club and a group of children take their turn on the ramp at 8:15 p. m.

Changing a precedent established in previous years, professional models supplied by Carsons will also appear in this year's show.

For a change of pace, intermission will feature entertainment by the club's singing group and other attractions.

Mrs. Robert Busse of Mount Prospect is general chairman of this year's presentation. Tickets for the show and the raffle are now available from all club members or may be purchased at the door.

Donna Mills Given Cap Of Student Nurse

Donna Mills, 506 Go-Wanda ave., Mount Prospect, was one of the 86 student nurses capped at Presbyterian hospital, Chicago, March 19.

The candlelight capping ceremony was a formal tribute to the largest preclinical class in the school's 51 year history. It marked the conclusion of the six-month preparation for hospital experience, during which time the students learned the basic skills of nursing care and completed certain laboratory and academic requirements. During this period of preparation the students were also introduced to hospital routine and under supervision performed such simple tasks as bed making, taking temperatures and bathing bed patients.

In the candlelight capping ceremony Miss Mills and her 85 classmates were presented individually to the director of nursing, Miss Sylvia Melby.

The eighty-six new nurses reported for hospital duty March 22 in the full student uniform of Presbyterian hospital. Their classroom work and hospital duty will divide almost evenly their 44 hour week. Gradually as they become more skilled in the techniques of nursing care and acquire the theoretical knowledge necessary, their class work will be reduced and their hours of hospital duty increased. During their senior year the students will receive specialized training in psychiatric nursing at Neuropsychatric institute and in communicable diseases at Hines Veterans hospital, Hines.

Favorites for Flavor

By LOIS SEILER

A worthy example of the famed art of Italian cuisine is the recipe for Veal Scallopini being shared with us this week by Mrs. Virgil Winkler, 824 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights.

Unable to find a recipe for this dish which suited her, Mrs. Winkler made additions and subtractions until she obtained satisfactory results, culminating in the recipe we are featuring today.

Veal Scallopini is prepared by dredging thin slices of veal steak in flour and browning them. Then the meat is simmered for one-half hour in tomato paste and water. Bay leaf, cloves, mushrooms and sherry wine are added last to impart zest and delicious flavor to this unusual dish.

Mrs. Winkler has served Veal Scallopini often to guests, and she usually accompanies it with Rosy Baked Potatoes, a green vegetable and tossed salad. The potatoes are a tasty combination of mashed baked potatoes, condensed tomato soup, butter, parmesan cheese and seasonings, served in the potato shells.

The Winklers have one son, Nick, who is six years old and in first grade at South school. Mrs. Winkler is a member of the PTA.

Veal Scallopini

1½ lbs. veal steak, cut very thin
Seasoned flour
Vegetable shortening
1 can tomato paste
Water
1 bay leaf
Several whole cloves
1 can mushrooms
½ cup sherry wine

Roll veal steak in flour and brown slowly on both sides in vegetable shortening. Add tomato paste and water to cover meat. Cover and simmer for one-half hour.

Rosy Baked Potatoes

For each medium-size potato add:

2 tbls. condensed tomato soup
¼ tsp. salt
Pepper
2 tsps. butter
1 tbls. parmesan cheese.

Joyce Jannusch And Edward Fitch Marry

(Times Candid Photo

In a double ring, candlelight ceremony March 6 Miss Joyce Jannusch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin P. Jannusch, 834 N. State rd., Arlington Heights, became the bride of Edward Fitch, son of Mrs. Rae Ooley of Wheeling.

Rev. L. V. Stephan officiated at the 7 o'clock ceremony held at St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran church. Mrs. Robert Douglas sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Ottomar Kolb at the organ. Vases of white snapdragons and gladioli banked the altar and snapdragons tied with white satin ribbon marked each pew.

The bride wore a gown fashioned with a bodice of lace over satin, long sleeves and an Elizabethan collar. Three layers of lace and two layers of net over satin formed the bouffant skirt which eneded in a six foot train. Her fingertip illusion veil was held in place by a coronation crown of pearls and rhinestones, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses with a white orchid center.

Miss Renada Beer of Des Plaines, cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a powder blue gown of net over taffeta fashioned with a pleated bodice and a bouffant skirt with an apron effect. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses.

Miss Arlene Rudolph, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Joan Thill and Miss Barbara Lyon were the bridesmaids. Shiely Jannusch was the flower girl. The bridesmaids wore cotillion blue gowns fashioned identical to that of the maid of honor. Their bouquets were also identical. The flower girl wore a gown similar to that of the maid of honor with a V neckline and taffeta collar and she carried a minature cascade bouquet of yellow tea roses.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Jannusch wore a light blue dress with light blue accessories. The groom's mother wore a mauve dress with black accessories. Both mothers had corsages of pink roses.

E. Roger Jannusch, brother of the bride, was best man. Herman Thies, Roy Hinneberg and Marty Ciezadlo were the ushers. Jim Ooley, brother of the groom, was the ringbearer.

The groom is stationed on the USS Buck with the navy and is home on a 30 day leave. The bride will reside with her parents until her husband returns from overseas duty.

Jerry Moehling Receives Cap Of Student Nurse

Miss Jerry Moehling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Moehling, 316 N. Douglas ave., Arlington Heights, was capped March 21 at 3 p. m. at Wesley Memorial hospital, Chicago. The ceremony was followed by a tea for the student nurses and their friends.

The cap is symbolic of the successful completion of the first six month period of a three year nursing course and indicates that one has demonstrated the ability and aptitude for a nursing career.

Presenting the Younger Generation

Two and Two

Arlene, who has light brown hair and blue eyes, has fun playing with her dolls and being outdoors in the sand box.

Blond-haired, blue-eyed Tommy likes to play with his sister's dolls, and he also enjoys riding his bike and playing with his toy truck. Eating is another favorite activity, and this youngster has fun playing with pots and pans, pretending he is cooking.

A mother's helper is Marianne, who has brown hair and blue eyes, and she often assists with the dusting and drying the dishes. Riding her bicycle and miniature car outdoors is enjoyed by this young miss, and she also likes to play with her dolls.

All of the children enjoy putting puzzles together, and they like to play records on their phonograph and watch TV. They all like books and look forward to having their mother read to them each night. A pet dog, named Mickey, is their pet, and it is Bobby's responsibility to feed the pup each day.

Grandparents of the children are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Super and Louis Zeinz, all of Chicago. They also have two great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Super of Tampa, Fla.

Brothers

Gregory and Rudd Corwin, pictured next, are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore L. Corwin, 256 S. Greenwood, Palatine.

Both boys have light brown hair, while three-year-old Gregory has blue-grey eyes and six-year-old Rudd has blue eyes.

Trains are Gregory's major interest, and he loves to play with them and ride on them. One of his favorite activities is riding his tricycle, and he also enjoys playing records, putting puzzles together and cuttng out things with scissors. This young lad likes mechanical toys, and both boys are interested in books.

A spaceman is his brother, and he is fascinated with any aspect regarding the outer space. Rudd enjoys attending kindergarten, and he has a two-wheeler bike which he loves to ride. This youngster likes to be outdoors and visit his friends.

The boys' grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George F. Weinreich of Cary and Mr. and Mrs. George A. Corwin of LaPorte, Ind.

In anticipation of the Mount Prospect antique show and sale, which will be held at Mount Prospect country club March 30 and 31, Mrs. M. B. Pendleton, left, is explaining the fine points of an antique chest to the women who will be official hostesses at the affair. They are, left to right: Mrs. Patrick Finney, Mrs. Henry Puff and Mrs. Harold Bradshaw. Mrs. Bradshaw is president of the women's organization of the Community Presbyterian church at Mount Prospect, sponsors of the show.

A group of Arlington Heights youngsters presented a pageant, depicting the history of the Red Cross, March 21 at 3 p. m. at the Edward S. Jackson home, 645 S. Belmont ave. The proceeds, amounting to $13.14, were given to the Red Cross. The children did their own scenery work, printed the tickets and even wrote the play. Those participating in the pageant were: first row, left to right, Ridgely Jackson, Mary Watson and Pat Michaels; back row, Dave Low, Gregory Shea, Robert Hoban, Paul Michaels and Bruce Jackson. —Staff Photo.

Seek Increase In Elk Grove School Educational, Building Tax Rates

Elk Grove Community Consolidated school, District 59 board of education voted March 15 to hold an election to consider increasing the school tax rates.

The resolution calls for an increase in the educational tax rate from 90c to $1.11 per $100 assessed evaluation and an increase in the building rate from 10c to 18¾c per 100. Due to general increase in salaries, maintenance, equipment, and supplies it would be very difficult to properly operate the school under the present tax levies. The present year the district levied an educational rate of about 88c and with careful budgeting and avoiding extra expenses it can get by until July 1.

NEXT YEAR there will be at least one more class and teacher and more if a contemplated subdivision is built. Since assessed evaluations don't keep pace with the large enrollments now snowing under elementary schools, it is necessary to have this tax rate to make ends meet. This is not only true here but in most neighboring communties who have in the past or more recently approved such tax increases.

The budget for the next school year will be raised only enough to take care of regular anticipated expenses in order to provide proper standards of education, health and safety for the children of the district. Unless there is some unpredictable flood of children it would probably only be necessary to use part of these increases for the coming year. A public budget hearing is provided by law in August every year at the school. Announcement of this hearing is published in the local paper and posted in local businesses so that any citizen can examine and ask questions about the proposed budget before it is adopted. This is the democratic way of allowing the taxpayers to see how their school tax increases are put to use.

SOME SCHOOL expenses are not too apparent but can involve considerable outlay of funds such as pupil transportation, tuition for handicapped children to special classes, special types of insurance and most of field trip expense. In addition there are routine expenses of fuel, library books, office supplies, electricity, telephone, postage, desks, maps, maintenance supplies, repairs, replacements, paint, etc. All this is in addition to teachers' salaries which make up about 3/5 of the total school budget.

Teachers here are paid on the same basis as in most neighboring communities. Schools that do not meet the prevailing salary schedules of the area have a difficult time finding teachers, let alone competent ones.

The just less than 30c tax rate increase would increase the school's revenue almost $16,000 on the basis of the present assessed valuation of $5,343,000. However, that will not all be needed for the next year but probably in a year or two beyond as the building is added on to and needs more teachers, supplies, equipment, maintenance, etc. The school operates under a very changeable enrollment and undeterminable increases for portions of the year raise expenses and make it difficult to predict future expenditure estimates. The enrollment this year has run from a high of 311 to a low of 261 in the last six months, not counting tuition pupils.

THE SCHOOL district needs active consideration and support of this tax rate increase in order to plan ahead for the next few years. After this increase the ceiling will be reached on the building fund and it will only be 1½c away in the educational rate. Thus there could be only a 1½c further increase in school tax rates under existing state law. The reason the top is not reached on the educational rate at this time is because there is a limit of 21c increase on that rate at any one election.

The board of education has carefully thought through this matter and decided that this increase is the best policy at this date in order to continue to provide an effective and suitable school for this district. (CMD

April 10 Is Deadline For Filing Personal Property Schedules

All Cook county personal property schedule blanks will be in the mails within the next ten days according to information released today by Assessor John S. Clark.

The distribution of forms, at this time, is the earliest in many years because a change in the assessment law has shortened the Assessor's work year.

"The legislative change," said Assessor Clark, "has made it necessary for us to project an extremely tight schedule of operations for the 1954 personal property and real estate assessments in order to complete almost two assessments in this year. Therefore, we need the cooperation of the public in filing personal property declarations promptly."

Clark said the deadline for filing a 1954 return is April 10th or ten days after receipt thereof. Immediately after that date, auditing of the first returns will start.

The Assessor's office hopes that the "speed-up" will not confuse the taxpayer who will be receiving his 1954 personal property schedule blanks and the 1953 personal property tax bill from the County Collector at approximately the same time.

"Our men have been in the various neighborhoods checking and recording business and corporate values," Clark stated. "A fifty per cent penalty must be added by law to all assessments in the absence of a sworn return. Therefore, I urge every taxpayer to have his schedule in the Assessor's office as promptly as possible. We will cooperate in every way we can, but the time element will control our closing dates," Assessor Clark declared.

Wheeling Township Taxes Total $2 Million, Elk Grove $680,000

If every person assessed for taxes in Wheeling township pays, Collector Annen would collect over two million dollars. Such a collection is of course very unlikely, much as would the taxing bodies like to see it occur.

The real estate tax totals $1,749,868.64; the personal $260,059.74. There are 3,800 personal property tax bills.

Palatine township real estate has $930,000 assessed against it for 1953 taxes. Twenty-two hundred individuals are asked to pay $91,000 on their personal property. It is expected that the present drive by the states attorney's office will reduce the usual personal property delinquents. Less than one-third filed schedules.

The total real estate tax in Elk Grove township is $635,489.12. The personal property tax is $51,440.05. There are 1,100 personal property tax bills.

High School Board Names Nine Precincts For Coming Election

At a special meeting of the high school board of education, held on Monday, March 22, 1954, for the purpose of establishing more election precincts, it was decided to establish four polling precincts in Arlington Heights and two in Mt. Prospect. Henceforth, for high school elections, Arlington Heights will be divided east and west by Dunton st., and north and south by the North Western railroad tracks. Those living east of Dunton and north of the tracks will vote at the North school, those living west of Dunton and north of the tracks will vote at the high school, those living east of Dunton and south of the tracks will vote at the Dryden Place school, and those living west of Dunton and south of the tracks will vote at the South school.

In Mt. Prospect, those living north of the tracks will vote at the Central school, while those living south of the tracks will vote at the Lincoln school. All other voting precincts will remain the same, namely, the Wheeling, Prospect Heights, and Elk Grove schools.

The Board also established the voting hours for the polls to be open as 12 to 7 p.m. The Board had originally planned to open the polls at 9 a.m. with two precincts in Arlington Heights and one in Mt. Prospect. This change was made for the convenience of the voters and at the request of the public.

as fresh as if you "picked them yourself" from your own garden

And why are Jewel fruits and vegetables always so fresh? Because, first of all, Jewel fruits and vegetables are delivered to your Jewel every day. So, when you walk into your Jewel in the morning you're able to select the same fruits and vegetables that were only yesterday being speeded by truck and train to you.

And, as soon as the crates of fruits and vegetables come into your Jewel store a Jewel produce man checks them. For instance, if necessary, every head of lettuce is gone over and trimmed. And that goes for the rest of Jewel's fruits and vegetables, too.

Yes, Jewel produce folks are constantly working for you. They know expert care is so important . . . . . water when it's needed . . . . . ice and refrigeration when required.

Jewel produce folks even attend classes where they are specially trained by Jewel produce experts. Here they receive the training that is so necessary for the proper care of your fruits and vegetables. So why not visit your Jewel's fresh fruit and vegetable department this week? Your family will be glad you did!

Wheeling And Elk Grove Lead In Number Of Forfeitures

Palatine township may have made a bad showing in personal property tax payments during recent years, but when it comes to real estate payments, it's a far different story. Palatine is in fifth place, Wheeling in nineteenth place and Elk Grove is sixth from the last place.

According to figures recently released by Edmund J. Brennan, director of the department of Central Services of Cook county showing the delinquent property in the county. Palatine township has a fine record, being topped only by four of the larger and wealthier townships in the county.

For the year of 1951 which is covered in the report, Palatine had a percentage of forfeited property of only 9.4%. Oak Park had the lowest percentage of forfeitures with 2.2%.

Wheeling township's percentage of forfeitures was 18.4%; Elk Grove 21.9%; Barrington 11.9%; Schaumburg 28.6%; Hanover 19.7% and Maine 17.6%.

In the city of Chicago, Lake View had the best showing of only 2% while Lake township has the worst with 18%.

Average delinquencies for the eight Chicago townships was 12.1% and the grand total for the entire county, Chicago and county was 17.1%.

A total of 115,734 pieces of property were listed as delinquent in the country towns and 74,492 pieces in the city of Chicago for a grand total for the entire county of 188,226.

The total number of pieces of property in the county is 598,096 for Chicago and 501,649 for the country towns for a grand total of 1,099,745.

Palatine may have to crawl in a hole when it comes to personal property payments but it can hold its head in the real estate field as the figures show Palatine having the best showing percentagewise of any of the Northwest towns.

Palatine's 9.4% delinquencies are a far cry from the more than 25% of delinquents a few years ago before so much "dead" property was put on the market through foreclosure proceedings.

Episcopal Guild Holds Meeting

St. Catherine's Guild of St. John's Episcopal church, Mount Prospect, met at the home of Mrs. Douglas Gutzman of Arlington Heights March 17.

Brief reports were given by Mrs. Francis McDonald, Christmas sale chairman, and Mrs. Charles E. Black, Lenten supply work chairman.

Mrs. Walter L. Connell, Mrs. Byron C. Crain and Mrs. Douglas Gutzman will be hostesses after the April 14 Lenten School of Religion.

Mrs. Robert E. Rohner, president, appointed Mrs. William S. Plambeck as representative to the Youth Group board. The youth groups are sponsored by St. Catherine's and St. Ann's guilds. Grosvenor Needham is director of the groups.

Mr. Needham is a seminarian at Seabury Western Theological seminary and a former high school teacher.

Mrs. Dohrman S. Grant, vice president, was honored at the last meeting with a handkerchief shower. Mrs. Grant, an original member of the guild, will shortly be making her home in Ohio.

The guild met informally at the home of Mrs. Robert E. Rohner March 23 to sew and repair vestments for the acolytes of St. John's. (AM

Hold Antique Show This Week At Country Club

Monday will be moving day for 14 antique dealers as they assemble their exhibits for the Mount Prospect Antique Show and Sale which opens Tuesday at 11 a.m. in Mount Prospect Country club. They will be on hand both Tuesday and Wednesday with antique pieces from all periods. The sale and show will be sponsored by the Community Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Edward Friedel of Arlington Heights, who is well known to collectors in this area, is planning a display, which will include an antique ice cream table and chairs and two chests. One is a 14 drawer spice chest; the other was once used in an apothecary's shop.

As the Country Cousins, Mrs. M. B. Pendleton, Mrs. Fred Welsh, and Mrs. S. G. Kline will appropriately exhibit their collection at this first antique show and sale in Mount Prospect.

A mutual interest in the history of Elk Grove township has resulted in these Mount Prospect women trying to preserve remnants of the early days which are fast disappearing.

Furniture and furnishings gleaned from old homes around the countryside have been restored and refinished to fit into today's living, and it is their hope that these pieces will add a touch of country charm to many homes.

Perhaps the most curious item is a gunshot dispenser, now considered a museum piece, from an old country store. Almost as rare is the hickory splint which the cousins have used to weave chair seats. An interesting bit of folklore was discovered when similar chairs turned up in neighboring homes. Years ago the chair peddler traveled from farm to farm selling the chairs from his wagon.

March 30 and 31 will also be busy days for the Women's Organization of the Community Presbyterian church at Mount Prospect, sponsors of the affair. The preliminary plans and arrangements have been made by the chairman, Mrs. Russell Brown, and her committee, which includes Mrs. Roy Hardin, Mrs. David Crockatt, Mrs. Charles Beesley, Mrs. G. T. Orr, Mrs. Henry Puff and Mrs. John Remsen. They will be on hand with their rsepective committees to arrange tables and lighting, serve coffee and cake, and sell tickets which will be available at the door from 11 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Three of the group will act as official hostesses. They are Mrs. Harold Bradshaw, president; Mrs. Patrick Finney, past president; and Mrs. Henry Puff, executive vice president. (F

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

I frequently find it difficult to believe that a large proportion of the American people do not exercise their right to vote. Most of the people I know are political theorists, to some extent. At least they have opinions, and while there may be occasions when I think they have their facts garbled, almost all of them have some collection of facts upon which their opinions are based.

Not long ago, I was invited by the Board of Christian Education of our church to participate in the Churchmen's Washington Seminar, sponsored by the National Council of the Churches of Christ in association with a number of denominational offices. this program has been going on for about seven years. It tries to invite leaders in the denominations, from men's groups or women's groups, as well as ministers, to spend a working week at the nation's capital studying the way in which our government operates.

THIS PARTICLAR Seminar included 270 persons who were members of twelve different denominations, coming from thirty-seven states and the District of Columbia. There were no statistics available on occupational status, political preference, income bracket, or educational background of the delegates to the Seminar. I had the impression that although the ministry was more in abundance than in a general community group, most other occupational groups were represented. It is obviously true that the ability to get away for a week in the middle of winter suggests an income bracket and job qualification slightly higher than average.

If the final total of the 1952 election may be assumed to be the national average, say about 54% Republican and 46% Democrat, the political preferences of the Seminar might have been just the reverse. It could have been as much as 55% Democrat and 45% Republican, but certainly no more than that. However, the extreme fringe of the Republicans did not seem to be there; this makes it rather hard to tell exactly where the line may be drawn in the middle group.

MOST OF THOSE with whom I compared notes were impressed by the caliber of the members of Congress and the Senate with whom we met, especially by the Senators. There were times when representatives of the executive agencies assumed that the delegates were completely ignorant of the workings of government—after all, most of these people were picked because they were interested and were being given a further intensive training.

The facts that are carried in a Congressman's head, the work that is done in his office—these are tremendous and suggest that govenment, generally speaking, is in capable hands. The work that is done in most committees is of extremely high order. I came away with the feeling that the business which is done on the floor of both Houses is primarily a waste of time, a great and needless drain on the energies of people who could better be attending to real business elsewhere.

ON A DAY when a vote was due on the Bricker amendment to the Bricker amendment, the Senate convened at 1. By 2, they had read the minutes and were ready to begin business. By 3 or so, some chitchat between Senators Knowland and Lyndon Johnson was completed and they began to discuss the business. Senator Johnson had assured the Senate, three times, that the Democrats were ready to vote whenever the Reupublican leader called for the vote. The roll call bell was rung. By 5:45 p.m. the vote was being taken. Even granting that a certain number of speeches are required for public opinion to develop and understand an issue, one could say that fully two hours of that six hour session was a waste of time for the ninety-six members of the Senate.

Government business has expanded so greatly that we simply cannot make such needless drains upon the abilities of capable men —the country needs their constructive efforts.

Rev. Wilbur Koester Associate Pastor Of Mt. Prospect Church

The congregation of Mount Prospect St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran church, Missouri Synod, has duly elected and called Rev. Wilbur Koester of Palatine to be associate pastor for Mount Prospect congregation. He has been assisting Rev. J. E. A. Mueller for some time.

The call carries with it an understanding that the brunt of pastorate work and leadership will fall upon Rev. Koester's shoulders. His acceptance may require that he move to Mount Prospect. He has made no decision so far.

The board of directors of the Lutheran Charities have requested that he remain in his present work for that organization.

Rev. Mueller recently celebrated 40 years of his pastorate of the Mount Prospect church. He has been its only pastor since its organization in 1913.

John Beaty Writes Book On Marigolds

Ten thousand dollars for a new Marigold is being offered by the W. Atlee Burpee Co., Clinton, Iowa. A book telling how anyone can find or develop a white marigold for which this prize is offered was written by a McHenry county resident and copies have just been received from the publisher. The book is entitled "Plant Breeding For Everyone" and tells how to develop your own variety of fruits and flowers for pleasure and profit.

The author of the new book is John Y. Beaty, R.F.D. 1, Crystal Lake. Mr. Beaty, many years ago, was associated with the famous Luther Burbank and there learned of the successful methods of developing new varieties of plants.

The book tells of many cases, some of them local, in which people have found or developed new varieties in their gardens or orchards and received satisfactory prices for them.

Auto Accident Victim Recovering At Sherman Hospital In Elgin

Jim Schwartz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schwartz, Arlington Heights, who was injured in a head-on collision February 21, on Rt. 136, near Havana, Ill., is now in Sherman hospital, Elgin.

Following the accident Jim was taken to the Pekin, Ill., Public hospital, where he was treated for a broken left leg. He was removed by ambulance to Sherman hospital last week end.

Jim and two other boys, Don Hesch of Arlington Heights and Joseph Nicholson, Park Ridge, were returning to Culver-Stockton college, Canton, Missouri, after spending a week end at home, when the accident happened. Don was driving Jim's auto west on Rt. 136 when another auto driven by James Tripp of Warsaw, Ill., failed to make the turn and continued straight across the highway, headed toward an intersecting blacktop road. At the same time the Schwartz car was coming around the bend and was unable to stop.

Don and Joe were in the front seat and received cuts and bruises, but were able to go on to school the next day. The driver and passenger in the other car also received minor cuts and bruises. Jim will have to remain in the hospital for a couple more weeks and will not be able to return to college this year. His leg will have to be in a cast for several months.

Both cars were total losses and Tripp had no insurance on his car.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The value of humility, patience, and obedience in learning the nature of spiritual reality and in experiencing the divine healing power will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday. The Lesson-Sermon is entitled "Reality."

The challenging definition of worship given by the prophet Micah (6:6, 8) will be included in the readings from the Bible:

"Wherewith shall I come before the Lord, and bow myself before the high God? shall I come before him with burnt offerings, with calves of a year old? . . . He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?"

Among the selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following:

"What we most need is the prayer of fervent desire for growth in grace, expressed in patience, meekness, love, and good deeds. To keep the commandments of our Master and follow his example, is our proper debt to him and the only worthy evidence of our gratitude for all that he has done. Outward worship is not of itself sufficient to express loyal and heartfelt gratitude, since he has said: 'If ye love me, keep my commandments'" (4:3).

Chicago Bishop To Visit St. Philip's Church Sunday

RT. REV. F. G. BURRILL

Rt. Rev. Gerald Francis Burrill, Bishop of Chicago, will make his first visitation to St. Philip's Episcopal church, Palatine, Mar. 28 at 4 p.m. At the service, he will confirm a class and preach

Bishop Burrill assumed his office of Bishop of Chicago February 1 of this year, having been elected by the diocesan convention in October 1953. He was consecrated a bishop of the church in September of 1950, and served from then until this year as suffragan (assistant) bishop of Dallas, Texas. He brings with him a full background of priestly and pastoral experience, most of which was in New York and Pennsylvania.

Born in Bangor, Maine, Burrill received his degrees at the University of Maine and at General Theological Seminary in New York. Starting his ministry as priest-in-charge of All Saints church, Mariner's Harbor, Staten Island, N. Y., he went on to become the rector of St. Paul's church, Morrisania, N. Y. From St. Paul's he went to Christ church, Williamsport, Pa., where in 1950 he received a call to become the Suffragan Bishop of Dallas.

During the time that Bishop Burrill served in various parishes he was active in many additional offices. While in the Diocese of New York he was president of the Board of Religious Education and in the Diocese of Harrisburg he was a member of the Standing Committee and a deputy to the 1949 General Convention.

Being the chief pastor of Episcopalians in northern Illinois, one of the reasons for his visit is to meet and talk with the local flock. Bishop Burrill will also want to get a picture of the local parish situation — its spiritual health, its condition and its plans.

The confirmation class will include James Terrill, Elizabeth Henning, Judy Boughner, Jacqueline Seiler, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Smith, Robert White and John Moodie. A reception for the bishop and for the newly confirmed will take place immediately atfer the service in the parish hall. (AP

Libertyville First To Listen To Water Plan

Libertyville has become the first city to express official interest in the McCabe-Hooper plan for developing the Des Plaines River Valley. Under the plan water from Lake Michigan would be pumped into the river near Zion for consumption by cities downstream.

The action was taken after the Village Board heard the scheme explained by John D. Hooper, chief engineer of the Revere Engineering Co., of River Grove.

Cost of the water, treated, delivered and ready for use, would be 12 cents per 1,000 gallons daily, Hooper said.

In other water sources investigated by the village board, the approximate cost for the same amount of water has averaged 20-22 cents.

GAS FUMES HARM DYES

A few weeks ago, we mentioned gas fumes as a cause of fading in dyes, especially on rayons.

Dyes are, of course, subject to fading influences and hazards from many sources.

One of the most inescapable circumstances of life is heating in the home. Essential to food preparation and comfort, heat has, unfortunately for our apparel, a harmful effect on dyes.

Whatever the source of the flame, combustion produces gasses. The resulting oxides of nitrogen affect dyestuffs, cause bleaching, discoloration, fading and fabric damage.

The point is this.

Gas (acid) fading can occur on a whole garment, or on an exposed portion of it.

The purplish or violet discoloration which results cannot be remedied. Frankly, we don't really know what to suggest. To say, don't buy any rayon with blue in it would certainly be restrictive.

You can, however, delay gas fume fading — sometimes up to the time the garment is close to wearing out — BY KEEPING CLOSET DOORS CLOSED AT ALL TIMES. And, when buying, you might ask for the new "fade resistant" fabrics which are supposed to be quite good.

And — for good cleaning and sound advice

Mrs. Arthur R. Hanson VA. 4-4788

Feehanville School

Feehanville PTA election is over and we are happy to announce the following newly-elected officers: Mrs. Elizabeth Flink is our president, Mrs. Dorothy Karnuth is our vice-president, Mrs. Vera Brookhouzen is our secretary, and Mrs. Alma Mueller is our treasurer. Congratulations, ladies, and success. We know we will have another wonderful year with you at our head.

Some day soon our school will own its own visual aid machine. It has already been ordered by the PTA and we are awaiting delivery. In the meantime, Miss Tesch, the nurse, has provided one for us to use this past week.

Mrs. Rudy Gerstung, our Child Health conference chairman, gave a report on the progress of the conference which is held the third Tuesday of every month at 9:30 in the morning. All mothers in the district are welcome to bring their babies in for examination and shots. On April 15 the nurse would like to give all children between the ages of one and two years, the tuberculosis patch test. This would be at 3:30 in the afternoon and several days before the next health conference so that the doctor will be able to check the results of the test at the conference. Any mothers who would be interested in taking advantage of this, will they please call Mrs. Gerstung at Vanderbilt 4-2306.

Mrs. Irwin Phar, who is chairman in charge of the coming Fun Fair, reported on the plans in progress. May 22 is the day set, and it will be on a Saturday this year. A barbecue supper will be served. Mrs. Phar will appreciate all the cooperation we can give, not only with articles donated for the various booths, but ideas on skill games, help in setting up and running the booths, and on the thousand and one details connected with a projcet of this sort. As the plans progress, we will keep you informed on the delights in store for you when you attend the Fun Fair.

Mrs. Jack Dobbratz, Mrs. Harold Broberg and Mrs. Kenneth Karnuth took part in a little skit explaining the meaning of the Reapportionment bill. This bill is one of the controversial subjects which will be up for discussion at the PTA convention this year, and the skit helped to clarify it to our members. Miss Idyl Nipper is our delegate to this convention, and because she has worked so long on school affairs and is so familiar with the problems which beset the small school, the PTA assembly voted that she deal with any questions that come up, using her own judgment. We know her decisions will be to the best interests of our district.

There is another bill, now in the Committee of Judiciary, which should be of interest to parents. Fourth of July is coming with its tragic aftermath of crippled, blinded and burned children. This bill, the Fireworks bill, would prevent the transportation of fireworks into a state where the use of fireworks is prohibited. Those of you who are far-sighted enough to recognize the potential damage that can be caused by the indiscriminate use of fireworks by children, won't you please write the Honorable Senator Everett Dirksen, U. S. Senate, and advocate the passing of Senate Bill No. 2245 which is now In Committee of Judiciary. This is the Fireworks bill.

After the meeting was adjourned, refreshments were served. The refreshment committee this month served luscious chocolate cake, brought by Mrs. Rudolph Gerstung and Mrs. Kenneth Messenger, and delicious mock cheese cake, brought by Mrs. Adam Grenda. The table decorations, lovely, delicate daffodils, were made by Mrs. C. W Flink and Mrs. E. Brookhouzen. The door prize was won by Mrs. Jack Dobbratz.

Birthdays

We have youngsters who are in line for birthday congratulations this week: Charlotte Deering who was 12 on March 19, Arthur Leark who was eight on March 22, and Judy Lipnisky, who was nine on the nineteenth.

Sickness still plagues our students. On the sick list this week are Barbara Lude, Weldon Gerstung, Vaughn Campbell and Eric Flink. Hope they will soon be well and back in school.

We are glad to welcome the Unger children back in school again. Richard Unger attended a Chicago school while Marlene was in the hospital, so he didn't lose too much time in school, and Mrs. Unger tells us Marlene is making up for lost time, picking up her work quickly.

Girl Scout News

Mrs. Rita Badalamenti, Mrs. Marie Sandquist, Mrs. Eva Anderson, Mrs. Mae Schmitz, Mrs. Inez Hanson and Marlene Olson attended the Neighborhood meeting of the Scouts at the Scout house last Thursday. Marlene gave a report on the doings of the Girl Planning board and exhibited a project she had been working on, a little wooly dog. The leaders of both troops had several projects to exhibit and answered many questions on how they were made. Our two troops, No. 231 and No. 233, were also on the Refreshment committee, and a wide assortment of delicious homemade cookies were served.

Celebrates Birthday

Janis Le Forge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Le Forge, celebrated her seventh birthday Sunday. Janis and her family enjoyed dinner out and then went to the theater.

Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. C. Brazeau entertained Mrs. Brazeau's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Murray, at a wedding breakfast Sunday.

Mrs. Ulan and daughter, Dawn, have returned after spending two weeks in Pekin, Ill., with Mrs. Ulan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Strope.

Wilson Community

Hold Election

Five nominating petitions have been completed and turned in to the secretary of the school board, and these will be voted upon April 10. The polls will be open from noon until 7 and voting will take place at the school. Two board members will be elected for a three year term. The following names will appear on the ballot: J. M. Danielson, Dorothy Rice, William I. Casteel, Margaret Moskal and Nellie Neal.

For the benefit of those in the district who are not familiar with the candidates, perhaps the following information will be helpful.

Mr. Danielson has been a resident of the district for about six years and resides on Chestnut rd. He has been very interested in school board work and in a solution to the present problem.

Dorothy Rice has served one year on the school board and has proved a valuable member, attending many outside meetings in an effort to acquaint herself with the many rules and regulations governing school boards.

William Casteel is an attorney and has been attending school board meetings since moving to Chestnut rd. recently, and voluntarily assisting with legal advice, and obtaining information for the board in connection with the present problem. Virginia Terrace.

Margaret Moskal has been a resident of Rand rd. for about 14 years and has always been interested in school work, having been president of the PTA at Wilson school for about six years.

Nellie Neal moved to Pinegate Highlands several years ago and has been active in school organizations ever since. At present she is secretary of the PTA. She drives the school bus which serves many children.

A public meeting will be held at the school April 20 at 8 p.m. for the purpose of discussing Virginia Terrace and its effect on the school. For further details on this subject, see a complete article elsewhere in this paper.

Community Club

The community club will hold their regular monthly meeting March 26. Plans will be made for the monthly party to be held in the school basement April 3 at 8 p.m. The public is invited to attend and tickets will be on sale at the door.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sundquist of Palatine rd. had overnight guests last Monday from Somerset, England. Mrs. Luriel Lund and two children, Donna and Michael, arrived from England last Friday, and were met in New York by Donald Lund and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Landeland of Randcliff, Iowa. Enroute to Iowa, where they intend to made their home, they stopped to visit the Sundquists.

Cubs To Meet

There will be a Cub Scout pack meeting March 30 at the school. The theme for the month is "Air Fun," and the children will display airplanes, airports, etc. that they have made. Parents and friends are invited to attend.

P.S. Co. To Give Credits

Commonwealth Edison Company and its Public Service Company division have announced they would credit their electric and gas customers with an amount equal to the recent rate increase for the month of January.

Beginning with meter readings on and after February 1, the company had been applying the new rates to service from January 1 in accordance with the Illinois Commerce Commission's order of January 16, 1954. Under a new agreement, electric customers of Edison and Public Service and gas customers of Northern Illinois Gas Company, a new Edison subsidiary, who have paid the higher charges for January, will receive credit on a subsequent bill.

The amount of credit each customer will receive will depend on when his meter was read after February 1. Officials said that delay in application of the new rates from January 1 to February 1 would cost the companies an estimated $1,500,000 in revenues.

Announcements of High School Candidates

H. C. Kibbie

H. C. Kibbie, 202 S. Vail st., Arlington Heights, Illinois has filed as candidate for member of the board of education, high school district 214.

Mr. Kibbie believes that the public has to be sold objectively; that the school belongs to the people and there must be a cooperative plan in solving the high school problems.

His qualifications are: Bachelor of Science, Northwestern University; Master of Science, University of Illinois; graduate student, University of Chicago. His majors are commerce, administration, science and education.

Mr. Kibbie is a veteran of both World War I and World War II.

His occupational experiences include teacher, supervisor and administrator in public education 28 years; curriculum coordinator Navy service schools in electricity and electronics; manager, tool purchase department of a large organization in Chicago; training program covered veterans' electrical apprentice training, Chicago; telegraph operator and office manager.

His experience on public boards and committees: Mr. Kibbie has served on many public boards and committees. He has been chairman of such civic groups as board of church stewards, finance committee, a village board of trustees. He has been a member of an Illinois Selective Service board, a local ration board, an AAA survey committee, the executive committee, Western Division I.E.A.

Richard L. Kimbrough

In filing his petition as a candidate for the Arlington Township High School Board, Mr. Kimbrough stated:

"After many years of active interest in civic affairs, I am firm in the belief the office carrying the greatest responsibility to the public is that of a member of a school board. And with the complicated and manifold problems facing us today, such a board must act constructively, decisively, and objectively, enlisting the help and cooperation of all citizen's to provide the best possible educational facilities, including physical equipment, teaching personnel and academic program."

After graduating in architectural design from Harvard University in 1933, Mr. Kimbrough entered the structural engineering field. In the late thirties, he became interested in advertising and public relations, and has followed that vocation for the past fifteen years. He is now advertising manager for the Continental Casualty Company of Chicago.

Before coming to Mt. Prospect in 1950, Mr. Kimbrough was active in school affairs in Toledo, Ohio and Tulsa, Oklahoma. He is presently treasurer of the Mt. Prospect P.T.A. The Kimbrough's now reside at 114 South Louis Street in Mt. Prospect. They have two sons, Richard and John, are students at Arlington Heights High School and a daughter, Sue, is in the fourth grade at Central School.

Mrs. R. L. Fontaine

"I have no axe to grind but that of education," Mrs. Alma C. Fontaine said.

Mrs. Fontaine, a resident of Mount Prospect for seven years, is completing her sixth year on the District No. 57 board of education. A graduate of the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia, she holds the degree of B. S. in Economics and Business Administration.

She started service on the Mount Prospect board in 1948 when there were less than 400 pupils enrolled in one school. Today the enrollment, in three schools, is 1254. In 1948 thre were 8 teachers; today, there are 42.

During Mrs. Fontaine's tenure, Mount Prospect's original school was doubled in size through the building of an addition begun some time earlier. Two eight-room feeder schools, Lincoln and Fairview, were built. A six-room addition to Lincoln is now under construction.

"Since I have been on the board," Mrs. Fonatine said, "its members have had to meet constant problems of growth and expansion, as well as formulate long-range plans for the all-over educational picture of the school district, including sites for location of other feeder schools."

"I HAVE LISTENED to a parade of architects, leaned over blueprints with building contractors, questioned bond salesmen, visited other schools for architectural and building ideas."

She has attended at least two board meetings a month, committee meetings, association and area meetings, teachers' meetings, teachers' workshops, village board meetings, PTA meetings, student government meetings, school classes, and organization meetings to explain bond issues. In addition, she has read textbooks, kept up to date on education books and trade publications, greeted new teachers and met with kindergarten mothers and teachers' salary committees.

Two prominent women's groups have swung behind Mrs. Alma C. Fontaine, retiring member of the Mount Prospect school board, in her candidacy for election to the Arlington Heights high school board of education.

Local groups of the American Association of University Women and the Daughters of the American Revolution pledged their support to Mrs. Fontaine in the school election April 10.

The Northwest Suburban branch of the AAUW voted unanimously at a membership meeting March 18 to support Mrs. Fonatine as a "well-qualified candidate." Mrs. George E. Bailey, president, announced this week.

Although it is the AAUW's policy to endorse candidates for nonpartisan boards, this is the first branch has ever extended such an endorsement.

"We're going to do all we can to help 'Pat' Fontaine," Mrs. Bailey said.

MEMBERS OF DAR'S Eli Skinner chapter signed Mrs. Fontaine's nominating petitions at a membership meeting, Mrs. Marion Grigsby, Regent of the group, said.

"We're very proud of Pat Fontaine and we're back of her," Mrs. Grigsby said. "We think she has done a beautiful job as a member of the grade school board, and that has made her all the better equipped to serve on the high school board. She's a conscientious, capable person."

Mrs. Fontaine, a member of both organizations, said she welcomed their support and the backing of "every parent and citizen who wants to cherish, support and serve education." Pointing to the fact that she decided more than a year ago to run for the high school board and filed her nominating petitions February 23, she stressed the fact that she is an independent dandidate.

"A school board member is a public servant," Mrs. Fontaine said. "I believe, with six years experience, 1800 hours of apprenticeship and service, with both day time and night time available, with a philosophy of consecration, that I am qualified to serve the people of this district as a member of the high school board."

Kenneth Dougan

Kenneth E. Dougan of Arlington Heights has announced his candidacy for re-election to the Arlington Heights Township High School Board of Education. A resident of the high school district for the past eight years, he was first elected to the board in 1952 representing at that time the unincorporated area of Elk Grove. Upon moving into the village he was appointed to fill the balance of the term of Martin F. Maher who resigned last June.

Working on behalf of public education has been Dougan's principal activity apart from business for the past five years. He served for three years as President of grade school District 59 in Elk Grove during which time the building was expanded, District 61 was annexed at its own request, teachers were placed on salary schedule and standards were raised, and the overall educational program was expanded.

In 1952 he served both districts, grade and high school. He has spoken on behalf of the high school before many local organizations and is now in his second year as a member of the advisory committee of the Tri-County School Boards association where he recently led a panel discussion on the financial problems of suburban schools. He has also bee nactive in Christian Education in churches here and in Des Plaines.

DOUGAN RESIDES at 1103 E. Euclid with his wife, Esther, and three children, two boys and a girl. He was born in St. Louis, Missouri and educated in the public schools there where his father was a school principal for many years. A sister is Professor of English at Washburn Municipal University in Topeka, Kansas. He was graduated from Washington U. in St. Louis and has an M.A. degree from the University of Cincinnati.

He served three years during the war as an officer in the Navy and received an official citation from the Commandant of the Ninth Naval Dist. for administrative work in material inspection.

He is employed as Personnel Director in Chicago by Time Inc., publishers of Time, Life and Fortune, and is responsible for employment, salary administration, employee relations, training and related activities. He is also in charge of similar activities in Denver, Colo. He has had seventeen years of experience in this field.

Based upon his experience and background, supporters of Mr. Dougan's candidacy believe that he will have the support and endorsement of many citizens throughout the district who have followed school affairs at both the grade and high school levels in recent years.

Insurance Man Wins Membership In Quarter Million Section

Victor H. Beisler of Arlington Heights has been awarded membership for 1954 in the Quarter Million Section of the President's club of The Great-West Life Assurance Company.

The President's club is composed of leading representatives of the company who, in the past year, have distinguished themselves through outstanding sales accomplishments and maintenance of high standards in the conduct of their business. Its members are well qualified by experience and training to give their clients mature counsel and efficient service.

News of Elk Grove

Upper Grade Party

Upper grades had a school party from 2:30-5:15 last Friday. The auditorium was attractively decorated in red and white streamers by Mrs. Gwynn's eighth graders. Mr. Turner's seventh graders arranged the program. Special credit goes to Karen Fischer, Bernice Pfluger and Emily Riemer for their preparations and MC-ing the program. Refreshments were taken care of by Mrs. King's sixth graders. The student council provided the pop, and many generous mothers contributed delicious cakes.

The three teachers, principal and Mr. Schulze put on a short skit about the amusing effects produced by twisting the television dial from program to program. The pupils' amatuer hour consisted of performances by Fred Sydow, accordion solo; seventh grade girls quartette, Janet Cosman, Karen, Bernice and Emily; Belwin trio, Bob Blanchard, clarinet, Jerry Peters, trombone and Fred Sydow, trumpet; and a humorous skit by Jay Klamer, Paul Kluge, Leonard Roesler and Bill Walden of the seventh grade. The skit was judged the winner by the audience.

Dotty Schulze beat out Emily to win the musical chairs contest after they had eliminated all the boys. A unique hat contest was won by Carol Loeding with a large straw hat with an assortment of fishing pole, monkey , banana, frog and ribbons attached. A decorated lamp shade won second prize for Bob Bollmann.

The dance contest found Kathleen Gates and John Stockham the smoothest with Betty Rawlings and Carl Popp edging out Janice Goede and Larry D'Angelo for second. The jitterbug contest was won by a couple of lively eighth graders, Sylvia Roesler and Kay Bohnert.

Dances featured were both boy's and girl's choice, broom, stocking, shoe scrambel choice, bunny hop, Mexican hat dance, hokey ppkey, square and the Virginia reel.

Janet Lueth, a former pupil, was a guest as were some of the other teachers for a while after school.

Another party is being considered for an evening late in April.

Teachers Work and Play

At the last half day teachers' meeting a pot luck lunch was arranged by the secretary, Mrs. Laird. A surprise birthday cake was presented to the popular custodian, Mr. Schulze. The cake was even green in remembrance of the day, St. Patrick's day.

Then the teachers worked on much later than usual to determine how each fits into the overall picture of preparing a child for each succeeding grade. Major emphasis was given to English, spelling, reading and arithmetic.

Elections

Elsewhere in this issue is a detailed explanation of the importance of approving a school tax rate increase. The election is for these tax rates and both Elk Grove and high school board of education candidates. The only two men filing for the two vacancies on the Elk Grove board are Frank Kessler for another term and Henry Bollmann to fill the vacancy with the expiration of Fred Schulze's term. The only two known candidates for the high school board at the time of this writing are Kenneth Dougan and Mrs. Alma Fontaine. Mr. Dougan has been on the high school board in the past and is better known as the former president of the Elk Grove school board.

Signs of Spring

Birds are seen in mid-air all over Mrs. Cashman's room. Skillful suspension of these first grade works of art has made a realistic spring scene indoors.

Eighth Grade Trip

Eighth graders are touring the tremendous new post office in Chicago Friday morning, eating lunch in a loop cafeteria and taking in "Cinerama" in the afternoon. Since none have seen "Cinerama," they are eagerly looking forward to this. Mrs. Goede and Mrs. Bohnert are mothers accompanying the group.

Community News

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schoppe had a party last Friday.

John Popp and children, Carl and Theona, went to Milwaukee Saturday.

The eighth grade is selling all occasion cards. They are doing fine as their total sales now exceeds $50.

Mrs. Christ Harnack died March 20 at the age of 91. She was the great grandma of Robert, Alice, Kenneth and Larry Bollmann.

Phyllis Peterson's new puppy is named Tippy.

Rusty Walter has a birthday party Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sonnen left for Mexico Saturday.

New Barrington Plant

Rapid progress is being made at American Can Company's new research center on North Northwest highway, Barrington.

Footings have been poured for the first section, the office area, and forms were being put in place for the foundation walls last week. This building covers approximately 15,000 square feet.

Meantime excavating for the basements of the second and third sections is being carried on and walls may be poured next week.

Two test wells have been sunk to a depth of 175 feet and it is believed a satisfactory supply of water has been reached. The company wells will be used for air conditioning.

Back Home

Mrs. W. Langhoff of 2300 Sigwalt has come back home after spending 9 days in St. Joseph's hospital in Elgin where she underwent a major operation. Mrs. R. Paczynski, Mrs. Langhoff's mother from Guttenburg, Iowa, is staying with the Langhoffs until Mrs. Langhoff is able to get about better. Mrs. Langhoff wishes to thank friends and relatives for the cards, letters, gifts, and flowers she received while in the hospital.

Red Cross

If you have not made your contribution to the Red Cross please get in contact with the representative for your area and make an offering no matter how small.

Newcomers

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Soper of 2200 Sigwalt st. are the parents of three lovely children Susan, 5, Ralph Jr., 3½, and Daniel, 17 months old.

They love having their own home and although it has its trials now they are sure that it will someday be worth all the inconveniences that now present themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Slaninka, 2102 Sigwalt st., have been under the weather for the last two months. It seems that one illness after another has fallen upon the family. Janet Lynn, 6, who attends the Palatine kindergarten, and Raymond, 2½, comprise the rest of the family. Mr. Slaninka, a television technician for Sentinel Television in Evanston, is interested in photography.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Kocian, 2014 Sigwalt st., are originally from Prospect Heights, but Mrs. Kocian attended Arlington Heights high school and for that reason always had a soft spot in her heart for the town. Their only daughter, Beverly, 2, has a pet dog named Sparky. Mr. Kocian is a tool and die maker for the Skil Tool Co. The Kocians' hobby is working with wood. It seems they made many pieces of their own furniture. Bowling and golf play an important part in the Kocians' recreations.

Yearling Baseball Teams Working Out At Arlington Heights

Sophomore and freshman baseball teams are just beginning workouts this week, with the freshmen reporting Wednesday. Coach Maurice Klotz will be directing the first year team.

Coach "Bus" Ormsbee has reported four boys looking acceptable as pitchers, including Alan Smeby, Jim Wille, Don Getts and Peterson. Jack Ebert is one of two teachers receiving most notices to date.

Opening game will be after Easter, with all schools in the West Suburban conference other than York listed on the schedule. Official dates will be released by athletic director Wally Grace within the next two weeks.

MAC SAYS

BY G. A. McELROY

THE DARK HORSE came through to win the state tournament when Mt. Vernon's hot shooting carried them through over Pinckneyville and DuSable, the two top rated teams in the state. While it was our opinion that DuSable could beat Mt. Vernon four out of five times, they certainly came through to win the big one that counted and prevent Chicago from getting their first championship.

DuSable lacked the bench strength needed for a champ and when Karl Dennis went out on fouls early in the third period, the difference in defensive rebounding gave Mt. Vernon the edge on chances to score.

One thing was very evident from watching the semi-finals and finals on TV, and that was basketball has become an offensive game with little regard for defense, except to rebound the opponent's missed shots. No state tournament had better shooting, or less good defensive work in its final day than the one this year. The state final in Indiana, supposed to be the capital of high school ball, according to the Hoosiers and not the Illini, was, in contrast, a control type of game with a 32-30 score.

The winner, Milan, smallest school ever to win the Indiana title, had a 23-17 lead at the half and stalled most of the remaining time without even tallying a field goal in the final quarter.

In fact, they waited with a tie score in the closing minutes and took the winning shot with five seconds to play.

It reminds us of the way Indiana University, with the great Bob Leonard directing play, on two occasions this season gambled on waiting for one final shot so near the close of the game that the opponents could not come back to tie. Both times it worked because the opposition did not dare try to get the ball for fear of fouling and giving the game away on the two free throw penalty.

The national basketball coaches association has recommended to the NCAA rules committee that the one and one rule on free throws be thrown out for next year. In its place they suggest a bonus free throw for the entire game whereby on every foul, if the free throw is missed, the ball is in play, but if it is made, the player gets another throw as a bonus. This, they feel, would put the premium on expert free throwing. Sounds to us like a desirable change and we hope the high schools give it a try as well as the colleges.

BARRINGTON DID NOT get into the semi-finals and bring home a trophy, but they could not have come closer. The Bronchos played as well as their most ardent supporters could have hoped for, and almost won an overtime quarter final game from a much taller opponent. It was an unusual record for so small a school in its first trip to the state.

Roy DeWitz of the Bronchos was named to the second all-tournament team, the fourth all-state team, and the first all-suburban area team during the past week.

However, the playing of little Elmer Savely in the state tournament deserves special mention along with that of DeWitz.

Much has been written on these sport pages about the exploits of Dick Winterbauer, Arlington's great shot putter. This past weekend Dick tossed the 12 pound ball 57' 2" at the Evanston indoor relays for the mark that exceeds the official state record by several inches. There has been little mention of the person who has been coaching and working with Winterbauer and other weight men at Arlington Heights.

Bill Beckman has developed the best shot put man in the history of Illinois high school track through a scientific study of this event and much hard and patient work with a really fine all round athlete.

We hope Dick cracks the state record in the state meet because such an honor could not go to a finer pair of young men than athlete-Winterbauer and coach-Beckman.

COACH WELTY AT PALATINE has only a handful of juniors and seniors on his track squad this year, but he has class among his older boys and the benefit of numbers among the sophomores. It looks like Palatine has more first place material this year without much decrease in the number capable of winning places among schools of their own size.

The showing at Naperville was outstanding. A more severe test comes Saturday at the Oak Park Relays where the finest in the state compete.

It has been a real event when Palatine has won any medals in this the biggest high school indoor meet in the country, particularly inasmuch as small schools have no indoor track facilities. The Pirates have hopes of scoring with Norman Stenzel in the hurdles and a fast team competing in the "B" medley event. The outdoor season for Palatine opens April 1 in a meet at home with Glenbrook.

RAY DEGREEFF, Arlington's cage mentor a year ago, has completed his first year at St. Francis Borgia high school at Washington, Mo., a season that started slow, but finished with 12 wins in 13 games . . . Over-all mark was 21-8, including four losses by three points or less . . .

Playing independent schedule, Ray's boys finished first, second and third in four tournaments, averaging 58 points a game . . .

Winter sports letters at Illinois were given to Jim Dutcher of Downers Grove for basketball and Bill Shewchuk of Downers in fencing . . . Frosh numerals went to Norb Sargent of Prospect Heights in wrestling and Donald Bender of York in fencing . . . Arlington's Tom Rowader is one of three lettermen reporting to Illini golf coach for spring action with opening match April 10 against Bradley . . . Jimmy Stewart, who played the role of Monty Stratton in the movies, reportedly has the inside track for the lead role in "The Connie Mack Story" . . . The Pittsburgh Pirates plan to save $5,000 by traveling by air 75% of the t ime this season, according to the Sporting News . . .

Umpires' And Players' Clinics Schedules For Heights Little League

Two clinics, one for umpires and one for players, have been announced by the Arlington Heights Little League for the next two week ends.

Managers and umpires of last year, plus other adults who wish to help this season, are asked to report this Saturday morning, March 27, from 9-12 for the officials' clinic when questions will be answered and demonstrations given. Men intending to officiate both Little League and Pony League games in Arlington Heights are urged to be present.

The players' clinic is slated for the following Saturday, April 3, in the old gym at the high school, from 9-12.

Boys interested in Little League are invited to attend, plus the fathers if they wish. Instruction will be given on how to hit, pitch, field, etc.

13 Matches For Tennis At Arlington

Twenty-two boys turned out this week for frosh-soph tennis at Arlington Heights high school under the direction of Coach Ken Schaller, indicative of better things to come. The past two years the Heights netmen have not won many matches, but with the large turnout of younger players this season, tennis may become a winning sport in the future.

A schedule of thirteen matches, with one to be added to get away from the unlucky angle, has been announced. In addition to the league slate, Coach Schaller's boys will meet Niles, Crystal Lake and Leyden.

Five senior lettermen will form the nucleus of the squad, including Ray Birkholz, Don Hutchinson, Doug Morrissey, Marshall Sherrill and Tom Livingston. As soon as weather permits, the squad will move outside.

Arlington Gymnasts To Be Host Friday To Senn Of Chicago

Arlington Heights high school gymnasts will play host to Senn of Chicago Friday afternoon at 4 p.m. Senn won the last event between the two schools in convincing fashion, and should repeat that performance this time. Competition will be in three classes, though Heights lacks enough manpower to compete in the championship division.

Entries in the intermediate division, according to Coach Gay Hughes, include John Koeppen, Dick Neiland, Dick Kimbrough, Bob Baas and either Fritz Snyder or Tom Pendleton.

Heights Golfers At Old Orchard Again, For Free

Arlington Heights high school golf team will again be able to use Old Orchard golf course, free of charge, according to an announcement released by Coach Curtis Larsen. Mrs. Wickersham owner of the 27 hole layout, has consented to the high school's using the course without compensation for the seventh straight year, thus saving taxpayers hundreds of dollars.

In addition, Ben Riley, professional at the club, is certain to be of help to Larsen's team in giving hints and advice to boys requesting it.

THE SCHEDULE, including 19 matches, was released this week. Three lettermen are back, including seniors Dick Hauff and George Skelton, plus sophomore Bob McDonald.

The squad has been out on the high school football practice field every day of good weather the past week. Boys have also been "in the tunnel" under the gymnasium steps, hitting plastic balls for workout.

In addition to West Suburban league competition, matches include Palatine, Waukegan, Glenbrook, Niles, Leyden and the district.

Blackhawks Whip Lake Zurich, 88-61

Wheeling Blackhawks won their fifth straight North Shore league game and their twelfth consecutive start when they handed Lake Zurich A.C.'s, an 88 to 61 defeat at Arlington Heights last Sunday afternoon. It was the 'Hawks seventh league win against one set-back and their 32nd victory of the season.

Five of Coach Gene Bell's boys hit the double diget scoring totals. The list was headed by Ted Warning who hit 8 field goals and added 4 charity throws for 20 points. Warning was followed by Vic "Bevo" Heimsoth with 18, George "Boom - Boom" Newman with 16, Viv "Pop" Lesch with 15, and Captain Hans Schmidt with 13. Mike Rizzo was high for the losers with 15 points.

Palatine Sixth At Naperville

TABLE OF POINTS

Bloom	54 1/2	Wheaton	10 1/5
LaGrange	52 1/2	Riverside	10
York	28	Naperville	5 1/2
E. Aurora	23 9/10	Downers	4
Glenbard	19	Ottawa	2 1/5
Palatine	16 1/2	Glenbro'k	0
Hinsdale	13 7/10	Bensenvil	0

Bloom won their third straight Naperville invitational indoor relays championship Friday night with 54½ points to nose out La Grange with 52½. Palatine made a fine showing, their best in a dozen years at this meet, finishing sixth with 16½ points.

For the Pirates Norman Stenzel took a second in the high hurdles and third in the lows. Jim Hess, sophomore sprinter, took a very close second in the 50 yard dash. Carl Nuss tied for fifth in the shot an event where Tom Peters of Glenbard broke the meet record with a put of 53'10½". Palatine tied with Riverside-Brookfield for third in the medley relay. Palatine runners were Alan Eck, Jim Hess, Dave Cornwell, and Paul Hess. Palatine has high hopes of some of these boys placing in the Oak Park Relays this coming Saturday. Norman Stenzel in the hurdles and the medley relay team running in class "B" are the best bets for the Pirates.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS passed up an invitation to compete at Naperville and sent their two shot putters, Dick Winterbauer and Dennis Striegel, to the Evanston indoor meet. Winterbauer broke the state record with a toss of 57' 2" and Streigel, a sophomore, took third.

The official state record made in the state meet in 1950 was 56' 5½ inches by John Bauer of Benton who now is on the University of Illinois track team. No records are official state marks unless made in a state meet.

Shot Put: Won by Tom Peters, Glenbard, 53 feet 10½ inches; Ted Caiazza, La Grange, second; George Prehm, York, third; Roy Emerson, Glenbard, fourth; tie for fifth between Carl Nuss, Palatine, and Don Kane, East Auroa. (Record, breaking mark of 53 feet 4½ inches set by Paskavan, La Grange, in 1937.)

Broad Jump: Won by Ron Schilling, Bloom, 19 feet 6½ inches; William Ford, East Aurora, second; Richard Kakl, Hinsdale, third; William Caffey, La Grange, fourth; Gene Honeyman, Ottawa, fifth.

50 Yard Dash: Won by Richard Jaki, Hinsdale; Jack Hess, Palatine, second; Dan Cerwin, Riverside - Brookfield, third; Bob Buzeman, East Aurora, fourth; William Caffey, La Grange, fifth. Time, :05.6.

Medley Relay: Won by La Grange (Jim Trippel, Henry McKinney, Ed Gould, Mike Barry); Bloom, second; tie for third between Riverside-Brookfield and Palatine; York, fifth. Time 4:15.4.

High Jump: Tie for first between Harold Caffey, La Grange, and William Cooney, Bloom, 5 feet 10½ inches; tie for third between Stan Alford; Dave Timok, East Aurora.

Pole Vault: Won by Warren Tarr, York, 11 feet 6 inches; Al Tersiani, Bloom, second; tie for second among Dick Wade, Ottawa; Tadd Dell, Wheaton; Bobb Matthies, Hinsdale; Dave Timok, East Aurora; Jim Perham, East Aurora.

Mile Run: Won by Fred Kogler, Bloom; Les Long, Glenbard, second; Glenn Collins, Wheaton, third; Bob Stiven, La Grange, fourth; Joe White, La Grange, fifth. Time, 4:53.2.

Eight Lap Relay: Won by York (Phil Cartwright, Rip Miller, Ron Etherton, Bruce Williams); La Grange, second; East Aurora, third; Bloom, fourth; Downers Grove, fifth. Time, 2:03.4.

Tri-City Women Golfers Luncheon

Tri-City women's golf league will have its spring luncheon on Wednesday, April 7 at 12:30 p.m., at Sportsman's Country club, Dundee rd. in Northbrook.

Cards are being mailed to all league members. Anyone interested in attending the luncheon may call Mrs. C. V. Palmer, social chairman, at Clearbrook 3-6326 or Mrs. Gail Smith president, at Clearbrook 3-3064.

Roselle Golf League To Organize April 8

Organization meeting of the Roselle golf league is scheduled for April 8 at the Roselle village hall, starting at 8 p.m.

The league may add another team or two this season, so anyone wishing to compete is urged to be present at the meeting, or call Glen Roloff at Roselle 3152.

35 Out, 15 Lettermen For Heights Baseball

Little League Sign-Up In Mount Prospect Saturday 2-5 P. M.

This Saturday, March 27, Little League baseball registrations will be made at the Mount Prospect village hall from 2:00 to 5:00 p. m.

Each boy must be accompanied by a parent and present a copy of his birth certificate. Boys eight through twelve will be eligible as long as their thirteenth birthday occurs after July 31, 1954.

Boys eight through ten will try out Saturday, April 10, and boys eleven and twelve Saturday, April 17. These tryouts will be in the ball field at Busse and School sts., Mount Prospect.

Plans for the Little League dance being held to finance the substantial amount of equipment necessary for official Little League baseball, are completed.

Tickets are being sold at $1.50 each.

18 Report For Palatine Golf

Eighteen potential par - busters reported to Coach Art Zimmer at the first organizational golf meeting held March 16 at Palatine high school. The schedule calls for 13 matches, along with the Northwest conference meet and the district. Palatine's home course will again be Inverness Golf Club.

Prospect for this year's varsity are bright, while the Frosh-Soph squad is an unknown quantity. Returning varsity lettermen are Dick "Tinker" Meyer, Pete Abramson, John Goetz and Gerry McElroy. John Goodwille and Fred Breitling are returning minor award winners. Only Chuck James and John Roehr are missing from last year's varsity squad which captured the 1953 Northwest Conference championship.

The complete list of boys reporting follows:

Bob Englehardt, freshman; Noel Anderson, Fred Breitling, Dave French, John Goodwille, Dave Abramson, Bill Taylor, sophomores.

This 7 Is Unlucky

Thinking about the Sweet Sixteen brought seven errors to one sportswriter on these pages last week, some of which should be corrected.

Jay Vawter stood 6'7½" in high school, not 6'6".

That was George, not Gene Davajon eating the spaghetti.

Heights frosh-soph wrestlers had an 8-6 mark, not 10-5, for the season giving the double squad a 17-12 figure, not 19-11.

Cage Scoring King To Face Trotters April 4

Chicago will get its first look at the greatest scorer in all the history of major college basketball on Sunday, April 4, when Frank Selvy of Furman university lines up with the 1954 College All-Americans to face the Harlem Globetrotters at Chicago Stadium.

Selvy, who broke every official listed NCAA individual record this year, takes his place on the most powerful collegiate squad in the brilliant five-year history of the coast-to-coast "world series" against the Globetrotters.

SELVY, an honor student and president of the Furman senior class, rewrote the entire record book in his dazzling career. He set a new standard for one game this year with 100 points. He set a new one-season total record with 1,209 in 29 games, an all-time high average of 41.7.

Across his career, in three seasons, he whipped in 2,538 points, narly 400 more than any other player ever made. His three-year average of 32.5 was eight full points above the old record held by Clyde Lovellette, Kansas star now with the Minneapolis Lakers.

Ten For McCarthy

The government can ask to see your tax records up to five years after you file that return. So it's a good idea to keep them around for that long.

Fifteen games on the schedule with the opener just a week away. That's the story of the Arlington Heights high school baseball team now in spring training within the walls of the gymnasium.

Coach Howard Lester hasn't been able to do much except work with pitchers and catchers inside, but was hoping to get outside the middle of this week before the opener, a warm-up game with Niles Thursday, April 1. In event of postponement the game will be played April 2, or cancelled.

Eight home contests, and seven away are planned for the local nine, plus district play the week of May 7-15.

NINE LETTERMEN will probably form the basis of the squad for Coach Lester, headed by three moundsmen, Ed Linneman, Mike Shanklin and junior Wayne Brumm. Three other boys who look promising include Doug Winkelman, Bob Charles and Bob Raven, senior lefty. Winkelman and Charles are juniors.

Lettermen in the outfield include Bob Dotts, who doubles behind the plate, Jack Sieburg and Dave Ryden, possibly better known for his twirling. Two juniors, Denny Maher and Jerry Sauter, show promise as outfielders.

Three Arlington Boys In Oak Park Relays Saturday

Three Cardinals of Arlington Heights high school will compete in Saturday's indoor Oak Park Relays. Coach Russ Attis has named Dick Winterbauer and Dennis Striegel to compete in the shot, and Dick Michalski the pole vault.

The smallest track squad in history is keeping Coach Attis anything but happy this year, with only four lettermen back. Russ has been hoping more boys will indicate interest in the sport when the squad officially goes outside.

Actually, weight coach Bill Beckman has as many boys out for shot and discus (soon) than there are boys competing for other events.

FOUR VETERANS working out thus far include Dick Winterbauer in the shot, Dick Michalski in the pole vault, John Glueckert in the hurdles and Bob Frisk in the sprints. Bob Ellis has been forced to withdraw due to injury, while Carroll Werner has been anything but active, and is not considered an official member of the team.

The squad has been running laps outside when weather has permitted, otherwise the school halls have been echoing to the patter of big feet long after classes are over.

Still sick and ailing are Don Drever, cross country runner in the mile, and Ed Friesendorf in the half mile.

On the schedule, released this week, are Palatine, Hinsdale and Riverside Relays, conference meet, triangular with Maine and Niles, plus duals with Hinsdale, Waukegan, Downers, Palatine, York and Glenbard.

Palatine Cagers Started Slow, But Finished Strong

Palatine's basketball season, just completed was a highly successful one through it started out as one of the poorest in the history of the school up to the Christmas holidays. The Pirates lost eight out of their first nine games and seven home doubleheaders up to the vacation period but they made an about face and won 11 out of the remaining 13 on their schedule. In the regional tournament they out-classed Ela-Vernon and then lost 71-55 to the state tournament Barrington five.

One of the highlights of the season was the regaining of the of the "Sleigh Bells" trophy from Arlington Heights in a 61-59 thriller on the Arlington court.

After the holidays Palatine lost only to Grant and Antioch in close games and these two teams were the only ones to finish above the Pirates in the Northwest Conference standings as they tied for the championship. The Palatine team had a 9-5 Northwest record, scoring 803 points to opponents 702. Grant was the only team in the league to beat Palatine twice and one of those was by one point.

COACH "GENE" MOYLAN'S team was the best comeback squad in Palatine history and no Palatine team ever fought back harder in the closing stages of the game when they were behind than did this year's outfit. The playing of such teams as Hampshire, Dundee, Leyden, West Aurora, and DuSable early in the season hurt the won and loss record but had a lot to do with developing the team for their fine performances through January and Febrary.

After the holidays when "Tinker" Meyer joined the team and gave the morale a lift, the lineup for the most part was Pete Abramson and Lawrence Hapke at forwards; Bill Breyer at center; and Richard Meyer and Alan Eck at Guards.

John Goetz shared time at both guard spots and Kenneth Hahn fulled in both at forward and center. This group did most of the playing and is the list of letter winners. All are seniors except Eck and Goetz. Breyer was high scorer for the season with 260 points with Eck second with 256. Abramson had 224, Goetz 164, Hapke 132, Meyer 120, and Hahn 95. No others exceeded 20 points. Alan Eck was selected by the coaches of the conference to the second all-league team.

The team elected "Tinker" Meyer captain at the close of the season and Coach Moylan appointed Lawrence Hapke to this honor so the two boys are co-captians. This was the best shooting team ever to play for Palatine with a 34.7% average from the field. It was a very satisfying season for all concerned and attendance at games picked up all through the season with receipts averaging over $300 a game exclusive of Palatine students.

PALATINE frosh-sophs, coached by Art Zimmer had an in and out season, winning six while losi - 16. The Pirates finished fifth in the conference with a 5-9 record and beat only Libertyville in games outside the league. The inconsistency of the sophomore players made it hard for the coach to get together a regular lineup upon which he could depend.

The team shooting of 27% from the field and 43% on free throws was below par in this age of high scoring basketball and was their chief handicap.

The Pirates seldom looked bad against the good teams but played their poorest ball in most cases against the weakest opposition thus hurting the won and lost record.

Ormel Prust with 139 points and Bob Kolze with 101 were the top scorers and were carry over players form the team of the previous year. Players participating in more than half the quarters for the season were Prust, Kolze, Jim Hess, Jeff Lehmann, Bob Hamilton, Bob Coates, Steve Cornwell, and George Beyer all of whom are sophomores.

Bits O' Business

The shoe industry is stepping up production to meet what its leaders call "the first sales boom in years" . . . Several retailer groups anticipate a swift extension of self-service in many non-food lines. Why? They point to high operating costs and the changing shopping habits of customers conditioned by super-market buying . . . A recent poll of employes reading 84 company magazines brought a startling result. Where classified ad or "swap" columns existed (in 37.5 per cent of the publications), they were rated "best read" and "most enjoyed" . . . One company estimates that it costs $5,429 to hire a successful salesman today. This cost includes the expense of recruiting, screening, testing and training the salesman, and covers his compensation during the training period . . . Plastic "squeeze" bottles have passed what packagers call their trial period. In '54, production is expected to reach 250,000,000 units.

Bears Add To Defensive Strength

The Bears have added two more new players to give further substance to the defensive end spot already strengthened by the signing of Duke's All-American Ed (Country) Meadows. The latest newcomers are John Hudson of Rice, the Bears' No. 6 draft choice at the January National Football League meeting, and Bill Samar, who recently completed two years in the Marine Corps after his graduation from the University of Pittsburgh.

Hudson, 6-1, 215 pounds and 20 years old, won All-Southwest conference guard honors at Rice last season. However, his coach, Jess Neely, said he had even greater possibilities as a defensive end and the Bears will use him there. Two Bear representatives saw Hudson play in Rice's victory over Alabama in the Cotton Bowl game at Dallas and were impressed by his speed and aggressiveness.

Samar, 6-2, 212 pound end, is a veteran of Korean action who got in some service football at Quantico in 1952 and at Camp Lejeune in 1953. At Lejeune, one of his teammates was Ray Smith, the brilliant backfield prospect also signed by the Bears. Samar earned All-Western Pennsylvania honors while at Pittsburgh. He has played on both offense and defense.

Cavaretta To Start Banks And Baker In The Infield

The Cubs' National League debut for 1954 is still three weeks away, and Phil Cavarretta has yet to announce his Opening Day lineup, but if it doesn't feature Ernie Banks at shortstop and Gene Baker at second base, a lot of experts are going to be fooled.

It's asking a lot for a pair of rookies to handle the keystone operation on a big league ball club, but the Negro combination has done a scintillating job around second base in the early exhibitions, and as of this date, appear to have won their jobs.

Banks at 22 is six years younger than his roommate Baker, but yet during the off-season it was generally expected that Ernie would win the shortstop position. He was the outstanding player in the Negro American league last year before the Cubs bought his contract. Baks hit .380 and clouted 23 homers. He came up for the last 10 games of the year with the Cubs and promptly batted .314, collecting two homers and driving in six runs. His performance in the field was reminiscent of the Cubs' Bill Jurges heyday, and the only question over the winter was that his lack of experience might keep him from winning the job in '54. Everyone knew that some day, if not 1954, Banks would be one of the greats in baseball.

"SURE, BANKS is going to make mistakes," says Cavarretta. "But so are a lot of veterans. Ernie is amazing, however. He has perfect reflexes, knows how to make all the plays in the field, and has convinced me he's going to hit. You'll have to go a long ways to find stronger wrists than his. They remind me of DiMaggio."

In his first seven games, Banks was hitting a cool .444, and had two doubles, a triple and a homer. Baker was batting .321 in eight games. He had his four home runs to lead the Cubs in that department.

Baker, although 28 and in possession of four years' experience in the Cub farm system, was very much of a long shot for the second base position over the winter. He was a shortstop by trade, and a fine one, having starred at Los Angeles for three years, batting .284 on the Coast in 1953, hitting 20 homers and driving in 99 runs. Baker had never played second base before, although he was placed there in the last seven games of the 1953 National league season when the Cubs brought him up.

Students Signing For College Double Those Of Last Year

Students are "signing up" for a college education twice as fast these days as they did last year at this time—at least at Beloit college.

Figures from the office of the registrar at Beloit show an advance enrollment for next fall double the advance enrollment a year ago.

College officials believe the figures herald the first waves of a steadily increasing campus population influx across the nation, expected to tax educational facilities to the limit within the next decade.

Nationwide studies indicate that by 1970 the number of college students in the U.S. will be double the total in 1943.

Baseball Rules Interpretation Meetings Next Week

Because of the growth in high school baseball interest throughout the state, the Illinois High School Association is expanding its program of training baseball umpires who will be the "boys in blue" at interscholastic baseball games this spring. Eight rules interpretation meetings, presided over by prominent umpires, will be held in various sections of the state during the last week in March and the first week in April. Umpires, coaches and athletic administrators have been invited to attend these meetings.

For the first time in this series of meetings, a center has been designated in Chicago. The Chicago meeting will be held April 1 at St. Jude's hall, 221 W. Madison st. The umpires protective association will sponsor the meeting and a large group of Chicago officals and coaches are expected to attend.

The schedule for the eight meetings is as follows:

All meetings will begin at 8:00 p.m.

Rules interpretation will be based on the national federation baseball code. Part of each session will be devoted to the mechanics and procedure of one-man umpiring. The new film "Modern Baseball" will be shown at each of the meetings.

NEW G-E Oil Burning Method cuts Fuel Bills up to 50%

G-E engineers have discovered new ways to wring every last bit of heat out of oil!

★ SPECIAL G-E NON-CLOG NOZZLE mixes air and oil into a fine spray that burns completely. No waste—no soot!

★ FAMOUS G-E "TURN-BACK FLAME" gives longer exposure of flame so all possible heat is extracted.

★ G-E CONTROLS—for dependability.

For true heating efficiency, fast heat, and big fuel savings PLUS oceans of hot water for household needs—see us about a G-E Boiler today!

Some Forest Tree Varieties Still Available

Many varieties of hardwood and conifer seedlings are still available from state nurseries for woodland plantings.

However, if you want trees this spring, you had better get your order in right away because some varieties will go in a hurry, says Farm Adviser, Carl F. Mees.

Last year Illinois farmers ordered and planted 5½ million trees from the state nurseries in Mason and Union counties, Mees says. Ths year stocks of cotton wood, bald cypress and Scotch pine seedlings and white and red pine transplants are already gone.

HARDWOOD seedlings that are still available include ash, Black Locust, multiflora rose, osage orgone, red gum, sycamore and tulip poplar. Confer seedlings include jack pine, loblolly pine, red cedar, red pine, shortleaf pine and white pine.

Each buyer of state nursery trees agrees to protect the planted area from livestock and fire. State-grown stock must be used for woodland plantings and cannot be resold as live trees or used for ornamental or landscaping purposes.

FOREST PLANTINGS are recommended for idle land in badly eroded areas or land that is low in fertility or too steep for other use. Ask your county Farm Adviser for a price list and order blank for state nursery stock. You can get other varieties not as state stock from commercial nurseries.

State Opens Bids On Fox River Dredging

The Illinois division of Waterways opened bids in Springfield Tuesday on a Fox river dredging project to complete work started last year between the dams at Algonquin and McHenry.

Dredging in the Chain of Lakes region will be resumed the following year.

The state proposes to install a lock at the McHenry dam to enable downstream boats to enter the lakes region. The lock would be 40 by 20 feet, according to plans.

"Going Mad"

No other disease of man or dog is surrounded with so much superstition as is rabies. In the last column of "Just Dogs" your editor touched on the objectives of National Dog Week for this year and unfortunately a small section related to the topic of rabies and its control and research on the subject as one of the objectives was left out by error, when the paper went to press.

In order to bring a few facts to light and to acquaint the readers of this column with a few passing remarks on the subject the writer would like to pick up a little from where the last column left off and bring out some important do's and don'ts on the subject.

Worst of the superstitions about rabies is that a rabid animal or person, or one who has been exposed to the disease, is able, by his mere presence, to infect other animals or persons or whole communities. Such is not the case.

Rabies is not caught like a cold. The virus of rabies is in the saliva of an infected animal and can only be transmitted by a bite through the skin by an animal known to be rabid, or if the saliva enters into an open abrasion or scratch on the skin. And remember, just because a dog bites doesn't mean that he has rabies. A bite may be a playful nip from a puppy. A dog may bite in self-defense when in pain, teased, or struck or just because he objects to being given a bath.

Another fallacy is that a dog which has a fit must have rabies. Dogs have fits, or convulsions, from a number of ailments just as in humans or they may be caused by sunstroke, heavy exercise after long illness, or just plain excitement. If your dog appears to be having a fit, place him in a quiet spot, cover him and wait until he revives. Then see a veterinarian.

If a person is bitten by a dog suspected of rabies, the dog should be confined to a place where he can have no contact with either people or other animals. If you observe a dog wandering along with no apparent sense of direction, bumping into objects and then turning and snapping at them - then starting off on another tangent, don't try to be a hero and pick up the dog unless you know what you are doing. The best thing is to enlist the aid of someone else to go and get the proper authorities and in the mean time keep track of where the dog goes - following at a distance. And above all if the animal has to be destroyed see to it that who ever does the job does not proceed to shoot the dog through the head. It is the head of the animal which enables the health authorities to ascertain if the animal has rabies, and will enable them to say if anyone bitten by the animal will require the necessary treatments to prevent infection.

All in all proper education on the subject of not only dog owners but those without dogs will go far towards eliminating much of the problem. It is the roving dog that is most likely to be exposed to rabies Consequently, if you value your dog, keep him on your premises except when you are out walking with him on a leash.

"Touring With Towser"

The new 1954 edition of "Touring With Towser" is now available for those who travel and take their dogs with them.

This public service booklet of Gaines Research Center not only lists the hotels and motor courts in every state that accept guests with dogs, but also includes much helpful data for making traveling with a dog a pleasure in this country, Canada and Mexico.

Well over 4,000 hostelries are carried in the new edition, a copy of which may be had by sending 10 cents (to cover postage and handling) to Gaines Dog Research Center, 250 Park Ave., New York 17, N. Y.

Northwest Obedience Club

The new obedience dog training club which trains at the fire station every Friday night in Palatine has brought out quite an interested group. Not only are dog owners on hand at 8 p.m., but also a lot of the townsfolk just come in to watch the proceedings.

New classes for beginners start every three months with the next class due to start the first Friday in May. Each new class is limited to 12 dogs with their handlers or owners and are taken in to the class on the basis of first come-first served.

International K.C. Show

By the time this column appears in print the entries for the 14th annual all-breed show sponsored by the International Club of Chicago will have closed.

This dog show classic, held every year at the International Amphitheatre, will take place on April 3 and 4. Your editor checked with show officials the day that entries were to close - March 22nd - and at that time the total was not quite up to last years record of 2196 dogs, however, when final counts are made and verified and the last minute entries arrive the club hopes to equal or better last years entry.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Each week, the House of Representatives in Washington D. C. restaurant becomes a chapel, as more than a hundred members of the House meet there in prayer.

Likewise, each week over sixty of our senators gather for prayer service at breakfast time.

This is not just one faction or group, but represents every shade of opinion, each political belief and religious faith.

In Winston-Salem, North Carolina, the Reynolds Tobacco company has added a minister to their payroll. His job? To bring religion into industry; to hunt out disturbing elements within the plant, which are the result of ungodly living. Under direct orders to seek out these disturbing habits of both employees and management, he has been promised that wherever he strikes, he will not lose his job.

THOUSANDS of top executives and industrialists, politicians, economists, men from every walk, every type of leadership, are united into a great and growing organization, "The Laymen's League for Christian Service." Their organization, nation wide, is devoted to prayer and forwarding the practice of Christ's teachings in everyday living.

Why? Because these scientists, business men, industrialists and professional leaders have found what is eternally true, that faith and prayer are the most powerful influences for good in the world. Because they are convinced by results that the solution to present serious world and national problems can be found only through prayer.

FAITH AND PRAYER have proven, in the lives of countless individuals of all backgrounds and creeds to be the way to peace of mind, to true happiness. Faith and prayer can transform your life and mine.

Hundreds of books written by consecrated Christian men and women can help you and me to learn how to pray and start us on the way to worthwhile, happier, more abundant living. Here are a few:

"Prayer, the Mightiest Force in the World"—Frank Laubach
"Two or Three Gather Together"
"How to Find Health through Prayer"—Glen Clark
"How to Pray"—E. Stanley Jones.

If men of great wisdom and ability who have lived successfully find strength, guidance and help through prayer, don't you think it is time for you and me to tap this great source of power?

Prompt Felling Of Dead Trees Reduces Perils

Aging in the wood, beneficial for some things, is anything but that for dead and dying trees. They should not be left standing too long.

This seems pretty obvious, but Davey tree experts say too many property owners delay having trees felled in the mistaken belief removals become more economical the longer the hulks stand.

Actually, this neglect compounds the peril for both passersby and the professional tree men who eventually will be called upon to remove the trees. To make matters worse, the property owners may have to pay more than the normal cost for prompt tree removal.

That's because some tree surgeons rightly require premium payment for the extra hazard involved. Even under the best conditions, the experts consider dead tree removal their No. one accident hazard.

In the city, trees are removed by cutting into small pieces which are carefully lowered with stout ropes. They are not felled the way lumberjacks do it in the forest.

Getting rid of unsightly dead and dying trees is a great favor to the landscape in general. Decaying trees often are breeding grounds for insects that can infect healthy trees. With elms, in particular, removal and burning is vital to prevent the spread of Dutch elm disease, carried by the elm bark beetle.

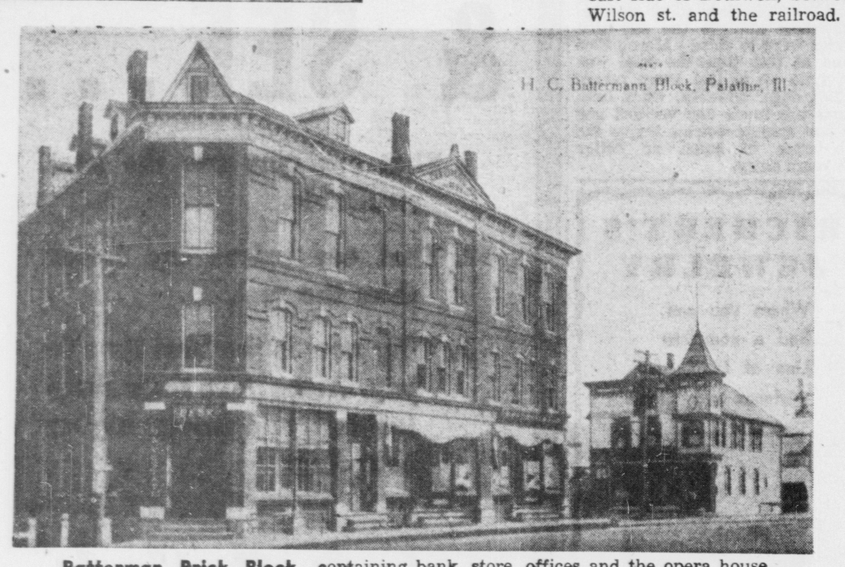
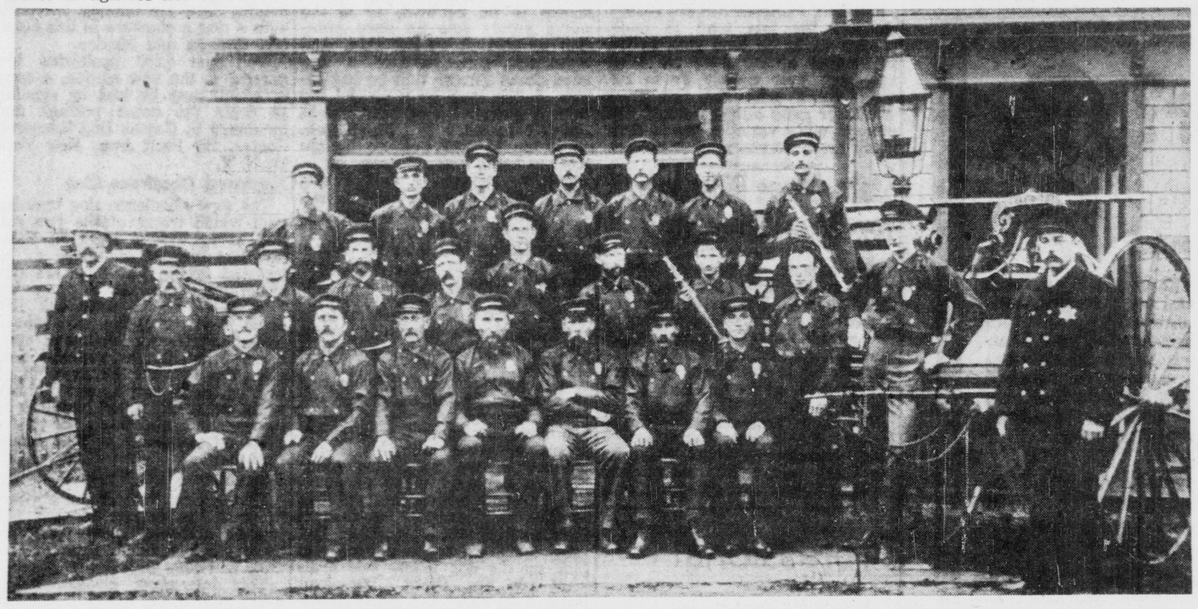
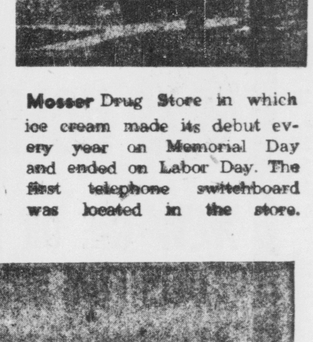
First home of Paddock Publications, only building on east side of Bothwell, between Wilson st. and the railroad.



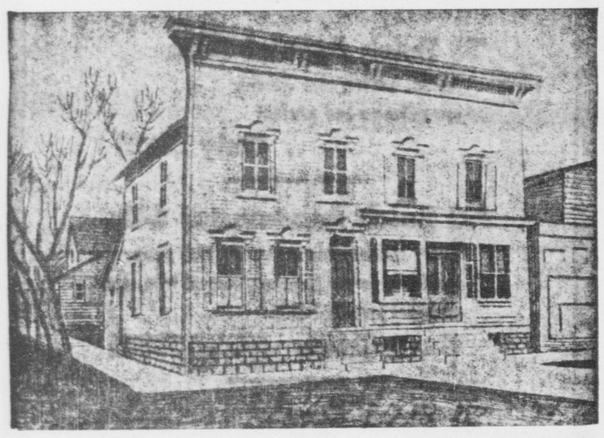
Batterman Brick Block, containing bank, store, offices and the opera house, erected in 1880, torn down a few years ago. At the right is the present Palatine Drug, previously a tavern, and the first home of Palatine State Bank.



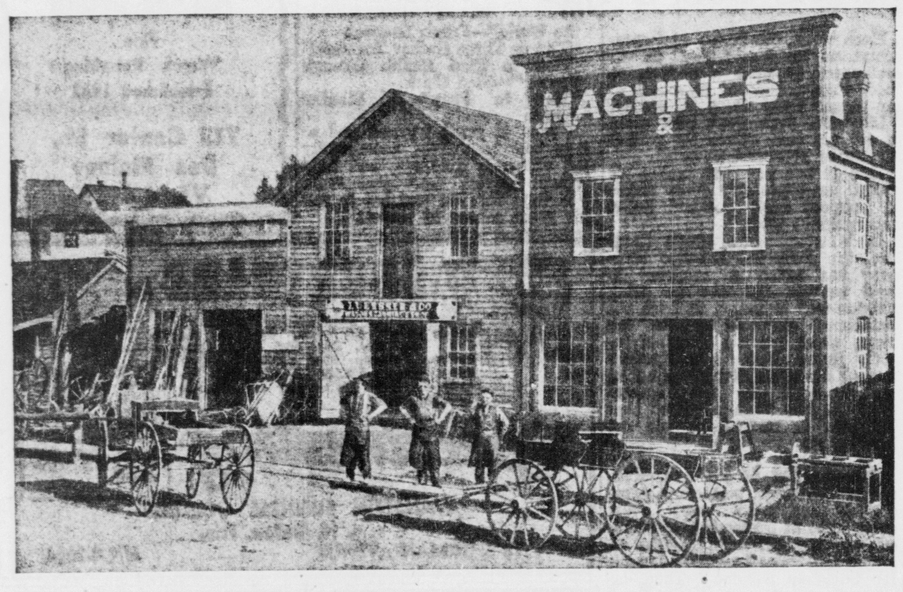
Palatine fire fighting equipment of 1908. Harry Schoppe stands in front of the hose cart. A hand operated pumper, the one hose cart and a hook and ladder truck comprised the entire fire fighting equipment in the early 1900's.



Mosser Drug Store in which ice cream made its debut every year on Memorial Day and ended on Labor Day. The first telephone switchboard was located in the store.

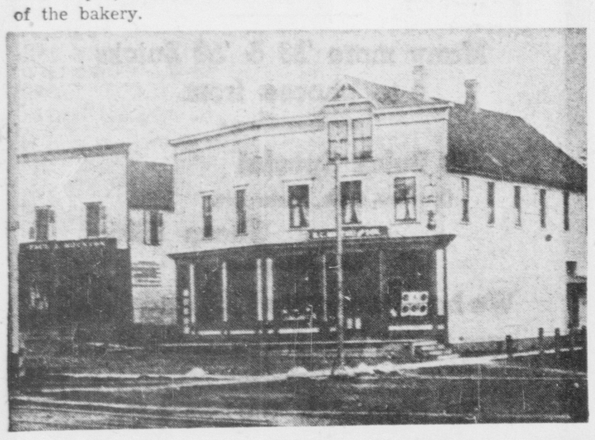


Flury Bakery and residence (home of Mrs. Harry Schoppe 60 years ago); building moved to the rear, now occupied by William Roper; Palatine National Bank building is on original site of the bakery.

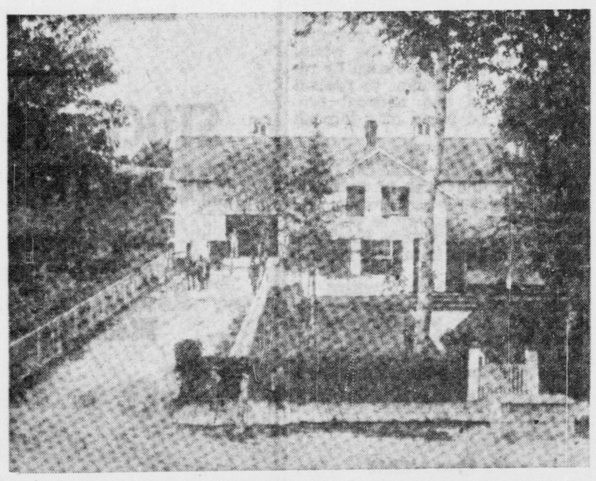


Blacksmithing and manufacture of milk and lumber wagons was a major industry in Palatine 60 years ago. The above buildings, owned by Henry Luerssen sixty years ago, were sold to W. E. Schering. The one with the machinery sign was torn down and replaced by the present Sanitary Market. The center building is now the Country Cobbler.

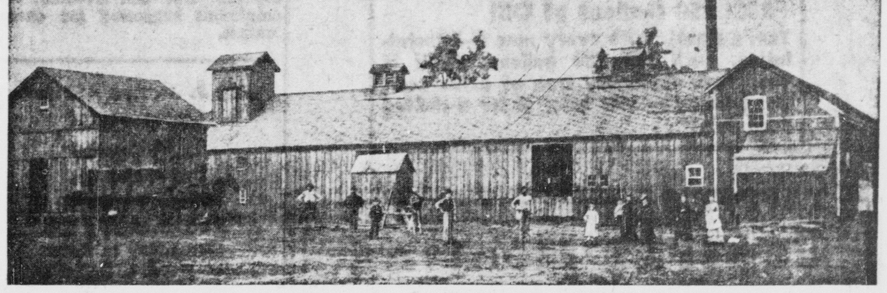
The Hunnerberg tavern and hotel on the south side of Wilson st. north of the old depot site. The left portion provided shelter for horses, while their owners were getting warm in the tavern. Above the stable was a hall used for dances. The hotel, conducted by Mrs. William Hunnerberg, occupied the balance of the building.



Matthei Store building at the corner of Bothwell and Railroad ave., now site of Pepper block; store was only half size shown 60 years ago. Adjoining is Odd Fellows hall.



Knigge Livery and residence at 44 W. Wilson st., received considerable newspaper publicity when detectives hired a horse and buggy from the stable that was used to kidnap the son of the late Leslie Carter, well known actress, who was a resident of Palatine.



Palatine flax mill, lumber planing mill and feed store, located on the south side of Chicago ave. and west side of Greeley st., which burned in 1894 and resulted in a determination of Palatine people to have a city water system—the first northwest of Chicago.

Squire Schierding's store 70 years ago on the present corner of Schoppe's store. Building is now at N. Greeley st. Dr. Olcott, early Palatine dentist, had offices on second floor. At the right, beyond shed, is the Vehe building. Small store, now occupied by Palatine News Agency, was a photograph gallery sixty years ago.

Prellberg building opposite railroad platform was the first store in Palatine, having been moved there from Quintens rd. in 1855; occupied by E. Prellberg, merchant tailor 60 years ago.

Dog Lost 7 Months, But Finds Master's Apartment In Denmark

by BILL DILLINGHAM

They say that a man's best friend is his dog. The following story shows that such devotion might very well be mutual.

A Mrs. Pedersen who lived near the Danish city of Odense owns a mongrel police-dog type named Mister Jensen. Over seven months ago her house caught fire and burned beyond repair. She and her dog, the only members of this small family, decided to move to Denmark's capital and settle in an apartment. To Mrs. Pedersen, this seemed like a good opportunity to fulfill a long, unsatisfied wish.

SHE COLLECTED her few belongings, entered the train compartment reserved for passengers with dogs, and set out for Copenhagen — about 100 miles away.

At the very first local stop, however, Mr. Jensen took an opportunity for some fresh air and darted out of the train, completely disappearing in a matter of seconds.

Mrs. Pedersen was a little late in getting off the train so that it was another hour before she was able to return to the same station and search for her dog. She remained in this vicinity for two days finally leaving notice of a reward for the finder of Mr. Jensen. With little more left to do, she caught a train and continued on into Copenhagen.

MRS. PEDERSEN took an apartment in the city and for seven months made occasional inquiries about her lost dog. Two times she returned to the place where she had last seen him, and both visits left her with no new information about Mr. Jensen.

After two months of living in Copenhagen, she placed a notice in a newspaper with the animal's photo. Has anybody seen Mister Jensen? the ad asked. No replies, however, came in.

Seven months and twelve days after Mr. Jensen's disappearance, the animal turned up outside of Mrs. Pedersen's apartment door. It was three o'clock in the morning and the animal was barking his happy little head off!

First off, Mr. Jensen had never been to the apartment that his master had rented, nor had the animal ever been to Copenhagen before. Secondly, from Odense to Copenhagen it is necessary to cross a body of water, a journey by boat of about an hour to the island of Zealand where the capital is located.

Mrs. Pedersen, however, explains that Mr. Jensen has an excellent understanding of the Danish language. The animal, she supposes, understood in conversation that the family was enroute to Copenhagen. After reaching the city, however, it is anybody's guess how Mr. Jensen managed to locate the Pedersen apartment.

Once more, the animal possibly made the following deduction: Mrs. Pedersen is not of the poorer classes; she always lived within a certain frame of relative luxury. If one supposes a dog adopts a feelin gof social class, this might easily have ruled out in the animal's mind certain areas of Copenhagen. He would overlook the poor areas and sniff out those sections where his "parent" would most probably live.

Next, Mrs. Pedersen rides a bicycle, and she leaves it outside of the apartment house when she is not using it. This was possibly another aid to Mr. Jensen's detective work because he knew his master's particular bicycle very well.

Just where Mr. Jensen had been for seven months, however, must necessaril ybe letf to speculation. The importnt thing is that Mr. Jensen is back home!.

Two Early Curtains For 'Seven Year Itch'

In order to permit suburbanites reaching home before the milkman "The Seven Year Iitch," Chicago's biggest comedy hit in many years ,is now playing two early performances, Thursday and Sunday. The curtain on those days will rise promptly at 7:30 and the final moments come shortly before 10 p.m. at the Erlanger theater in Chicago.

Upwards of five thousand persons from nearby Chicagoland have requested earlier curtain risings for "Itch." Thus Old Popular Demand wins out again.

Eddie Bracken is the star of the play and Louise King of North Manchester, Indiana, continues in her role as the charmer from upstairs who makes a married man's life more interesting while wifey is in the country.

Plan District Managers For Postmasters' Ills

Representative Marguerite Stitt Church, (R) 13th District, Illinois, has announced under the decentralization program of the post office department, postmasters will report directly to district managers nearest their communities, rather than to Washington.

When the plan is made effective in April, postmasters in Cook and Lake counties will report to the district manager at Chicago.

Plans call for eight district managers in the tri-state region of Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin, operating under a regional manager in Chicago.

Mrs. Church pointed out that, in decentralizing its operations, the Post Office Department will be following the lead of most other successful large business organizations in the country, as well as the recommendation of the Hoover commission. She added that, under this plan, field personnel will be delegated authority equal to their responsibility.

Time Now To Plant Pasture Seeds

Now is an excellent time to broadcast legumes and small grasses in winter cereals or permanent grass pastures seeded last fall, says Carl F. Mees, Cook County Farm Adviser.

If large-seeded grasses, such as fescue, brome grass, or orchard grass, didn't live through the winter, sow them now.

These larger seeds should be drilled. Broadcasting usually results in disappointment.

Swift Grants $8,000 For Swine Research

Swift & Co. has made an outright grant of $8,000 to help support one phase of the swine research program at the University of Illinois college of agriculture during the next three years.

L. E. Card, head of the animal science department at the college, said in accepting the grant that the money would be used primarily to support a research project on the nutritional requirements of pregnant and lactating sows.

CARD ANNOUNCES the appointment of an advisory committee to help administer the project. This committee includes R. F. Elliott, Lederle Laboratories, Pearl River, New Jersey; R. G. Halleman, Swift & Co., Chicago; and F. B. Adamstone, S. W. Terrill, D. E. Becker and A. H. Jensen, all of the University of Illinois.

Since 1941 Swift & Co. has given more than $2,500,000 in 350 grants to more than 90 institutions for basic research in animal and human nutrition. The company believes that such support of research by industry is essential if the United States is to continue progress toward building a healthier, happier and more efficient nation.

Another reason why the company supports basic research at the experiment stations is that industrial research needs a storehouse of basic scientific findings on which to base its own programs.

Use Caution When Hitching Your Tractor

When hitching your tractor to an implement, your place is on the seat, not between the tractor and the machine.

For disobeying this rule, many a farmer has paid with smashed fingers, a crippled leg or even his life, says Gordon McCleary, University of Illinois farm safety specialist.

In some cases the farmer blames a grabby clutch for his accident. Or maybe he thinks a hand clutch is meant to be operated from behind the tractor while he juggles the implement tongue. But the manufacturer didn't make the hand clutch for that purpose. If you get hurt or killed by misusing it, it's your fault, not the tractor's.

YOU WON'T HAVE to get off the tractor to hitch to a wagon, plow or other implement with a light tongue if you have a hook that lets you lift the tongue while you stay on the seat. Make the hook long enough to allow you to reach the ground by leaning over slightly.

For discs, manure spreaders and other hard-to-hitch tools, take the time to jack the implement hitch to the right height after stopping the tractor a few inches from the machine.

If you don't think you have time to take this precaution, says McCleary, you'd better get out of the farming business before an accident puts you out.

Carl F. Mees — Adviser and Editor

To Have And To Hold

by CARL MEES

They tell us that England is raising 75 bushels of wheat to the acre and this land has been farmed many hundred years, while ours has been farmed about a hundred years and we can't even get close to this production mark. The fact remains that England never has any heavy rainfall that washes top soil down the slopes. They still have the same top soil they had many years ago, while one half of our top soil is already gone, and more is going every year, unless something is done about it.

North Cook soil conservation district can show you how every farmer in our district can save his top soil. Yes even build up the soil structure and make more money doing it.

There are no charges or dues to pay for a conservation plan on your farm.

We can take care of about 60 farms this year. First come, first served, so sign up now and avoid the delay. Contact one of the directors or the North Cook County Soil Conservation office in the Farm Bureau Building, Arlington Heights.

Let us remember that the soil is really not ours, so let us treat it in such a way that the next generation can at least enjoy the same privileges as we are now enjoying.

Young Farmers, Dad Says You 'Never Had It So Good'

Many young farmers have started farming for themselves during the past ten years. A large proportion of these young families feel that times are pretty tough. They find that bills are harder to pay than they were five years ago. They are having to buy more carefully and in many cases adjust to a lower standard of living.

While the younger folks feel pinched—the popular word now is "squeezed"—mom and dad may look on and wish that they could have had things as good when they were younger.

How does the present farm situation compare with prewar? A recent report on the farm cost situation, from the United States Department of Agriculture, provides many answers to this question. Let's check some of the changes since 1940. That year was typical of the better years of the 1930's, and it was the last year before wartime inflation set in.

AVERAGE PRICES of things farmers use in production are about double those of 1940. Total production expenses have jumped from $6.6 billion dollars to $22.6 billion, or have been multiplied 3.4 times.

Farms today have one-fifth fewer workers than they had in 1940, but these one-fifth fewer workers produce 30 pe rcent more total output.

Hour for hour, the 1953 farm workers turned out 57 per cent more than the 1940 workers did. On a man-for-man basis, farmers today produce two-thirds more than did the farmer of 1940. The average farm worker put in about eight per cent more hours in 1953 than in 1940.

EACH HOUR of farm work in 1953 brought in 3.85 times as much gross farm income as in 1940. Farmers who hired labor in 1953 paid wage rates four times as high as those of 1940. Probably no group of wage earners in the United States has had such large proportional wage increases as farm laborers.

Cost of living (consumers' price index) has not quite doubled, so the wages of hired farm workers buy about twice as much as before the war.

In 1953, average prices received by farmers were equal to 92 per cent of parity compared with 81 per cent in 1940.

The total net income of all farm operators would buy about 30 percent more in 1953 than in 1940. But the number of operators and other family workers declined by one-fifth from 1940 to 1953. This makes the buying power per family worker about two-thirds greater in 1953 than in 1940.

FARMERS OFTEN ask about how other groups are doing. Here are some figures for comparison: Average factory workers earned $25.20 a week in 1940 and about $71.50 in 1953. The buying power of the workers' dollar shrank 48 per cent during this period. Thus the wages of the factory worker increased one-half in purchasing power from 1940 to 1953.

Coal miner's pay averaged about $25 a week in 1940 and $86 in 1953. The purchasing power of his weekly earnings increased by four-fifths, but he worked one-fourth more hours to earn his pay. For the wages earned in an hour, the miner could buy about 60 per cent more in 1953 than in 1940.

Fertilize Garden Ahead Of Seeding

Put it on at least a week before you make garden to give the fertilizer time to mix with the soil. Otherwise it may damage the delicate seeds.

Norman Oebker, University of Illinois garden specialist, recommends 3 to 5 pounds of 5-10-10 or similar fertilizer per 100 square feet on soil not fertilized recently. Soils fertilized in the last few years will need less. He thinks it best to broadcast the fertilizer after plowing and to rake or harrow it into the ground.

WHY '41 '48 So Many Farmers Continue to Plant LOWE HYBRIDS Year After Year '49 '50 '51 '52 '53

Talk to farmers who planted Lowe Hybrids last year. Compare for appearance, disease resistance, standability during picking, total yield, and especially the feeding quality. Learn how this fine seed corn (properly planted in ordinary soil and grown under ordinary conditions) assures early maturity, big ears of deep, thick, soft starch kernels on small cobs. Then it will be easy to understand why so many successful farmers continue to plant Lowe Hybrids year after year. Then see . . .

Say No To Child Who Wants To Ride Tractor

Actually, it's dad's fault—and maybe mother should share some of the blame says Farm Adviser Carl F. Mees. Unfortunately, placing the blame doesn't repair a broken body or bring a child back to life.

Children get such a thrill from riding on the tractor that dad may think he's doing good to the youngsters by letting them tag along. Maybe he's done it before with no serious consequences.

BUT LOOK at the score in Illinois last year. Newspaper clippings gathered for the Illinois Agricultural Association show that 106 persons were injured from falling off or being run over by a tractor; 21 more were killed. If you read a newspaper, you know that many of these were small children.

So before you decide to be "good" to your youngsters by taking them on the tractor, ask yourself this question: "If my child wants to play with a loaded gun, am I being good to him if I let him have his way?"

The answer, of course, is "No." And, says Mees, the only way you can be good to your children when they plead, "Let me ride, daddy," is to say "No."

Working Dogs On Farm TV Show Sunday

Dogs who work for their living will be shown on the "Farmtown, U.S.A." television program Sunday, March 28.

Ten representatives of the working breeds will be put through their paces by their owners. Working dogs are valuable as cattle herders, hunters, and guard dogs.

"Farmtown, U.S.A." is presented with the cooperation of the Illinois Agricultural Association and the Pure Milk Association. It may be seen at 2 p.m. each Sunday on station WBBM-TV, channel 2.

Only one dog not useful as a worker will be shown by George Menard, "Farmtown" master of ceremonies, who promises to hold a Yorkshire terrier in the palm of his hand. The Yorkshire is one of the world's smallest dogs.

Captain Will Judy, well-known dog authority, will appear on the program, along with Mrs. C. Groverman Ellis, DuPage county farmer's wife and president of the International dog show.

Record Cattle Number

The National Live Stock Producers Assn., is the nation's largest live stock marketing cooperative, serving more than 555,000 farmers and ranchers on 86 live stock markets throughout the United states. The organization markets an average of $2.5 million worth of live stock daily, figuring 308 market days a year.

The 1953 volume of live stock handled by this nation-wide cooperative amounted to 221,365 deck carloads of livestock valued at $790,166,295. This was an increase of 32,226 decks over the 1952 volume of 189,139 decks valued at $729,647,300. (A deckload is figured on the basis of 25 head of cattle 75 calves, 70 hogs or 115 sheep).

Figured on a headage basis, the 1953 volume represented an increa. of 1,384,728 head of live stock or a total of 12,054,086 head — The largest volume in the association's 32 years of operation.

That's Egg, Ma'am

Ever stop to think that those scrumptious cakes from ready-made mixes owe their success to an invisible ingredient — eggs? We use about 600 million eggs yearly that way, states Capper's Farmer. The Institute of American poultry industries says the only item absent from powdered eggs is the moisture.

State Nursery Forest Trees Still Available

Farmers who have delayed placing orders for forest tree nursery stocks to be planted this spring still have a relatively wide range of species to choose from, according to Carl F. Mees, Cook county farm adviser.

Mees, says that about a third of a million trees among the broadleaved species, including ash, black locust, osage orange (hedge), red gum, sycamore and tulip poplar, are still on hand at the nurseries. About three-fourths of a million multiflora rose, used in wildlife and fencerow plantings, are also still available.

AMONG EVERGREEN species, which include jack pine, loblolly pine, red cedar, red pine, shortleaf pine and white pine, there are still about two million seedlings. However, jack pine dominated the inventory, quantities of the other five evergreen species averaging less than 180,000 each.

According to the state forester, who administers the two state nurseries in Mason and Union counties, orders for trees will be accepted until April 30. Favorable soil and weather conditions have made it possible for the nurseries to pack and ship several thousand trees already, he said.

DETAILED INFORMATION on state nursery stocks, together with official blanks used in securing trees, is available at the office of the farm adviser. He also has information on establishment and care of farm plantings. In today's announcement, Mees, emphasized that planting early rather than late in the season is preferable, since the trees will then get the early spring moisture that is important in initial establishment.

Among the widely recognized benefits of forest plantings are a variety of forest products, cover for wildlife and protection of soils from erosion.

Trees secured from the state nursery source may not be used for ornamental, shade or landscaping purposes or be resold as live trees. Planted acres must be protected from fire and grazing, two causes of plantation failure.

Mrs. Fabian, the Home Bureau 4-H chairman, visited the club.

Drilling Oats Will Increase Yields

You can probably harvest five more bushels of oats an acre if you plant by drilling instead of broadcasting.

Different tests conducted by agricultural colleges since 1909 prove that drilling will give extra yields of 4.1 to 6.3 bushels an acre.

J. W. Pendleton, crop production specialist at the University of Illinois, lists eight advantages of drilling over broadcasting.

1. Yields will increase.
2. Seedlings will resist late spring freezes better.
3. Drilling takes less seed.
4. Drilling insures uniform spacing and depth of seed.
5. An even stand gives more even growth and ripening.
6. Evenly spaced oats compete more strongly with annual weeds.
7. Drilling covers the seeds.
8. You can also seed the grass-legume companion crop when you drill the oats.

Many Scholarships Available For College Of Agriculture

Some of you may be wondering whether you are eligible to apply for a college scholarship. Following are brief descriptions of the various scholarships for which you may apply if you plan to enter the University of Illinois college of agriculture in the fall of 1954.

TUITION SCHOLARSHIPS

Agriculture and Home Economics Scholarships: Each year your county has available two scholarships, one in agriculture and one in home economics. Each one covers tuition for the regular four-year course in the College of Agriculture. (Tuition is $50 a semester, or $100 a year, plus $25 for summer school. The total value of each scholarship is therefore $475 if it is used for eight semesters and three sessions of summer school.) You may obtain one of these scholarships by taking, and passing with the highest average, the competitive examination administered by your county superintendent of schools on the last Saturday in April. You do not have to make an application in advance, but you should contact your county superintendent if you plan to write the examination. In the past many counties have failed to take advantage of these scholarships.

County Scholarships (one per county) and scholarships for children of veterans (one per county)—These scholarships are usable in any college in the university. They are awarded on the basis of the same competitive examination as is given for the agriculture and home economics scholarships. You can get further information from your county superintendent of schools. If you are eligible, you may become a candidate for more than one of the above-listed scholarships by checking the appropriate square on the information blank which you complete before writing the examination.

CASH SCHOLARSHIPS

Sears Roebuck Scholarships—These scholarships are available to freshmen students entering the college of agriculture. They are administered by the associate dean of the college and are awarded on the basis of financial need, high school scholarship, and other records that show promise of superior attainment. The stipend is $200 for the freshman year, with the possibility of extension through the sophomore and junior years for outstanding men students. Each year four scholarships are awarded to girls entering home economics and about twenty to boys entering agriculture. No examination is required.

Kroger Scholarships — These $200 scholarships are awarded during the freshman year on the basis of scholastic achievements in high school and leadership qualities as demonstrated in school, church, 4-H, F. F. A. and F. H. A., and other youth organizations. Financial need may also be considered. Six scholarships, to be divided equally between students in agriculture and home economics, are available at Illinois. No examination is required.

Illinois Rural Youth Community Service Scholarships — Each year seven scholarships are sponsored by the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio Railroad company for freshmen entering the college of agriculture. They are given to students living in counties served by the G. M. & O. Railroad who carry on the most outstanding Rural Youth programs. The amounts vary from $250 to $400. Only students living in the following counties are eligible for this year: Pulaski-Alexander, Sangamon, McLean, Livingston, Peoria, Logan, Macoupin. For further details, consult your farm adviser.

You can get application forms for the Sears-Roebuck and Kroger scholarships from H. L. Sharp, 104 Mumford Hall, College of Agriculture. They must be completed and returned by June 1. You need file only one application to be considered for both scholarships. Generally not more than one scholarship will be awarded to any one student at one time, but you may apply for as many different ones as you wish, including cash and tuition scholarships. You must rank in the upper half of your high school graduating class to be eligible for a cash scholarship.

If you plan to apply for a scholarship, you must have a copy of your high school records (transcript) and an application for admission form sent to the Director of Admissions and Records, University of Illinois, by June 15. No agricultural scholarship will be awarded until it has been determined that the applicant has applied and is eligible for admission to the college of agriculture.

A number of special scholarships, good in any college of the university, are also available. For complete information about them, write to the Director of Admissions and Records for the folder entitled "Undergraduate Scholarships" and an application form.

PART-TIME EMPLOYMENT

If you need to work part time while attending the university, you should contact the Student Employment Office, 232 Illini Hall, for information and assistance. The employment service cannot guarantee to find jobs for everyone, but there is no scarcity of opportunities. Rates vary from 65 cents to $1.50 an hour, depending on the type of work and responsibility involved. Meal jobs usually require three hours of work a day. The university recommends that each new student have a cash reserve of at least $500 for the school year, since freshmen are advised not to work the first semester unless it is absolutely necessary. Upperclassmen are often able to earn half or more of their expenses by part-time employment during the school year.

LOAN FUNDS

Various loan funds have been established for the benefit of worthy students who need financial aid. These loans are not ordinarily made to students during their first year at the University, but they are an excellent source of aid for upperclassmen who run short of money before graduation.

HOUSING

The university inspects living quarters and recommends that all students live in approved housing. Women students are required to live in approved housing. Housing for single students consists of rooms in private homes, dormitories, cooperative houses, independent organized houses, sororities, and fraternities. Housing is also available for married couples. For further information about housing, contact the Housing Division, 108 Illini Hall.

Blood-Tested Swine

All swine over four months old must be blood-tested and found to be free from brucellosis before you can exhibit, sell or offer their services as breeding stock.

New Type of Fertilizer
ANHYDROUS AMMONIA
What It Can Do For You!

- While getting larger yields you are increasing the fertility of your soil.
- Cheapest source of nitrogen anywhere.
- Applied at best depth in soil — 6" to 9".
- Gives higher yields which mean more profit per acre.
- Gives more protein per ear and means greater feeding value per bushel corn.
- Plenty of Anhydrous Ammonia in soil can produce higher organic matter and humus.
- No handling of heavy bags or labor of any kind required by farmer.
- Is most perfect dry weather fertilizer.

Also on the program was Bob Fox of the store showing how to tie flies. Warren Jeness gave an exhibition with glass rods. Casting instructions and a clinic were included.

Eleven-year-old Janet Hinrichs, 138 N. Hale st., Palatine, a post-polio patient, is taught to swim by William Bowen, 48 W. Harding road, Lombard, as part of the Red Cross swimming classes each Friday in the pool at North Central college in Naperville.

Children and adults from several western suburbs take part in the Naperville program which runs 11 months of the year. It is closed only in August. Twenty-five parents are now qualified as instructors and work at the pool. An individual instructor is provided for each handicapped program during their one-hour swim.

A surprise class reunion took place Monday, March 8, when the above four persons discovered they were not only formerly from Maine township high school, but also members of the same class.

The chance get-together came about at the luncheon meeting of the office management association of Chicago which formally opened the 12th annual seminar and business show in the Conrad Hilton hotel.

Gains Promotion

The directors of All American Casualty company, Chicago, have elected E. E. Ballard, Arlington Heights, president. Mr. Ballard has been associated with All American as executive vice president and agency director for nearly two years.

Mr. Ballard entered the insurance business as a salesman twenty years ago, with M. A. Kern, then president of Mutual Casualty of Chicago. Later the company changed its name to Alliance Life Insurance company and Ballard became home office supervisor in charge of agency development.

In April, 1938, Ballard joined Jefferson National Life Insurance company of Indianapolis, Indiana, and became vice president and agency director. From there he joined All American Casualty company in February, 1952.

Mr. Ballard resides at 407 E. Rockwell st., Arlington Heights, with his wife and two children, Barbara and Dean.

Must Be Accurate In Filing Social Security

Correct reporting for social security was urged in a statement made today by Miss Ellen McGuire, manager of the 5306 W. Lawrence avenue social security office. "It is essential to the future security of workers and their families, that quarterly reports of employees' wages be correct," Miss McGuire declared.

It is the obligation of the employer, Miss McGuire continued, to report all the covered earnings of each of his employees, under his correct name and social security number. Any failure of the employer to fulfill this obligation may result in a failure to credit the earnings to the employee's social security account and consequently, in failure of the employee to qualify for any benefit or for the full amount of his benefit.

Householders required to report the wages of domestic employees may request form 942 from their local internal revenue office. This is an envelope form with instructions concerning proper reportings of domestic employees' wages and many householders find it very convenient to make their returns in this manner.

The self-employed person whose net earnings from a trade or business covered by social security are $400 or more in a year, has the obligation to file a report of his self-employment income. This is done in connection with the individual's yearly income tax return, and is required regardless of whether he is otherwise required to file a regular income tax return.

Miss McGuire advised that for the convenience of Northwest Cook county residents, a representative of the Lawrence avenue office may be contacted every Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 12 noon in Room 6 of the Des Plaines post office.

Atom-Canned Food

Hailed as an industrialist's dream in concrete form, the temperature and humidity controlled plant with ideal lighting has won approval of 600 employees. The 50,000 sq. ft., one-story building, on spacious grounds soon to be landscaped, makes electromagnetic relays for industrial and military electrical and electronic controls. It started 16 years ago with three employees and is a fine example of Chicago's dynamic growth and progress.

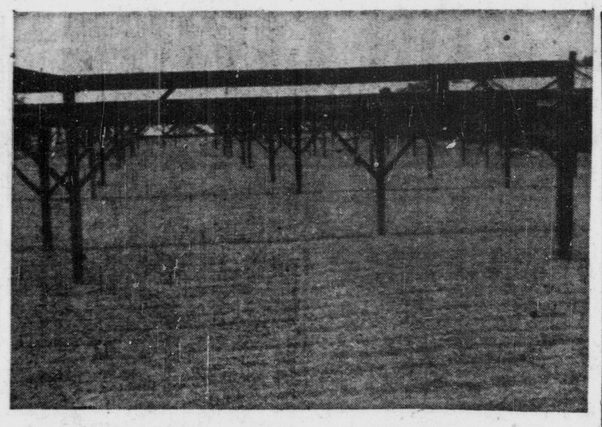
Catholic Collection

The annual collection for the Bishops' fund for victims of war will be held in all Catholic churches of the Archdiocese of Chicago on Sunday, March 28.

During the past ten years, American Catholics have given the needy more than 556,000,000 pounds of food, clothing and medicines with a value of $212,365,000.



Most of Hawaii's ten million lbs. of coffee a year are produced in the Kona region. The coffee farmers, mostly Japanese, pick their own berries, dry them in their dependable sun and sell them to local factories for whatever the traffic will bear. The beans are hulled, washed, sifted and then spread in the sun and raked and turned for further drying which is shown above. The roofs are rolled back when the sun shines. —Staff Photo.

The Island of Hawaii

(Installment Four)

The island of Hawaii, the largest visited by the editors, was of special interest to them. Aloha Airways land visitors at Kailus and depart from Hilo, the shipping point for the orchids.

We found outstanding the 1950 lava flow, Black Sand beach, coffee plantations, Volcano house, the volcanos and Hawaiian National Park.

Kona Inn, our headquarters for two days, was adjacent to Hulihee Palace, the summer abode of the Kamehameha sovereigns from the year 1795 to 1872.

As a museum, it contains sorcery items used by the ancient Kahuanas, necklaces of human hair woven for Hawaiian royalty; a trunk of Koa wood that Queen Kapidani, wife of King Kalakaua, took with her in 1887 when she visited England as a guest of Queen Victoria. It is 7 ft. long, 3 ft. wide and 3 ft. high.

The portraits of the queens show that they were grossly fat. One is half nude, but another is very smart in fashionable gowns and ostrich plume hat.

Nearby is the Mokuaikaua church, representative of the first to be erected in the Islands. It had its beginning there because a Hawaiian, named Opukahaia, swam from the Kona shore to an American ship, who, finding himself in America, was converted to Christianity. He longed to have his people in the Islands hear about the Gospel.

IN 1819 A GROUP of young people of Park Street Congregational church, Boston, formed a mission group. They landed six months later in Kailua Bay, where they were welcomed by the royal family.

Because of the coral and lava formation of the soil, it was difdifficult to build the church. The post holes were blasted in the rock, and after they were set in place a wall of stone 3 ft. high was built to hold the posts in place.

Missions from the parent church went to Honolulu and other islands which explains why the Christian church is today the third in importance in the islands.

The compiler of geographies who states that Mt. Everest, 29,141 feet, is the highest in the world, does not know how the Hawaiians measure their mountains. Those volcanic mountains came into existence from the bottom of the sea, 18,000 feet below the sea surface. Thus Hawaiians measuring from the base of the mountain claim to two huge volcanic mountins being over 30,000 feet high, although the Mauna Loa is only 13,000 feet above actual sea level. Their summits are mantled with snow some months of the year.

Our first tour was through the lava flow of 1950, when many homes and small villages were "washed" into the sea by the lava flow. St. Peter by the sea Chapel, built on that lava, only holds 24 persons.

COFFEE PLANTATIONS were especially interesting to those who had never before seen how coffee is grown. The drying of the male and female coffee bean in the sun's rays covers large areas. The movable tin roofs keep the occasional rain off the beans which are spread out on the ground.

A stop was made at Black Sand beach. The sand of the unusual color was pulverized by the waves washing against the lava rock for centuries. The waves have done such a good job, that its texture is as fine as ordinary sand.

The vegetation in the Hawaiian National Park, especially the Tree Fern Forest, is something not found anywhere else on this earth. The lava tube is a volcanic marvel. It was caused by the river of white, hot pahochoe, pershaps 20 to 30 ft. deep, rushing downhill toward the sea. As its surface came in contact with the cool air, a cylinder crust developed forming the tube which extends more than 20 miles. Visitors walked through a few yards of it.

Our thoughts turned to speed signs on highways at home to which little attention is paid, as we approached the Halemaunau Crater. The signs gave a lot of warning, but no person paid any attention to them as they walked to the crater over a lava crust from which steam was arising.

We do not think it was pure imagination, but it seemd to this editor that he was really walking over hot stones.

THE CRATER PIT is 3,100 feet wide and 720 feet deep. It is under the supervision if the foresters and is not considered dangerous. In periodical periods of activity, sightseers wearing masks to protect the face from heat are allowed to pear down in the cauldron.

If your luck is good, you may happen to see volcanic activity, or even an outright eruption, but whatever your luck, you are certain to see Earth's laboratory, fires banked and vigorously steaming, chemicals at hand, apparatus in prime condition.

There is a fenced-off viewpoint at the Pit's edge and many yards behind it some wicked-looking cracks, but rangers state that even if a great lava-slip were to occur, there would be enough warning so that spectators could escape to firm ground.

"The danger of some intending suicide approaching the Pit is, however, a continuing worry to the rangers, for its open mouth seems fairly to invite self-destruction. In 1932, it thus invited a Portugese youth of Hilo. He was sick with unrequited love and felt he must do something about it. Inveigling his unresponsive girl friend into his car, he drove to the rim of the Fire Pt. There he shot the girl, then gathered her into his arms and leaped over. Their corpses lay on the hot floor of Halemaumau for days, baked by the sun, drenched by the rains. Crowds of the curious looked down in pleasant horror."

THE VOLCANO HOUSE where we enjoyed our luncheon and one of the most wonderful views of our entire trip is 4,000 elevation, requiring heat, part of which comes from the earth. None of our party took a steam bath, but here is how it is done:

After engaging the steam room for a given hour, you merely lift a heavy wooden stopper from a hole in the floor. Thick, white steam gushes up to fill the room in a moment. (A boxlike arrngement for your head protects eyes and lungs from being parboiled.) This is more satisfying and more exciting than the system in a Finnish sauna, where cold water is sloshed on a red-hot stove to make the steam. The only thing lacking is the ministration of a stout, Nordic bath-woman to scrub you from head to tie.

A sea of steam jets fill a great portion of the 2,600 acres of Kilauea and "breaks" on the crater's rim. Each of the scores of steam puffs bends before the wind, and from time to time, for this is a wet region, sharp showers scud across the three-mile diameter of the depression, chased in turn by brilliant sunshine.

Several of our group spent one day deep sea fishing. Kona waters are for big fishing, four or five to a ton.

Our visit to the Island of Hawaii ended at Hilo, where we visited the Flowers of Hawaii, which ships orchids or any other of the flowers for which Hawaii is famous by air to any point in the United States, guaranteeing their arrival safe and sound.

Next Week—We return to Oahu.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

FROM PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

We have discovered a brand new magazine and, though it's difficult to determine from the very first issue put on the newsstands only a couple of weeks ago, I'll bet it's just what a lot of us have been hoping for for a long time. I may be wrong (I once thought "Flair" was here to stay) but I believe "Chicago" is going to find many happy subscribers.

For 25 cents a month or $2.50 a year you can read all about what's happening in Chicago theatre, art and music-wise. You, also, can learn about interesting people and places in and around our area, and enjoy short stories, poems and anecdotes written by and about Chicagoans.

On the cover of our Volume 1—Number 1 issue is a sketch of Admiral Gallery and inside is an interesting article about the famous Admiral, who was responsible for the capture of U-Boat 505 in World War II and about Glenview naval air station which he now commands. "The Admiral and His Prairie Flight Deck" was written by John Hall Thompson, a special writer for the Tribune on military matters.

CHICAGO NEWSPAPERMAN John McGrath's, first published short story appears in this issue—a pathetic and provocative study of a reformed man's mental struggle to overcome the temptations of the blazing streets and dark alleys of his city, into whose hands he once had despairingly offered himself—entitled "Strangely Like a Phoenix."

Under the heading "West of the Water Tower" appear anecdotes about people and happenings in Chicago, for instance there's the bartender who took the Great Books course to keep up with his University of Chicago patrons, and the successful Chicago advertising executive who with his wife now lives in the Ozarks and is reviving the medieval art of arbalestry (cross bow shooting to you, dear), and Dr. Marcus of the Speech and Hearing clinic of the University of Illinois who has a machine over there guaranteed to produce in anyone a nervous breakdown within five minutes, but which is primarily used for the study of the cause and cure of stuttering.

Illustrated by photographs of the exterior, interior and people who work inside, there also appears in the edition an informative story on Mrs. Stevenson's 1020 Art Center and the many activities housed there.

JUST IN CASE you're a millionaire and wondering what to do with all your money, Lois Baur, from the Society department of the Tribune, lists ten of the most expensive items for sale right now in the Chicago area in a tantalizing (and eye-opening) piece called "Ten for the Money." Most expensive house for sale is the Freytag estate on Green Bay Road in Lake Forest, you can have it for $160,000. Or, maybe you'd prefer a diamond ring for $100,000. Perhaps your tastes run to gold shaving bowls —Fields has one for $2,250, or to zebrakeets—there's one who knows 800 words and can be bought for a paltry $1,500.

The article, "Inquest," written by John Bartlow Martin, a contributor to the Post and Harper's, describes the 1950 Chicago tenement fire and the unsatisfactory and indifferent handling of that case. Through conversations between remaining occupants of the destroyed building and those hearing the case, Mr. Martin brings into sharp focus the many disorganized departments and bureaus which make up Chicago's fire inspection service and the impossibility of finding among any of these agencies the people to be held responsible for the laxity in the enforcement of the fire prevention code. It's a shocking expose of a system existing right now in Chicago, which, if not reorganized and staffed properly, will be to blame for the almost 100 men, women and children who will die by fire in Chicago this year!

BESIDES THE LATEST in home furnishing news, reviews of the current shows in town and television programs are also to be found in this entertaining and worthwhile little magazine.

"Chicago" reminds me somewhat of the "New Yorker" in its column set up and balanced diet of fiction and non-fiction. It has a whimsical, tempting flavor, but still enough meat on its bones to offer satisfaction. Its Editors say: "the concept is Energy . . . the focus is on People . . . the primary purpose is Entertainment, but entertainment for those who want it with salt as well as sugar, who are prepared to welcome a magazine that, along with a springy step and a sense of humor, has muscles, nerves and brains."

My love,
Patty.

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

Someone gushed to us the other day about how much we were sure to just love an acquaintance of theirs because she was such an open and above-board person. At the time we hesitated to tell what sort of word picture this description called forth.

All we could think of was someone without the benefit of make-up, wearing flat heeled shoes and a "good" tweed suit. She would shake hands firmly and a bit too heartily. We think that she probably wears glasses, the sensible kind, not the harlequin framed ones. This person, the figment of our overactive imagination, is also the frank and earnest type.

This flight of fancy is probably all wet and the girl is likely to be a dream walking but we are from Missouri and will cling to our conviction of what she is like until proven wrong. There are other standard descriptions of people that have their niche in our mind too.

When a man is described to us as the jolly, hearty type, we immediately picture him as having a waistline that is considerably larger than his chest measurement. His hair is receding and his nose is on the pinkish side. Why we should feel that a thin pale man cannot be gay and hearty is beyond us but there we are with this conviction that it cannot be so.

A clinging vine gal must have a high rather whiny voice and be inclined to talk baby talk if pressed. She will be the ultimate in femininity and given to wearing ruffles, buttons, and bows. She is also helpless at odd tasks such as picking up her own handkerchiefs and, we are inclined to think, blowing her own nose. It is to be gathered from this that we are not happy around this bit of fluff. The reason for this is that she makes us shuffle our flat heeled shoes in the dust and we might drop our sensible glasses, thereby cutting our "good" tweed suit while shaking hands heartily.

We took a trip up and down north Michigan Boul last week to gaze into shop windows to see what the other half is wearing this season. What we saw seems to be beyond our Singer and has caused us to hide away in the house brooding on the inequality of things in general.

THE FENCE POST

Letters to the Fence Post should be short and concise. All letters must be signed, though name will be withheld if desired. Address Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Inc., Arlington Heights, Ill.

Our Error

In your edition of March 18, 1954, you printed my letter in the Fence Post column. In printing this letter you printed part of one sentence and the end of another giving, of course, the wrong connotation. You have the sentence as thus: We will not comply with existing ordinances regarding snow removal. (11th line from the bottom of the article). The sentence appeared in my letter as thus: We will not comply with a non-existent ordinance regarding sidewalks, but we do expect that people with sidewalks, as Mr. Kirk, should comply with existing ordinances regarding snow removal.

I would appreciate it if you would print a correction of the aforementioned sentence.

True Colors

Just how long it is going to take for McCarthy to be revealed in his true colors, none can say with certainty. We know that there is a deadly parallel between his rise and methods and those of Adolph Hitler, and Hitler swayed a nation toward disaster over quite a number of years.

Narcotics

After hearing officer Joseph Fiedoral of the crime prevention bureau in Chicago recently give a dramatic presentation of facts and figures in connection with the narcotic problem in our country, I would like to comment on the seriousness of his message. I regret that all of you reading this who did not attend were unable to hear the horrible details impossible to mention here. I think you would have been moved as a citizen to help in fighting a problem which can be brought under control if we know what we can do, and do it.

Although we have no immediate problem of drug addiction in our community, there is an average of 75 to 100 drug addicts tried daily in the narcotics court in Chicago. In 1953 there were 8,000 to 9,000 addicts brought before the court.

Because there has been a great deal of education in the Chicago area on the evils of narcotics and what we as citizens can do to help fight the problem, there has been a decrease in the number of new addicts. Of those being brought before the court this year, only 10 to 15 per cent are beginners.

Another factor in this decrease is the Chicago law which gives up to life imprisonment for selling of dope. Recently two men were given sentences of 25 years to life and 50 years to life. If these men had been arrested by federal officers for first offenses, there sentence would have been only 2 to 5 years under the federal law. For second offenses, peddlers are sentenced for from 5 to 10 years; for third offenses, 10 to 20 years.

I am convinced the federal law is not sufficient to curtail the problem at the source—the smugglers and the pushers of dope. There is a need of revision in the law making it possible to give a life sentence for the first offense in selling drugs illegally. The federal government also needs more law enforcement officers throughout the country to track down this crime at its source.

In addition to our interest and cooperation in a local educational program on the narcotics problem, we can write as Officer Fiedoral suggested, to our congresswoman, Mrs. Marguerite S. Church, and state our opinions on the subject. We know what we can do, let's do it!

On The Right Track

I, as a reader of your paper, am astonished at your newspaper. Perhaps when you read the two enclosed copies from Eugene R. Guild, Captain, U. S. Army, retired, you will change your attitude with reference to Senator McCarthy. I believe if Senator McCarthy could get the proper assistance, somebody would go to jail. He is trying his best to set this country right according to the slogan of Carl Schurz, who said, "America first, if right to be kept right, and if wrong, to be set right."

That should also be the aim of every true American. I believe your editorial is unwarranted. My advice to you, although you are an experienced editor: "Leave politics alone, unless you are absolutely sure you are right."

EVERY TIME you or any other newspaper belittles the efforts of Senator McCarthy, you are aiding the Communists, and who, when they get control, will tell you what you can print and not print, not that alone, you will not own a publishing plant. Rest assured, if America does not wake up to its danger, I dread to see the day when our great country which we love so much, fails to exist under this present form of government.

As a friend of yours who wishes you well, I ask you to read this and the accompanying speeches by the retired captain headed as "Loyalty is never presumptuous" and "G.I. Dad asks:"

G.I. DAD ASKS:

How silly can you get? "Run for your lives; McCarthy's after you! Heaven help all of us; the U. S. Army has surrendered to McCarthy. The country is doomed!" So shriek the American press and radio.

And all because an investigating Senator gave the rough edge of his tongue to a general. The general deserved it; he was covering up for some higher brass—Gen. Ridgeway or some political superior, who had ordered a Communist officer promoted and honorably discharged to get him out of the way before the public found out about him.

The general deserved the bawling out because he was violating his oath of office which obligated him to answer the investigating official's questions straight forwardly. If the general had been loyal to his oath of office, he would have long since protested the disloyal order to promote this Communist office— protested it right up to the president, and, if the president ignored him, to the people of the United States.

THAT'S WHAT an officer's oath of office means—loyalty to the people of the United States, not just to some venal political superior, not to the Truman or the Eisenhower politicians who have debauched even the Army with the perversion of softness towards the Reds.

Yet the "free" press screams; a general in Maryland quits a draft board; Drew Pearson declares, "Army morale has dropped to zero," and the idea is implanted in the public's mind that, because a Red-concealing general got chewed out, soldiers at every Army post in the world are dropping their guns and bursting into tears.

Silly? This hysterical brain-washing is worse than silly. Eisenhower rashly decreed the Reds in government would not be an election issue, as politicians, press and radio are working hard to scare the public and smear McCarthy with the dangerous result that the Reds still in our government are forgotten.

AS AN OFFICER of the regular army, I say the screams of leftish editors that Sec. Stevens has surrendered the Army to Senator McCarthy are pure tripe.

Gen. Zwicker testified it would be wrong to promote and honorably discharge a Communist, but that it would be loyal for him (Gen. Zwicker) to do it if he were ordered to by higher authority.

Gen. Zwicker thus demonstrated that he cared more for his own security than his country's. Gen. Zwicker's oath of office, and that of every other official of the government, both military and civilian, requires loyalty not just to superior officers, but to the United States, and the U.S. means the people.

When Zwicker or any government officer gets an order he knows to be disloyal, his duty under his oath is to protest that order from superior to superior on up to the president, and if the president ignores him, it is his duty to protest it to the people.

NOT MANY thus seem to obey their oaths of office. Jimmy Byrnes dropped the matter after protesting to Truman the promotion of the scoundrel Communist Harry Dexter White. Lamar Candle Dropped it after protesting to his superior. Even the celebrated F.B.I. chief, Ed Hoover, said it would be presumptious to go higher after the attorney general and the president ignored his report on White's disloyalty.

But there are some who do honor their oath. Gen. Billy Mitchell did; history shows that the security of the nation was saved by it. Gen. MacArthur did, and so did Gen. Van Fleet after their superiors and the president ignored them. All three were tried, or fired or retired because they did. But they put their country's security before their own; and true Americans now honor all three for their loyalty. McCarthy also is trying hard to remind the people that America is in great danger.

Heads Newest Modern Factory

Chicago's newest windowless manufacturing plant and office building, designed and built to order for the production of delicate electrical devices, was formally occupied last week by the C. P. Clare & Co., makers of precision relays, at 3101 West Pratt Blvd.

This modern one-story building occupies 50,000 sq. ft. in spacious grounds that will soon be beautifully landscaped. It is completely air conditioned for temperature control and dust removal, an important factor in making precision equipment that meets high standards for the electrical industry throughout the world. This plant is the third to be occupied by the company since it started in a store front shop on Ravenswood Ave. in 1937, with three employees. The company's first large plant was built at 4719 Sunnyside Ave. in 1941 and enlarged in 1946. Carl P. Clare of Arlington Heights is founder and president of the concern, which employs 600 persons.

CLARE EMPLOYEES express themselves as enthusiastic about the ideal working conditions the new plant provides. Temperature, humidity and air movement are kept at the comfort level at all times. Dirt, odors and heat created by manufacturing processes are evacuated at the source and never get into the plant atmosphere.

Work is done under the most advanced system of plant lighting ever devised—approximately eight times the effective lighting used in most plants. It is completely shadowproof and eliminates eyestrain entirely.

At Illinois

Among 69 junior men from the University of Illinois school of physical education going to Indianapolis March 30 through April 1 on the school's 14th annual inspection trip is J. R. Holste, 216 S. Main st., Mount Prospect.

On this trip the Illinois students will see health, safety, physical education, and recreation activities of schools, community centers, and industry, and attend sessions of the Midwest Convention of the Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation in the Claypool Hotel.

At Illinois Wesleyan

Donald Rash, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund A. Rash, 19 S. William st., Mount Prospect, was initiated into Theta Chi fraternity at Illinois Wesleyan university in Bloomington. Mr. Rash, who attended Arlington Heights high school, is now a freshman at Wesleyan majoring in business administration.

At Northwestern

Michael J. Graft, 114 S. State rd., Arlington Heights, is among a total of 147 students in the technological institute at Northwestern university placed on the honor roll for high scholastic achievement in the fall quarter of the present school year.

At DePauw

A local high school senior will be one of 350 from throughout the country competing for 106 of the school's scholarships.

She is Charlotte Nelson, 440 N. Smith St., Palatine.

According to Dr. John Wittich, DePauw admissions director and supervisor of Scholarship Weekend, approximately $150,000 in scholarships will be awarded.

At Illinois Wesleyan

Five Arlington Heights men were initiated into national fraternities at Illinois Wesleyan university in Bloomington. Wayne Hesch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony C. Hesch, 16 W. Campbell; Maurice Holahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Holahan; Don Keppler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Keppler, 606 S. Chestnut; and James Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Roberts, 46 S. Ridge ave.; all of Arlington Heights were initiated into Theta Chi fraternity. Thomas Hawk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hawk, 1103 Watling, Arlington Heights, was initiated into Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

All five are graduates of Arlington Heights high school and freshmen at Wesleyan majoring in business except for Holahan, who is majoring in physical education. Hawk has been very active in the drama dept. of the school, appearing in several plays.

At Grinnell

Frederick Thompson of 206 N. Wheeling rd., Prospect Heights, has been promoted to the rank of cadet second lieutenant in Grinnell college's AFROTC unit.

Thompson, a senior at Grinnell, is directing "Portrait in Black," which is being presented this week, and is on the staff of the campus radio station.

At Monmouth

Charles P. Hartmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Hartmann, 329 N. Brockway, Palatine, was recently initiated into Beta Pi chapter of Theta Chi fraternity at Monmouth college.

Hartmann, a freshman, was graduated from Palatine high school in 1953. His major is law.

At Northwestern

Miss Constance Barr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Barr, 1212 Clarendon rd., Sherwood, Arlington Heights, was recently elected vice-president of Gamma Beta chapter of Alpha Delta Pi —at Northwestern university, Evanston.

At Kendall

Wally Grosch, 625 Worth st., Itasca, is a member of the 40-voice choir at Kendall college, Evanston, which will make its annual pre-Easter concert tour during the week of April 4. Ten concerts given at churches and schools during that time will take the students through Wisconsin and Illinois.

At Illinois

Barbara Arnold, 302 Prospect Manor, Mount Prospect, has been chosen sub-chairman, Mother's Day committee of the annual Mother's Day celebration to be held April 30-May 2 at the University of Illinois.

Campus Mother's Day is held one week prior to the national observance so that mothers may participate in the University activities and then spend the following weekend at home with their families.

At Purdue

One hundred and ninety-five students from Illinois, in addition to 54 from Chicago, were among 1,668 at Purdue University to attain the Distinguished Rating for their scholastic work during the first semester of the 1953-54 academic year. To attain this rating, a student must make an average of "5" or better for all subjects carried during the semester.

Illinois students attaining the distinguished rating included:

Charles L. Ryberg, R. 1, Palatine, freshman in science.

At Monmouth

Formal initiation was held recently at Beta Phi chapter of Theta Chi fraternity in the chapter house at Monmouth college. At this time fourteen men who completed pledging recently were initiated. Among the fourteen was Charles D. Hartmann of 329 Brockway, Palatine.

College Senior Finds Galesburg Parents Not Interested In Scoutcraft

A clipping from the Daily Register-Mail, Galesburg, Ill. contains a Fence Post contribution written by David A. Kurtz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar C. Kurtz, 909 S. Mitchell ave., Arlington Heights.

David is an Eagle Scout and when he entered Knox college, he volunteered to serve as a scout master to troop 12 of that city.

He has taken a leading part in scout activities and last fall engineered a citywide pancake supper which cleared more than $750.

To give his scouts a practical lesson in first aid, he staged a "disaster" at a nearby lake which only the newspapers and a certain doctor knew about in advance.

Because he will graduate next June from Knox college, he is endeavoring to find somebody to take over his work with the scouts. At a meeting of the parents called for that purpose, only two people responded. There were 26 who did not put in an appearance.

His letter to the Galesburg Fence Post says in part, "People often have said to me just what is this younger generation up to, these kids are all vandals. My answer as to why this problem exists is that it is the entire and complete fault of the parents. Complacency or lack of interest is a crime in itself. Twenty-six crimes were committed tonight when 26 parents failed to attend the meeting I had called. Boy scouting can be a powerful tool in the molding of good and useful citizens. Yet no one seems to take an interest in the activities of the Scouts."

It may have happened in Galesburg but it does not happen in Arlington Heights where David received his scout training.

At Illinois

Miss Judy Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter O. Peterson, 508 S. Elmhurst ave., Mount Prospect, was initiated into Iota chapter of Delta Gamma sorority at the University of Illinois February 27.

At Illinois

Daniel Stephan, son of Rev. and Mrs. Luther V. Stephan of Arlington Heights, was recently elected to represent the Evan's Scholars House, where he resides, on the board of Men's Independent Houses at the University of Illinois.

Matters of student decorum, programs of special interest to men and decisions of a general nature are decided by the board. Stephan is enrolled in the pre-law course and is a freshman.

At Wittenberg

Marjorie Payne, 709 S. I-Oka st., a junior at Wittenberg college in Springfield, Ohio, was named to the high scholarship list for the first semester at the college.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Payne of Mt. Prospect, her grades averaged 3.17 or "B-plus." High scholarship includes students who make 3.0 or above.

At Monmouth

Barbara Rahn, daughter of Ernest Rahn, Mt. Prospect, has recently been appointed assistant membership chairman of Beta Gamma chapter of Kappa Delta at Monmouth college. Miss Rahn is a cheerleader, a member of Cleo, the history club, and participates in other campus activities.

Hazel Mueller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mueller, Mt. Prospect, has recently been elected membership chairman of Beta Gamma chapter of Kappa Delta at Monmouth college. Miss Mueller has also been elected to the Y.W.C.A. cabinet, serving as campus service chairman. She is a cheerleader, a member of the honorary swimming group, Dolphins, and is Pan-Hellenic delegate for Kappa Delta.

At Wittenberg

Anita Petersen, Mount Prospect, sophomore at Wittenberg college, Springfield, Ohio, will perform with the college Tiger-Fish Swimming Club Thursday night in the Wittenberg natatorium.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Petersen, 120 N. Fairview, she will have a part in the "Aqua-Holiday" of the two-year old women's swimming group. She will also appear in several other performances this spring.

Two other Mt. Prospect coeds performing with the swimming club Thursday night in the Wittenberg natatorium are Nancy Dallia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Dallia, Sr., 15 S. Albert st., and Marjorie Payne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Payne, 709 S. I-Oka.

College Grads Can Expect $4,000 Average

The average Monmouth college senior of 1954 who enters business this year can expect to earn a starting salary of about $4000 per year, according to Charles Gavin, the college's director of admissions and placement.

Mr. Gavin based his estimate on the fact that job opportunities already offered to Monmouth seniors range from $3600 to $4500 annually for those starting in business fields. Beginning teachers may expect starting salaries ranging from $3000 to $3800, he added.

Killed In Auto Crash

After hours of dreadful suspense, a Morton Grove mother and father and their daughter-in-law-to-be this week knew the tragic truth—Eugene R. Bitter, Jr., 23, the first and only jet pilot of the village is dead.

Ironically, 2nd Lt. Bitter was killed, not in the dangerous sky which he loved so well, but on the ground, in an auto crash in France.

At Illinois

Paula Miller, 230 S. Walnut, Arlington Heights has been appointed House Co-Ordinations chairman and Joan Lundstrom, 106 Stratford dr., Prospect Heights., administration chairman of the 1954 spring carnival celebration April 24 on the University of Illinois campus.

Staged annually as a chairty benefit, spring carnival has become an Illinois campus tradition. The event is sponsored by the Illini Union student activities organization.

DESIGN FOR LIVING

Think Before You Paint The House! Let Your Wife

Grab that paint brush! But before you start slapping paint on the exterior of your house, consider some new facts that have come to light.

The National Lumber Manufacturers Association warns the home handyman that painting house exteriors too frequently may increase paint failures.

Under normal conditions and assuming that the surface is already covered with good quality paint, chances are you won't need to repaint a house with wood siding more often than once every four to six years.

You aren't helping your house if you repaint more frequently. In fact, you may be hurting it. Here's why, accoring to the lumbermen's association:

QUALITY PAINTS weather away slowly. They give their best service when the coating is about five-thousandths of an inch think —not much thicker than our paper money. As a rule, repainting more often than once every four to six years will build up an unnecessary and troublesome thickness of paint which may crack and peel, requiring costly removal of the entire paint film.

Paint chemists and wood technologists who conducted a 15-year study of the problem of paint failures at the U.S. forest products laboratory in Madison, Wisc., suggest a two-coat repaint job every six years or one coat every four years—but no more frequently. Two coats every six years are generally preferred.

HOWEVER, the first painting of newly erected houses, particularly when done with only two coats, is often scanty and may wear away to the point where it will be safe to repaint in less than the normal length of time.

Of course, not all paint cracking and peeling is due to over-painting. Moisture is one of the most frequent causes. Inferior paints offer poor resistance to moisture, so make sure you use a quality product.

How to Help Secure A Room For Blind Kids

by PATRICIA W. CORTS

Each evening the radio carries a message to parents to start working with their school boards and parent-teachers associations in order to plan for present and future schools so their children will not be "handicapped" by inadequate facilities. Parents of the blind children in the northwest suburban area are doing this in asking that their children be included in the present and future programs. Ironically, the handicapped will be further "handicapped" if there is no schoolroom available.

Remember, a newborn child is, first, "a child." The fact that child is disabled at birth or later in life does not alter the loving, caring and planning of the parents. They tirelessly help the child surmount his handicap and ever strive toward that youngsters' adult security and independence.

Parents of the blind start "educating" their children in the cradle. Each stage of a blind child's development is a step toward helping him accept the community, other children, new experiences, yes, even his school and teacher. Their motto is, "Don't prepare your child for education, educate him every minute." Or, don't expect the teacher to plant little seeds of knowledge alone. She needs help. They know their child's reaction to school is so strenuously related to the home situation that they cannot sit home and wait for the school years to come.

For the parents of the blind children in the northwest suburban area there is no opportunity as yet to plan beyond kindergarten, and, therefore, they request your help.

Parents of the blind are anxious to have the support of civic and service organizations as well as individuals. Speakers are available to acquaint you with the entire problem or answer questions you may have that these articles have not answered.

First Federal Hails Twentieth Anniversary

W. L. Plew, president of First Federal Savings and Loan association, Des Plaines, announced the association celebrated its 20th anniversary March 15.

From a modest beginning in 1934 when five customers paid in a total of $87.00, the association has grown to more than $9,177,496.27 in savings and has over 6,300 accounts.

The association moved into its modern new home at 749 Lee st. April 29, 1953.

The savings invested with the association continue to assist folks in the northwest suburban area to obtain homes with monthly payment home loans. More than 1,845 have been consumated since 1934.

Men of long experience in savings and loan management comprise the board of directors, including Dr. A. M. Purves, chairman, Dr. C. J. Hill, Otto W. Johns, George W. Kinder, Leonard E. Manuel, Kenneth G. Meyer, W. L. Plew and John Tures.

Fire Department Building

A $110,000 bond referendum to expand the Des Plaines fire department is expected to be held in the near future.

Broken down, the land for a South Side fire station would cost $4,000; the building, $70,000; equipment, $20,000, and alterations for the present Miner st. fire station, $16,000.

Now Is The Time To Install Air Conditioning

Right now is a good time to have summer air conditioning installed in your home, according to the national warm air heating and air conditioning association.

Many home owners have decided (as a result of heating problems endured during the winter) that this is the year they will have a modern, up-to-date, automatic furnace installed. But they will delay having the job done until the very end of the heating season.

"This means", says the association, "that the services of warm air heating and air conditioning contractors are more readily available now than they will be a little later on in the spring or summer months."

"Home owners whose homes are already equipped with forced warm air systems are fortunate when it comes to summer air cooling", states Warren A. Tapper, of Tapper's Central Heating Co., local dealer-member of the association. "The duct work is already installed and can be used to distribute cool conditioned air for summer cooling as well as warm air for winter heating. This means a considerable savings in duct installation costs".

In The Future

You will soon be able to buy pre-stuffed, frozen poultry in a bag that needn't be removed for roasting. And basting? It won't be necessary, says the company responsible for this packaging magic ... A new pencil enables its owner to write fluorescently. Its markings cannot, of course, be read in daylight. It is intended for uses in industry where invisible identification is desirable ... An adhesive bandage impregnated with an anti-infection agent, the first of its kind, is being market-tested in New England ... The do-it-yourself trend has prompted several furniture makers to turn out table and chair "kits" containing precut machined parts at consumer savings up to 50 per cent ... Contact lenses made of plastic, as thin as paper but unbreakable in the eye, have been developed through a group research project in which optometrists from three companies participated.

'Time' Payments Take Record Share Of Income

Consumers are laying out 11 per cent of their income after taxes for payments on instalment debt. According to the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, this proportion is nearly one-sixth more than in 1941, the peak prewar installment debt year.

The bank points out in its monthly review, "Business Conditions," that credit figures heavily in the purchase of autos and household items. In a recent year well over half the new cars, two-thirds of the used cars ,and a major share of the furniture, "big ticket" home appliances, and TV sets purchased were financed through the use of credit.

NOT ALL FAMILIES, however, make a practice of buying on time. According to a 1953 survey, one out of every two families in the country owed installment debts early last year.

Moreover, the use of credit to finance consumer purchases is heading down. By December, an uninterrupted rise of 21 months' duration had pushed consumer time payment debts up to nearly 22 billion dollars. But in the last three months of 1953 the credit rise had slowed considerably and was only one-third of the gain during the same period in 1952.

This tapering off, the bank observes, may continue in the coming months. Present signs point to little further credit expansion in 1954 with some chance of a sizable decline. In fact, when February figures roll in, they are likely to reveal a considerable installment debt drop from the year-end peak—perhaps over 500 million dollars.

BEHIND THE VIEW that installment credit outstanding may shrink in 1954 is the belief that sales of autos and most other durable goods will remain below their 1953 level. But even if consumer sales match last year's volume, credit may play a less important role in the sale of durable goods.

New credit granted for car purchases, after reaching a peak of nearly 50 per cent of auto dealer sales in late 1952, declined steadily to nearly 42 per cent in the fourth quarter of last year. Similarly, credit granted for other durable purchases as a fraction of total sales dropped 6 per cent in the same period.

Newsstand Of The Week

Gene Frank's news agency is attempting to keep pace with the growth of Lake Zurich, including the handling of more Paddock Publications, year by year, by Gene and his mother, Mrs. Minnie Frank, pictured above. Third partner in the store is Gene's sister, Frances.

Located on rte. 22 in the center of the business district, Gene has been selling papers, magazines, ice cream and other supplies since 1932. The store will again be remodeled the middle of April.

Gene reports the town has grown from 1,000 people in 1950 to 2,000 with 100 new homes going up every year. The lake is known for both swimming and fishing, with thousands of vacationers dropping out for one day picnics, etc. Practically every "year-'round house" is occupied, reports Gene, with no great influx of residents during the summer months.

17,900 RANCH

HERE IS LOCATION and size for the growing family. Two bedrooms and a den, separate dining room, fireplace in the Living room, full basement with new gas fired forced air furnace, and garage. Three blocks from grade and Junior high schools, short walk to shopping and train. Let us show you this.

18,250 CAPE COD

CLOSE TO SCHOOLS on the South Side of town, this 3 bedroom Cape Cod has a full basement, one bedroom on the first floor, two on the second, and a bath on each floor. There is a large living room with a bay window, and a separate dining room. A well landscaped yard, and a garage make this home complete.

18,900 QUEEN ANNE

IN PERFECT CONDITION, this older home has three bedrooms, and 2 baths, separate dining room, and a huge kitchen with birch cabinets and Formica counters as well as loads of eating space. A full basement, gas heat and a two car garage make this an ideal arrangement for a large family. It is close to schools, shopping, and transportation too.

20,000 CAPE COD

COMPLETE IN EVERY respect, this three bedroom, 1½ bath home has wall-to-wall carpeting, venetian blinds, storm-screen combinations, 2 car garage, full basement, gas heat, and above all is close to High and Grade schools. You should see this one if you want real value.

20,900 DUTCH COLONIAL

THREE BEDROOMS and den, a paneled recreation room, a separate dining room, and a lovely living room with wall-to-wall carpeting, make this an ideal home for a family. Full basement, garage complete the layout. There are other extras such as storms and screens, venetian blinds, too, that make this worth seeing. The school is two blocks away, and shopping and trains only four blocks away. Couldn't be much more convenient.

23,000 BRICK RANCH

IMMACULATE is the word for this three bedroom ranch with full basement, gas heat, and many extras. It has venetian blinds, cornices and drapes, awnings, storms and screens, garage with screened porch attached, tiled basement floor. The kitchen has plenty of eating space too. This home needs nothing but a new owner.

26,900 COLONIAL

ALL FACE BRICK three bedroom home with the traditional Colonial center entrance. It has a 24' living room with fireplace, and a separate formal dining room. 1½ baths, full basement and 1½ car garage add to its desirability. The bedrooms are all larger than average. There is 75' of frontage, too, and a porch off the living room. For quality and convenience you cannot beat this one.

37,000 BRICK RANCH

IN SCARSDALE ESTATES, this deluxe 2 year old ranch is available because of owner's transfer. On a 130'x200' lot, it has three bedrooms, 1½ baths and a 2 car attached garage. A breakfast room off the birch and Formica kitchen is most delightful. The living room has a fireplace, and all three bedrooms are twin-bed size. Someone else's loss can be your gain.

57,000 ESTATE

40 LEVEL ACRES and a THREE BEDROOM RANCH is a combination seldom seen. This home was custom built two years ago, with a full basement, separate dining room, cabinet kitchen, and all the finest construction methods. It has a two car attached garage, hog house, 26x38' Gambrel roofed barn, and every inch of the acreage is tillable. Best of all it is less than 2 miles from Palatine, close to school and shopping. Let us show you how you can live in the country and still have all the convenience of being right in town.

70,000 CONTEMPORARY

SPACIOUS MODERN LIVING in this 5 bedroom, 3 bath home, in OLD PLUM GROVE. There is 3,100 square feet of living space in this home. The 30x17 foot living room is all paneled with an oversized fireplace. The kitchen is arranged for efficiency with an electric stove, refrigerator, and dishwasher. Baths are ceramic and have built in vanity bars. The 21x17 paneled recreation room overlooks a creek on the property. This is charming living in a lovely wooded setting. Let us show it to you.

DYNAMIC

To say that this new Roman Brick Split Level masterpiece is distinctive or impressive would be the understatement of the year. We believe if it were custom built it would cost $40,000!

We also believe it's worth much more than our price! Never have you seen such a home—such tremendous spaciousness and elegant appointments. Imagine a studio-ceilinged reception foyer bigger than most bedrooms! A 26x14 living room with a most unusual raised hearth cantilever fireplace, and a whole wall of glass; the kitchen is entitled to a paragraph-long rave by itself. Add to this 3 mammoth bedrms., a panelled den 20 ft. long; a ceramic bath, a powder rm.; gas ht.; and a warm bsmt. gar., and the most attractively different exterior design—and you begin to get what we're so enthusiastic about! ! !

Death Notices

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our dearly beloved mother, Mrs. Augusta Lueehring, who passed away 16 years ago March 25, 1938.
There is a sad but sweet remembrance,
There is a memory fond and true,
There is a token of affection, Mother,
And a heartache still for you.
Your Loving Children

'Honest John' Rocket And 'Corporal' Missile In Field Tests In April

More than 60,000 ground and airborne troops will take to the field in the Fort Bragg-Camp Mackall area of North Carolina next month for Exercise Flash Burn.

The largest and most important maneuver of its kind ever conducted by the armed forces of the United States, Flash Burn will take place during April and May. Although ultramodern weapons such as guided missiles and the atomic cannon will have a role in the exercises, the principal emphasis will be upon conventional training, using the latest methods of offense and defense.

The army will give some nonfiring tests to its atomic cannon, to the new "Corporal" guided missile and to the huge "Honest John" rocket. In the organizational field, a new type of infantry regiment, under test since last summer, will be subjected to the exacting practical test of this full-scale maneuver.

Savings Bonds Gain In Favor

Investors are finding U. S. savings bonds more and more attractive, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reports in its monthly review, "Business Condidtions."

Las year saw considerable brightening in the bond picture, with sales of E and H bonds hitting 4.4 billion dollars—almost a billion better than in 1952. Hoping to ride this trend, the Treasury has set a new sales goal of 5.3 billion dollars for the current year.

RALLYING BOND sales in 1953, the bank says, chiefly reflect a strong upsurge in E-bond buying by large investors. Sales of large-sized bonds were one-fourth above 1952 in contrast to a less than 10 per cent improvement in sales of small bonds. Part of this change, the Reserve bank says, undoubtedly is a result of the narrowing gap between E-bond rates and returns on other types of investments.

Also figuring in the popularity comeback of E bonds has been the treasury's mid-1952 decision to double the annual limit on sales to individual buyers from $7,500 to $15,000 (issue price). This has given investors who typically buy up to legal limit each year a chance to put more of their money into E bonds.

BUT BOND SALES are only part of the story. The rate at which buyers cash in these securities after purchasing them is another test of savings bond appeal. Here the record is less bright.

Despite last year's healthy sale of E bonds, the year wound up with redemptions exceeding sales by 230 million dollars. Yet this is an improvement over 1952 when the program ran in the red by 700 million.

Generally the larger the size of the bond the longer it is held by the purchaser. Of E bonds sold in the late 1940's, for example, the proportion cashed in at the end of three years ranged from over two thirds for the $25 denomination down to ¼ for the $1,000 bond.

AFTER SAVINGS bonds reach maturity, however, big and little bondholders cash in their bonds at about the same rate. Both groups have already redeemed close to half of their bonds which matured in 1951.
